A. F. of L. Endorses Government Ownership With Democratic Operation

Decision Reached After One of the Bitterest Fights on Record

MONTREAL, June 17.—Government ownership with democratic operation of American railroads was endorsed today by the American Federation of Labor convention here after one of the bitterest fights on record.

When Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation took the floor and announced that he would support government ownership of the railroads, there was a demonstration by the rail workers and their supporters.

Secretary Morrison declared that he was only supporting the federation's reconstruction program and the executive council's report to the last convention.

"We hear a lot of self-determination," he added. "This thought is being sunk into the heads of men, women and children of all countries. We have here a proposition from all rail workers asking assistance in securing government ownership of railroads because they believe their trials and tribulations under government ownership will be far less than they have been in the past or will be in the future under private ownership."

PLAN ADDITION TO THE OLD MANN SCHOOL

In an effort to bring at least temporary relief to the congested conditions prevalent at the Vocational school situated in the old Mann school building, plans are under way for the erection of a 25 by 60-foot addition to the structure which will allow for expansion of some of the rooms now being used as well as several new ones on both floors.

The addition will be built on the Dunster street side of the building, facing Broadway and work will be started as soon as an estimate of cost is prepared in the office of the commissioner of public property and the money voted by the municipal council.

It will be recalled that a great deal of agitation of this matter has occurred during the past few weeks, culminating in the recommendation of the school committee to purchase one of the mills of the Bigelow-Hartford plant for vocational school needs. This proposition was frowned on by the council, from the standpoint of excessive cost of purchase and repair and the new addition is the compromise step agreed upon.

Avoid Danger

Police records show that during the vacation season Liberty Bonds, valuable papers, jewels and heirlooms of priceless value are in greater danger from the professional burglar than at any other time.

Avoid loss by placing your valuables in the Safe Deposit Vaults of this institution.

Rates for this service are surprisingly low and all inquiries are given courteous and prompt attention.

Report of Financial Condition Shows Department Well Within Appropriation

A report of the financial condition of the city fire department as of the date of June 1, given out today by Commissioner John F. Salmon, shows the department to be operating well within its appropriation and with no evident need of a supplementary budget.

The balance on hand on June 1, was $195,664.01, the difference between an appropriation of $330,000 plus transfers amounting to $231.60 for an asset total of $330,231.60, and expenditures amounting to $134,567.49 during the months of January, February, March, April and May.

The total payroll for these five months totalled $120,722.62, with monthly expenditures by months as follows:

January, $22,277.56; February, $26,624.34; March, $40,556.34; April, $38,556.34; May, $11,445.54.

The expenditures for March were augmented by large purchases of coal, hay and grain.

In discussing the report today, Commissioner Salmon expressed the belief that the department would continue to operate well within its appropriation throughout the year, under careful management. He anticipates an even greater reduction of expenses when new motor apparatus automatically removes 11 more horses from the department and does not believe that any expenditures for motor repair will anywhere near equal or approximate the amount of money it costs to keep horses, which, he says, continue an enormous expense even when standing idle.

FEW APPLICANTS FOR CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Dampness of the weather is thought to have been the cause of the appearance of but few applicants for citizenship papers today at the naturalization court that is being conducted at the Middlesex county court house by Superior Court Clerk C. W. Dillingham. This was a very different condition of affairs from what has existed on the other days this week when the court house corridors have been filled with persons anxious to renounce their allegiance to some foreign prince, potentate, state or power.

Yesterday was a busy day for Clerk Dillingham. When the records for the day were completed it was found that 67 first and three second citizenship papers had been granted. This makes a total for the present session of the court of 65 first and 117 second papers.

The largest number of applications have been filed by subjects of Great Britain as is usually the case. A few Turks have taken their initial steps toward citizenship, but there has been less than the usual number of Greeks among the applicants.

HAIR CAUGHT IN SHAFING

While at her work at the Talbot mills in North Billerica yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Almley Waller, a resident of the village, had part of her scalp torn away when her hair was caught in a shafting. The injured woman was given first aid and then she was removed to the Lowell General hospital in this city, where it was stated this afternoon her condition is not considered serious.

MARONEY'S BODY SENT TO HOME

Meads, Accused of Murder, in Jail to Await Action by Grand Jury

Dartmouth Hailmates of Meads Say He Shot Freely When in Mood

SIANOYER, N. H., June 17.—Robert T. Meads, of La Grange, Ill., the Dartmouth college student, whose liquor smuggling traffic is alleged to have led to his killing Henry E. Maroney of West Medford, Mass., a fellow student, early yesterday, was a prisoner at the county jail at Woodville, today, awaiting action by the grand jury on a charge of murder. His companion in flight from the college, Otto K. Wise, of Akron, Ohio, who returned to Hanover when Meads boarded the train for Boston on which he was captured, was held in the local jail as a material witness.

The college authorities had supplied bonds of $1000 each for three other students held as witnesses, Howard W. Whitaker of Somerville, Mass., Maroney's roommate, and companion in the escape which cost him his life; and Richard H. Hart of Chicago, and James C. Chicago of Bangor, Me., who were with Maroney prior to the shooting. No offer of bonds for Wise was made. College authorities today said that connection of the name of Edwin T. Wells of Hull, Ala., with the case, was due to a confusion of names, and that Wells had no part in the events coupled with Maroney's death or Meads' escape.

Body Sent to Medford

The body of Maroney was sent to his home today, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Maroney, who came here from their home at West Medford yesterday, and by his brother, Walter Maroney, a freshman at the college.

The county officials, under direction of Solicitor J. H. Noonan and with the assistance of Dr. H. S. Kingsford, professor of pathology in the Dartmouth medical school, had performed an autopsy on the body and obtained evidence from all persons known to have any knowledge of the shooting or of incidents connected with it. The county solicitor said his information was virtually complete.

Walls Peppared by Shots

Meads' defense, it is expected, will be prepared under the direction of his father, Albert Meads of Chicago, a lawyer, who was expected to reach here tonight or tomorrow morning.

Hailmates of Meads today discussed peculiarities of the man, including a habit of shooting freely when in a mood, and the county authorities found the walls of his room peppered by shots. Instructors said he had been acting in an odd manner at classes, and from the college officers it was learned that his habits were the subject of investigation several times during the term, especially in connection with troubles due to drinking, but in each instance, Meads was able to clear himself. In his freshman year, when a roommate, Norman F. Arnold, was killed by Meads through the discharge of a rifle, Meads was exonerated by an ante-mortem statement by Arnold, but suffered a partial collapse which necessitated a long rest from studies.

WILL CELEBRATE PALESTINE MANDATE

Lowell Jews have been asked to join with their neighbors in Lawrence in the big celebration of the Palestine mandate, to be featured on Sunday, June 20, by a gigantic parade and mass meeting in the down-river city. Speakers of national reputation have been engaged, including Rabbi S. L. Hurwitz and Rabbi Joel H. Hays for the armory meeting. The parade will be participated in by Jew and Gentile alike, and it is planned to make the celebration the most memorable occasion in the history of Jewish people in the Merrimack valley.

British world war veterans, who fought with General Allenby in Palestine, will march in the parade, as well as Lawrence Legionnaires, American Jewish soldiers and sailors, fraternal, labor and merchants' organizations and other patriotic and social societies.

Railroad and Interstate Commerce Officials Plan Local Investigation

Modification of Drastic Order Already on the Way, it is Said

Further Concessions Hoped for Soon by Chamber of Commerce President

As the result of energetic work yesterday among transportation men and railroad officials in Boston by W. N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, Lowell's critical condition in regard to an absolute shortage of empty freight cars, bids fair to become somewhat adjusted within a day or two.

Today it seems impossible to obtain first hand information as to just what the Boston & Maine road and the Interstate Commerce Commission have in mind relative to the local situation, although it is stated on good authority that an order is on the way here modifying the one now in force whereby practically every empty car in the city is being sent elsewhere, to read 75 per cent. of the cars received, thus allowing Lowell 25 per cent. of the total available.

It was learned this forenoon that B. & M. officials, including Vice-President Pollard, Maintenance of Cars Director Coleman and S. E. Miller, superintendent of transportation, plan a trip to Lowell either by special train or automobile for the purpose of investigating the local situation at close range.

Furthermore, local shippers are hopeful that even greater concessions will be made once the Lowell situation is fully realized by the interstate commerce commission men and that within a comparatively short time there will at least be a fair number of cars available for shipping needs.

While in Boston yesterday, President Goodell went into conference with traffic managers of the associated industries and the Massachusetts chamber of commerce, with Harry A. Davis, traffic director of the Boston Wool association and a member of the interstate commission, and S. E. Miller, Boston & Maine superintendent of transportation.

NEW BEDFORD HEADS LOWELL

Has Total Population of 121,217, Gain of 24,565 in Ten Years

Also Passes Trenton, N. J., Nashville, Tenn., Albany, Cambridge and Spokane

WASHINGTON, June 17.—With an increase of more than 25 per cent during the last 10 years, New Bedford, Mass., has advanced into the 100,000 class of cities with a total population of 121,217, according to the census bureau's announcement today. In the 10 years New Bedford, which ranked as the 53rd most populous city in 1910, has outstripped Trenton, N. J., Nashville, Tenn., Albany, N. Y., Lowell and Cambridge, Mass., and Spokane, Wash.

The New Bedford figures represent a gain of 24,565, or 25.4 per cent over 1910.

GRADUATION AT NOTRE DAME

Class of 25 Presented Diplomas—Rev. Augustine F. Hickey Delivers Address

Always an anticipated feature of the local commencement season because of the excellent program of exercises it invariably produces, graduation day at Notre Dame academy this year lived up to the lofty standard of its predecessors when a class of 25 young women were presented their diplomas at a solemn high mass in the academy chapel in Adams street this forenoon before a gathering of friends, relatives and other invited guests that taxed the capacities of existent accommodations. Despite the discouraging weather, every available seat within the chapel was taken, extra seats were placed in the side and center aisles and even the long corridor in the rear was lined with visitors.

The speaker of the morning was Rev. Augustine F. Hickey, diocesan superior of schools, who, drawing liberally from his years of experience in the field of education with their fertile opportunities for observation and impressions, delivered an inspiring and illuminating address on "Perseverance."

Promptly at 10 o'clock the solemn and impressive procession of altar boys, officiating clergymen and graduates, the latter attractively gowned in white, their youthful faces partially concealed 'mid the folds of white veils, made its way into the chapel. The graduates occupied reserved seats near the altar. The notes of an orchestral procession accompanied the young women as they walked down the aisle.

Rev. Joseph Curran was the celebrant of the mass. He was assisted by Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., as deacon and Rev. Francis L. Keenan as sub-deacon. Rev. Michael G. Gilbride was master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary was Rt. Rev. Wm. O'Brien, I.P.P., pastor of St. Patrick's church, and other clergymen.

Diplomas were presented the graduates by Monsignor O'Brien, each young woman stepping to the altar as her name was called by Rev. Fr. Gilbride. There were 16 graduates in the classical course and nine in the commercial course. They were the following young women:

Classical Course: Misses Grace Loyola Barrett, Catherine Agnes Burns, Helen Marjorie Cameron, Estelle Marie Coffey, Margaret Teresa Donohue, Mary Agnes Dowd, Kathleen Doris Dulligan, Claire Blandine Lamoureux, Margaret Angelina Leary, Catherine Marie O'Connor, Marietta Louise O'Donnell, Lucie Marie Reault, Cecile Alvina Rochette, Katherine Elizabeth Thomas, Helen Gladys Walker and Mary Weltheima Young.

Commercial Course: Misses Agnes Rita Burt, Marcella Sears Courtney, Margaret Mary Coyle, Mary Margaret Flannery, Kathleen Mary Furey, Laura Mary Giguere, Loretta Catherine McNabb, Catherine Gertrude Scanlon and Mary Agnes White.

In his address on "Perseverance," Rev. Fr. Hickey took his text from the exhortation of St. Paul to his disciples, "to show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end."

In opening, Rev. Fr. Hickey emphasized the great blessing the graduates had received in having parents who guided them in their first acts of faith and later, when it came time to share the responsibility of their training with others, entrusted them to the care of the sisters of Notre Dame that they might receive training under the highest auspices.

Throughout their careers, he said, they had been guided by the Catholic church, the inspiration of their parents and the source of devotion and enthusiasm manifested by the sisters of Notre Dame in their work of education and training. The graduates might well be satisfied with the training they had received, he added.

"Now commencement day is at hand and there is a great path opening before you," he continued. "What is to be your guiding rule of life as you enter upon this path? St. Paul told

Man Found Riffing Cash Register Caught After Bitter Struggle

SPRINGFIELD, June 17.—George W. Fettes, who the police say is a professional burglar, who has served sentences in the Elmira, N. Y. reformatory and Auburn (N. Y.) state prison, was captured in a store here early today by James Moriarty, a clerk, who said he surprised Fettes rifling the cash register. Both men were injured when in the ensuing struggle, they fell through a plate glass window. Moriarty held his man until the police arrived. Fettes confessed, the police say, to making four other store breaks here last night, none of which netted him a large sum.

DROPS DEAD

W. U. Manager Sprinted Home to Dodge Shower

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., June 17.—Daniel Skelton of East Orange, N. J., general superintendent of messenger service of the Western Union Telegraph company to New York died of heart disease at his summer residence here last night after he had sprinted home to dodge an approaching shower. He had risen in the ranks of the American District Telegraph company, which was absorbed by the Western Union from a messenger boy in 1876 to general manager in 1903. He was 58 years old.

GOLD CUP RACE

Astor's Buchan Finished First But Was Disqualified

ASCOT HEATH, England, June 17.—Viscount Astor's Buchan finished first in the Ascot gold cup race run here today, but was disqualified for fouling and the race awarded to Sir Wm. Nelson's Tangiers, which finished second. Henrietta Balsa's Juvener was given second place and Lord Derby's Keynote placed third.

The gold cup race is over a course of 2½ miles for a gold cup valued at 500 pounds and 3500 pounds in cash. This was the third day of the Ascot meet and again a distinguished company was present, including King George, Queen Mary, Prince Albert and Princess Mary.

FINES IMPOSED ON RECKLESS AUTOISTS

Frank H. Harding was fined $50 in the local police court this morning for operating his automobile in such a way as to endanger the lives and safety of the public and for failing to slow down and to give the necessary signal at a cross street. The arresting traffic officer, who rode a motorcycle, said he was obliged to hit up 45 miles an hour to catch Harvey on Westford street.

Joseph Saleski, also charged with driving his auto to endanger the lives and safety of the public, was fined $20.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSES

At the next regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus a representative from the University Extension department of the state board of education will be present to explain to the members the advantages and opportunities offered through the 190 courses in the extension branch. Recently an "extension committee" was appointed to plan for the establishment of any of the courses which the members desire in the fall. All that is necessary is for a group of twenty to send in application to the state house for a particular course and a thoroughly competent and experienced instructor will be sent to the local K. of C. rooms once each week. The list of courses include professional, academic and technical branches and are equivalent to those given in the colleges and other institutions of the state. Outside of the cost of textbooks the instruction will be free and open to all the Knights. If the members of the organization support the plan the local K. of C. may be turned into an evening school in the fall with standing equivalent to any in Boston, and with credits awarded to the students which will allow them to enter higher institutions with advanced standing.

These exercises are open to the public and the faculty and students will be glad to welcome as many of their friends as possible.

MAYOR GETS LETTER FROM GOVERNOR

The following letter of appreciation was received today by Mayor Thompson from His Excellency, Governor Calvin Coolidge, republican vice-presidential nominee.

Hon. Perry D. Thompson,
Lowell, Mass.
My dear Mayor Thompson:
It was very thoughtful of you to send me your congratulations. I appreciate it more deeply than you realize. I know I shall have your support in all patriotic service.
Very truly yours,

GRAMMAR LEAGUE

Baseball Teams to Have Banquet Tomorrow Night

All members of the baseball teams of the Lowell Grammar league of the city will attend a banquet tomorrow night at the Community club when the baseball season for the schools will be officially closed. Major Walter Jeyes and Miss Nellie Horner, who have directed the physical training in the schools will be in direct charge of the affair. The members of the school baseball committee, Leo King of the Edison school, Thomas Ginty of the Butler, Murray Cummings of the Lincoln and W. W. Dennett of the Morley, will be present in company with Supt. Molloy of the school department and Messrs. Delaney, Markham, Rooney, Keyes and Pearson of the school board.

Major Jeyes promises a very interesting and lively meeting, with some rapid-fire addresses for some of the men present. He will act as toastmaster. It is possible that the cup for the champion Edison team will be presented at the banquet.

WILL PUNISH SPEED LAW VIOLATORS

Motorcycle Officer Frank Murphy has many times shown his ability to apprehend wild auto drivers and recently he added to his record by overtaking two violators of the speed law on Rogers street, each of whom were going at least 35 miles per hour. The two offenders will be brought into court and charged with endangering the lives and safety of the public.

At least four more autoists will be charged with violation of the glaring headlights law in police court soon as a result of the campaign of the police against such violators. Although the other defendants on this charge had their cases placed on file in police court recently, the superintendent said today that in the future he would recommend a fine.

GRADUATION AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

The graduation exercises at the Lowell Normal school will be held in the assembly hall Friday, June 18, at 2 p. m. The program will include singing by the school chorus and the Glee club, an address by Mr. Frank W. Wright of the state department of education and the awarding of diplomas by John J. Mahoney, principal.

These exercises are open to the public and the faculty and students will be glad to welcome as many of their friends as possible.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

Westford Academy Graduates
One of the Largest Classes
in its History

One of the largest classes in its history was graduated from Westford Academy Tuesday afternoon. It contained 14 members. The graduation exercises were held in the town hall, the diplomas being presented by Principal Roslinbush, who delivered an interesting address. Prizes were presented by Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher. The teachers at the school during the year have been, in addition to the principal, E. L. Crane, Mary J. O'Connor and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth.

Prizes given by the trustees of the academy to be awarded to the students attaining the highest rank in scholarship during their second, third and fourth years at the school were presented to the following named: First prize, $10, to Henry Daniel Harrington; second prize, $5, to Raymond Agnew Well; third prize, $5, to Conrad E. Cote; honorable mention, Annie P. Precious. Prizes were also awarded to first year students as follows: Highest rank, $5, Alice V. Swenson; honorable mention, Raymond Shea.

The salutatory was delivered by Julia Donnelly, who in greeting the audience, said "there is really no sweeter word in the English language than 'welcome' and we want you to believe that we are saying it from our hearts." Miss Annie P. Precious read the class will which contained many humorous allusions and was couched in legal phraseology.

The valedictory was delivered by Miss Mildred Precious at the close of an essay on "The Character of the Pilgrims."

Honorable mention was made of an essay on the Pilgrims by Miss Yvonne M. Ansell.

Morton Rice Seaver, Yvonne Marion Ansell, Conrad Edmund Joseph Cole, Julia Welsh Donnelly, Webster Elbert Plagg, Frederick Collins Griffin, John Albert Martin, Mildred Veronica Precious, Annie Pamela Precious, Edna May Sargent, Dorothy Gertrude Shugrue, Raymond Agnew Hall, Forrest Sherman White, Marlan Martha Woodbury.

Previous to the graduation exercises a meeting of the board of trustees of the academy was held at which the report of the treasurer was presented, showing a deficit for the year of $155.70. It was voted to appropriate $50 for an alumni reunion in 1921, and $25 for scholarship prizes.

The following officers were elected: President, Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher; vice president, Judge Frederic A. Fletcher; secretary, Captain Sherman H. Fletcher; treasurer, Abel J. Abbot; auditor, Charles O. Prescott; standing committee, Captain Sherman H. Fletcher, John C. Abbot and Henry V. Hildreth; committee on loans and finances, Abel J. Abbot, J. Adams Bartlett and Julian A. Cameron.

BIG CHECK FOR POLISH REPUBLIC

The New England efforts to secure subscriptions for the $50,000,000 Liberty loan drive of the republic of Poland are meeting with good response. One of the first big subscriptions was taken by the Hanover Trust company of Boston through its vice president and treasurer, Mr. Henry H. Chmielewski, a native of Poland. The amount of the check was $50,000. Mr. Chmielewski, in commenting on the drive, said: "I sincerely hope that every person of Polish extraction in New England buys a bond of the new Polish republic. We should be very proud of the wonderful fight that Poland is making for orderly government. Aside from the patriotic reason, I look upon the Polish bonds as a good investment. Poland as a nation will meet her obligations. Her indebtedness is less than that of any nation in Europe. As an investment the Polish bonds appeal to me as being safe and sound."

SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTINGS

The Sunday school class of St. John's church will go to Willow Dale on Saturday, provided the weather be good, for their annual outing. The journey to the grounds will be made in the morning and the return early in the evening. Those who will be in charge are: Herbert L. Bishop, Supt. of the Sunday school; Carl E. Burrows, Wallace Logan, Miss Nabel Wilkon, Miss Edna Parr, Miss Gladys Parson and Miss E. Shepard.

On Saturday also the Sunday school class of St. Anne's church will travel to Lakeview for their outing where they will spend the greater part of the day enjoying sports and taking in the amusements of the park. The pupils will be under the direction of the rector, Rev. Appleton Granlund.

Federal Electric

ANOTHER CARLOAD

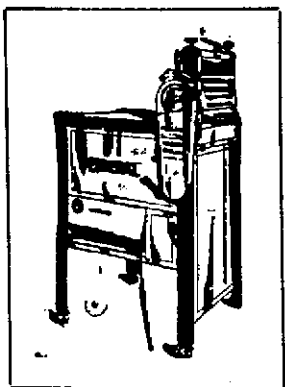

Washing Machines

ANOTHER CARLOAD

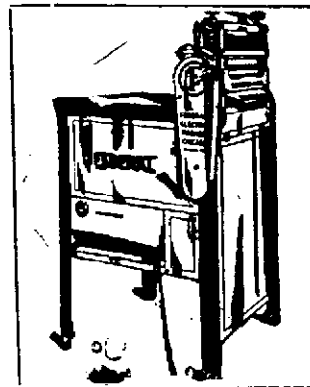

A MESSAGE TO THE WISE HOUSEKEEPER

There was a parade in Lowell yesterday, not of a circus, but of a carload of FEDERAL ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINES, which came directly from the factory to Lowell, these household necessities being consigned to FAVREAU BROS., Inc. These machines were placed on trucks and taken to the storehouse of the firm in Lakeview avenue, via the principal streets of the city. The parade was for the purpose of letting you wise housekeepers know that the famous Federal is now available after a long delay in the shipping due to freight congestions.

The Federal Electric Washing Machine, which is a product of this country, is known the world over as one of the best—if not the best—of its kind on the market and hundreds of housekeepers in this city are now enjoying its benefits. The Federal brings happiness in a home, comfort to the wife and helps reduce expenses, for it is a time and money saver. Many who have a Federal at home say this machine is a blessing upon the housekeeper, while others go so far as to say that a home is not a home without a Federal.

Demonstrations are being given daily at the store, but if you prefer, send your name and address and the qualities of the Federal will be shown you right in your own home.

P. S.—If you are thinking of buying an electric washing machine, you will make no mistake in selecting the Federal—and give your order now while the machine is available, for it is not known when the next shipment will arrive in Lowell.

WAR RECORD SAVES HIM FROM LONG JAIL TERM

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—An excellent record made by Anthony Telenky while serving overseas during the war saved him yesterday from a long prison term for raising $10 notes to $50. The prisoner was wounded 14 times and imposing sentence Judge Thompson deducted a year for each wound. He was given one year in the federal prison at Atlanta. The judge told the defendant his offense called for the maximum sentence of 15 years, but that he could not overlook his fine war record.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN ELWELL MURDER CASE

NEW YORK, June 17.—Important developments were expected today in the investigation into the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, sportsman and whisky expert, Deputy District Attorney John E. Joyce declared following an all-night conference with detectives.

VITALITAS GIVES "PEP"

"Pep" is a slang word but it is very expressive and it tells in three letters the results people throughout America are getting from the use of Natural Vitalitas, the greatest medicine of them all. Vitalitas has no dope or harmful drugs added to it, but is rich in free iron and other minerals in solution compounded by nature which are so necessary for a healthy, vigorous body. For cleansing the system of poisons and stimulating nerve and vital force Vitalitas is without an equal. Diseases conditions are eliminated and health and strength result. For indigestion, Rheumatism, Biliousness, Kidney, Liver and Stomach ills it has been found effective where all other remedies fail. It will do you more good than any tonic you have ever taken. RED CROSS OUT TO SAVE BABIES

The local chapter of the Red Cross is but following the line of work suggested by the national organization in making it possible for extra baby nurses to be established in Lowell and the co-operation between the Lowell Guild and the Red Cross and board of health is very close in this particular.

The Red Cross nurses are devoting all their attention to the district bounded by Dutton street, Moody street and the Merrimack river, and are slowly gaining the confidence of the mothers who are beginning to realize that these quiet, competent young women can help them solve many problems about their children, always advising that the children be taken to a doctor for consultation for any serious trouble.

It is sometimes in simple ways that the nurse can be of the greatest help by advising the mother how to coax the child to eat the proper food as is plainly and interestingly set forth in the following incident related by one of the nurses:

"Oh, Nurse, Mary will not eat any green vegetables as the doctor at the clinic said that she must. She pushes her plate away every time I give her any." Thus spoke the mother of Mary, a charming child, two years old. Mary's little legs were not straight. The doctor at the Red Cross clinic had told Mary's mother that she needed to eat green vegetables.

"What have you given Mary?" asked the nurse. "I gave her a little asparagus." "Nothing else?" "Oh, no she wouldn't eat that." "Didn't you try giving her green beans from the garden, spinach or peas, or beet greens or carrots?"

"Why, no, Nurse, I thought if she wouldn't eat the asparagus, she wouldn't eat any of the others."

"Well," said the nurse, "you know what is best for your baby and you must try to persuade her to eat the food which she needs to make her grow strong and straight. Did you ever try having a party on her own little dishes and giving her the things she does like?" "No." "Then the next time you wish her to eat asparagus, give it to her as a party."

"Many a mother," continued the nurse, "having children from 2 to 5 years old, has found when she went to the Red Cross clinic held on Monday at 4 p. m. for children living in the district surrounded by Dutton street to Moody street and Moody street to the Merrimack river on the west and north, that one or more of her children had bow-legs or dislocated tonsils or some other defective condition of which she was unaware."

These clinics are held for the purpose of weighing, measuring and examining the children. Why does the Red Cross do this? Because sixty babies under a year of age died in the tiny section bounded by Cabot and Moody streets and the Merrimack river last year.

Mothers and fathers, friends and neighbors, what are you going to do to prevent such a terrible loss of babies this year? You must do your part toward keeping them well. It might be your baby next. You say, you don't know what to feed your baby. Then go to the Red Cross clinic at 17 Dutton street on Thursday at 4 p. m. and find out. There, the nurse who has already visited you in your home will weigh your baby to see whether it is gaining or losing weight and the doctor will tell you what the baby may eat to keep well.

If your baby is sick, telephone 2121 and ask the Red Cross nurse to come and tell you whether your baby is sick enough to call the doctor. Very often, a mother thinks an illness too slight to make a call from the doctor

JOHNSON SILENT ON RE- QUEST TO RUN

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Senator Johnson of California, who is here, seeking to recover the effects of being run over by the Old Guard steam roller at Chicago, continues impervious to all "smoking-out" processes. He refuses to indicate one way or the other whether he would look at a third-party nomination for the presidency or to reveal his intentions regarding the supporting of Harding.

Nothing is being said by Johnson concerning the petition circulated in Oregon and signed by some 5000 people, urging him to run as an independent candidate. Neither does Johnson say anything regarding the swallowing of Harding by Lenroot and Kenyon.

Senator Thomas of Colorado, a democrat, declared yesterday that all political signs point to a "convention of revolt" after the big democratic blow-out at San Francisco is over. Thomas sees La Follette looming up as the probable leader.

"The parties," said Senator Thomas, "have hardly a real issue between them except their own mutual hostility. In such a situation the time is ripe for the birth of a new party."

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who is packing his bag for San Francisco, declares the republican national ticket "is just what was to be expected."

"The republicans in nominating Harding and Coolidge have taken the line of least resistance," said Senator Walsh. "They did the same thing when they framed their platform."

"Whether the democrats can defeat the republican national ticket in November will depend upon the candidates nominated by the democrats in San Francisco and upon the platform they write."

ONE KILLED AND HEAVY DAMAGE BY STORM

NEW YORK, June 17.—One man was killed during a storm of tornado-like intensity that swept over Tottenville, Staten Island, late yesterday, uprooting trees, blowing down telegraph and telephone poles, electric wires, fences, and demolishing a small unoccupied hotel. The roofs of the Hotel Brunswick and Tottenville hotel were ripped off and a dozen frame buildings were also wrecked.

WATER POWER BILL

Pres. Wilson's Action on
Announced Today

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Wilson's action on the water power bill and 19 other measures passed at the close of the last session of congress and when Attorney General Palmer ruled, "could be signed within 10 days" was expected to be announced today. Included among the measures are resolutions repealing war time laws and authorizing the president to appoint a commission to confer with Canadian authorities regarding restrictive orders against the export of pulp wood which must be approved before midnight.

The time limit on the waterpower bill expired last Friday midnight but inquiries at the White House, state department and the Capitol have failed to disclose the action taken by the president. It was learned at the state department that the bill still was at the White House.

FATHER OF KIDNAPPED
BABY SWINDLED

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 17.—The police again today took up the search for 13 months old Blakely Coughlin, stolen from his crib on June 2. At the same time they were looking for a person known only as "the crank," who swindled George H. Coughlin, the baby's father, out of $12,000, which was demanded for the return of the little fellow.

After receiving several letters and telephone calls from "the crank," Coughlin became convinced he was the abductor and asked the police to withdraw from the case so he personally could negotiate with the writer. "The crank" at first demanded only $5000 ransom but later doubled it. On Monday he called Mr. Coughlin on the telephone and gave him instructions where to leave the money. The child would be returned in a taxi, "the crank" said within 24 hours. Mr. Coughlin said he had complied with every demand of the "kidnapper" and felt confident the baby would be returned Tuesday night. Both he and Mrs. Coughlin remained up all night. At 3 o'clock the next afternoon he drove to the spot where he left the money and found it gone. He then gave up hope, he said, and realized that he had been defrauded.

With the latest developments in the case, both the police and the Coughlins have abandoned the theory that the baby was kidnapped for ransom. They are inclined to believe that revenge was the motive. Charles Eller, chief of the Norristown police, said he had a definite clue and expected results within a day or two.

PLEADS GUILTY OF

PLYMOUTH, June 17.—Samuel H. Ripley, East Bridgewater, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder Lillian Hatchfield in Waltham last spring when she told him she had decided she did not care for him. Judge Thayer made a long investigation as to the antecedents of the young man and the causes leading up to the attempt on the life of the girl.

George Hatchfield, father of the girl, quoted Ripley as saying at the instant before shooting: "If I can't have you, no one else shall. I'll fix you," and then came the shots as he fired one bullet into her body, and, turning the revolver against himself, made two failures at suicide.

No disposition was made, Judge Thayer saying, "I am going to take this case under consideration. I may be able to render a decision tomorrow night."

QUERY MOB LEADERS

Arrests Expected as Result of Lynching of Three Negroes at Duluth

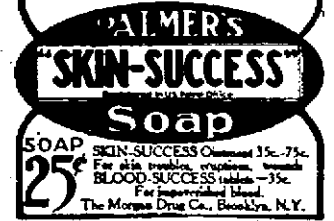

DULUTH, Minn., June 17.—The first arrests for complicity in the lynching of three negroes who were taken from the authorities Tuesday night after the police station had been stormed by a mob of nearly 10,000 persons, were expected today. Several persons believed to have been leaders of the mob will be examined, according to Warren Greene, county attorney. Arrests will be made on charges of "inciting riot," he said.

Commencement Exercises for Class of 1920 Held in the Town Hall

Commencement exercises for the class of 1920, Chelmsford Centre grade school, were held last evening in the town hall, which was filled to overflowing with parents and friends of the 31 graduates. The hall was artistically decorated for the occasion with the class colors of blue and buff, while the class motto, "We Build the Ladder by Which We Climb," was set above the stage in old English letters of blue. The class gift to the school was a handsome picture of Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, the presentation being made by Miss Elizabeth Parker, while the acceptance was by the principal, Miss Susan F. McFarlin. The evening's program was as follows:

- Invocation, Rev. L. L. Greene
- Essay, Shiloh Famous in Song and Story, Horace Ralph Gaudette
- Recitation, Poppies, Hanson
- Beatrice Ingeborg Peterson
- Song, Native Land, Jordan
- Essay, Life of Theodore Roosevelt, Andrew Donald Trites
- Recitation, King Robert of Sicily, Alexander Leo Guntill
- Songs: (a) Fair Napoli, Neapolitan Folk Song, (b) Sunset, Meyer
- Essay, Trails of Other Days, Esther Mary Thayer
- Recitation, Kentucky Belle, Woolson
- Song, Grace Eva Paigson
- Song, The Garden of the Sea, Beethoven
- Essay, The Story of a River, Corinne Gertrude House
- Recitation, My Sweet P., Cloud
- Blanche Katherine Richardson
- Presentation of Class Gift, Elizabeth Maria Parker
- Presentation of Diplomas, Mr. Herbert Waterhouse
- Song, America, Smith
- Benediction, Rev. John G. Lovell

Class honors in scholarship were won by seven of the young people, the first being Miss Esther Mary Thayer; second, Miss Beatrice Ingeborg Peterson; third, Andrew Donald Trites. The rank of the four others winning honors was practically the same and they were Horace Ralph Gaudette, Grace Eva Paigson, Corinne Gertrude House and Elizabeth Maria Parker. Five of the class had a record of perfect attendance: Harold Stanley Dawson, Raymond Arthur Reid, Hazel Gertrude Shinkwin, Esther Mary Thayer and Elizabeth Maria Parker. Miss Esther Reid acted as accompanist for the chorus numbers, which were led by the supervisor of music, Miss M. Marion Adams. Members of the class, which is the second to have exercises of graduation, were: Walter Barlow, Elsie Martina Bergsten, Roger Wallace Boyd, Charles Francis Charleston, Mary Frances Co-burn, Dorothy Josephine Davis, Harold Stanley Dawson, Freeman Dearth, Fred Ezekiel Gray, Horace Ralph Gaudette, Arlison Grover, Alexander Leo Guntill, Corinne Gertrude House, Win-feld Leroy Larry, Paul Lund, Alice Marcelotte, George William Nichols, Helen Theresa O'Neil, Elizabeth Maria Parker, Grace Eva Paigson, Beatrice Ingeborg Peterson, Marion Natalie Peterson, Raymond Arthur Reid, Blanche Katherine Richardson, Hazel Gertrude Shinkwin, Ruth Olive Staveley, Alva Winona Taylor, Esther Mary Thayer, Andrew Donald Trites, Alice Belle Wilson, Arnold William Worden.

MAKING CHILDREN EAT

Nothing is ever gained by forcing a child to eat when it refuses food. Make sure that nothing is being eaten between meals to destroy the natural appetite and if your growing child does not have a healthful craving for good, honest food at meal-times, there is something the matter. Threats of punishment if the child does not eat will not correct the difficulty. A full appetite in a growing child, especially if the patient is pale, languid, nervous, irritable, and without ambition, usually means that the blood is thin. A non-alcoholic tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is demanded. During her teens a girl lays the foundation for her future health. Lack of blood at this time may rob her of robust, healthy womanhood. It is of the greatest importance to administer to girls who grow pale and weak a safe tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills meet every requirement of the most careful mother. They make the blood rich and red and it carries renewed health and strength to every part of the body. Write today to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box.

SEVEN BARKS

Nearly half a century is a long time to faithfully serve the public, but that is what SEVEN BARKS, one of nature's greatest remedies to mankind, has been doing. SEVEN BARKS has not been extensively advertised, but has enjoyed a wonderful and steady sale for many, many years, and purely upon its merits. To those who may not be acquainted with the value of SEVEN BARKS we would say that it is absolutely a harmless and remarkable remedy, made from the extracts of different kinds of roots and herbs, every one of which has great medicinal value, scientifically blended, and for many, many years has been a reliable remedy for indigestion, Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Stomach disorders. SEVEN BARKS has saved thousands of families large doctor's bills, as well as untold suffering. It is inexpensive—only 50 cents per bottle—which with last a long time, as the dose is from 10 to 20 drops in a little water after meals. There is hardly a family but what some member is more or less frequently troubled with biliousness, indigestion, liver or kidney disorder. If you have never tried SEVEN BARKS, do not fail to do so, and watch the rapid and wonderful results. Don't put off asking your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. If he does not happen to have it on hand, he will get it for you.—Adv.

DR. MAYER DECLINES

Refuses Offer of German Chancellorship Tendered by Karl Trimborn

PARIS, June 17.—Dr. Mayer von Kaufbeuren, German charge d'affaires here has refused the offer of the German chancellorship, tendered him by Karl Trimborn, leader of the German Centre party, who is trying to form the new German ministry to be organized as a result of the recent election. Dr. Mayer explained his refusal today by declaring he considered the mission he has to fulfil in Paris as too important for him to give up at this juncture.

Berlin despatches on Wednesday indicated that the success of Herr Trimborn in his efforts to form a government was thought to hinge largely upon the acceptance by Dr. Mayer of the chancellorship. The Post had previously been refused by Konstantin Kehrenbach, president of the re-

Dr. Mayer explained his refusal today by declaring he considered the mission he has to fulfil in Paris as too important for him to give up at this juncture.

Berlin despatches on Wednesday indicated that the success of Herr Trimborn in his efforts to form a government was thought to hinge largely upon the acceptance by Dr. Mayer of the chancellorship. The Post had previously been refused by Konstantin Kehrenbach, president of the re-ganization, at the first annual convention of the United States junior chamber of commerce here today. Lack of interest in encouraging development of inland waterways also was charged against the business men by speakers who suggested that congress appropriate $500,000,000 for the development of these natural carriers. Sixty-six New York firms and more from other cities, it is reported, have asked the Russian Soviet government to resume trade relations with them.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 1337 Marcellus Avenue, Massacuset, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman, says Christian Miller, F.C.I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles. "The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless surface to take off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Lively druggist has mercurized wax; one ounce usually is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.—Adv.

DOWN TOWN POSTOFFICE

Government Has Not Yet
Acquired Site for Financial
Postoffice

"I am confident that Lowell will yet have its financial postoffice in the centre of the business district," Postmaster John J. Meehan announced to a Sun reporter today. "The matter is still under consideration by the post-office department and a final decision may be reached at any time. No authoritative information can be given out as it is the policy of the government to avoid publicity in such matters while they are in a state of uncertainty."

When Postmaster Meehan recently advertised for bids from property owners for furnishing a site for the new postal station in the business section, in or near Merrimack square, no offers were received. This, however, it is known, did not end the matter, and it is understood that since several available sites have been placed at the government's disposal.

The new station, if it is established, will be officially known as a "financial" station and will be one of a very few of its class in the cities of New England outside of Boston. It will differ from the "contract" stations that are maintained in stores in that it will be a complete postoffice in all of its departments with the exception that there will be no carrier service, although, according to Postmaster Meehan, this may later be added.

An official, to be designated by the postmaster, will be in charge of the station and there will be a complete staff of clerks and assistants under his direction. Stamps and stamped paper of all kinds will be on sale; letters will be registered, money orders issued and parcel post packages accepted. The hours that the prospective office may be kept open have not yet been considered.

Postmaster Meehan is confident that such an office as proposed would receive an extensive patronage and believes that the amount of business transacted there might in time exceed that handled at the central office.

If the postoffice department decides to establish the new station it will probably require from a month to six weeks, and possibly longer, to get the

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not to some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and many do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drug store a few ounces of Bismuthated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuthated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Liggett's Riker-Jaynes' Drug Store.

ROME, June 16.—Premier Giolitti's administration which took office today is based on the old party of the Left, with its sub-divisions, the liberal democrats and the radicals. To the former belong the premier, Francesco Tedesco, minister of finance; Signor Feano, minister of public works; Signor Rainieri, minister of illegated provinces; and Luigi Rossi, minister of colonies, while Signor Alessio, minister of justice, and Pasquino Vassallo, minister of posts, are members of the latter wing of the party.

Signor Meda, minister of the treasury, and Signor Micheli, minister of agriculture, represent the Catholic party; Signor Bonomi, minister of war, is a reformist socialist, and Signor Labriola, minister of labor, is an independent socialist. Count Sforza, minister of foreign affairs; Rear Admiral Secchi, minister of the navy, and Benedetto Croce, minister of public instruction, are non-partisans.

WANT BIRD TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

BOSTON, June 17.—A definite proposal to Charles Sumner Bird that he become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor against Lieutenant-Governor Cox was made yesterday by Robert M. Washburn, Joseph Walker and Grafton D. Cushing. In a letter to Mr. Bird these three republicans, all of whom are directors of the Roosevelt club of Massachusetts, urged the Walpole manufacturer to be a candidate because he is a business man and because, they say, he is the leader of the followers of Roosevelt in Massachusetts.

Mr. Bird, who had not received the letter last night, declined to make any comment on the situation.

A HD ADD SPORTS

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK

B. & A. EXPRESS

BOSTON, June 17.—In the opinion of the Boston & Albany railroad, a deliberate attempt was made Tuesday night to wreck the southwestern express train Albany to Boston near the Sunderland bridge in Worcester.

Investigation has shown that not only was the plow bar, which caused the derailment of the baggage car and stopping of the express, hurled from the bridge at the locomotive of an earlier train was passing beneath, but the tie plates which had been distributed along the roadbed in anticipation of repairs were placed on the track ahead of the train.

The stopping of the express, in consequence of the derailment of the baggage car, resulted in the train being delayed by a Worcester-Boston local which was following behind and in-jured to more than a score of passengers.

Investigation into the accident is being made by the officials of the company jointly with the interstate commerce inspector and the public service commission.

This Leaves the Skin Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talk)

A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delatone.—Adv.

Statement by the Railroad

"The Boston & Albany officials this afternoon became convinced that the derailment of the baggage car on train No. 18 on Tuesday evening was the result of an attempt to wreck the train," said a statement issued last evening by the company. "They base this conclusion upon the discovery of several tie plates which had been placed on the rails ahead of the train. 'The claw-bar,' which was the immediate cause of the derailment, has been identified as a part of the regular track equipment of that section of the Boston & Albany railroad, but how it got to this point cannot be stated, because no men had been working in this immediate vicinity for several days. The track was patrolled by the regular track walker on Tuesday. He states that he saw no bar, but the tie plates had been distributed along the road for installation."

"Engineer Marshall Newton of train No. 35, which passed the Hamilton street bridge on Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., heard something strike on top of the cab of his engine while passing under the bridge. He called the attention of his fireman to it, who replied that he thought it was a stone, as he had seen pebbles on the bridge. The marks on the cab show that the object that hit the cab was a claw-bar, which was later involved in the derailment of the baggage car on train No. 18, which occurred at 8:22 o'clock the same evening. Train No. 18 was the first train that passed through this section after train No. 35."

"Further investigation confirms the report made by the Boston & Albany railroad that the two automatic block signals involved in the accident were, and are now, functioning properly. The seals which had been placed on the relay boxes of these two automatic signals at 3 a. m. on Wednesday were released by the interstate commerce commission inspector on Wednesday forenoon."

The age of the redwood tree runs from 500 to 1500 years.

VIOLATIONS OF THE AUTO LIGHT LAW

Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department wishes to serve his last warning upon those delinquents in the auto light law and states that violators of that ordinance will be liable to the full penalty of the law in the future. Efforts are being made to relieve traffic congestion and danger in the business streets, but one of the gravest dangers from motor vehicles is the lack of front or tail signal lights. Autos parked on any street without lights at night time are considered obstructions by the superintendent and will be so treated. All obstructions in the street are required, by law, to have warning lights. The superintendent states that in spite of repeated warnings autos and other vehicles are parked on public streets night after night without lights, when they should at least have a small tail light. He says also that he realizes the great strain put upon a battery to furnish lights when a machine is stationary, but that all that is necessary is an oil lamp. The law in this respect is in part as follows: "Every vehicle whether stationary or in motion on any public highway or bridge shall have attached to it a light or lights so displayed as to be visible from the front and rear. They must be lighted during the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise. This law does not apply to such vehicles as are propelled by hand or to those which are loaded with hay or straw."

"PADDY THE BEAR" SHOT BY CHICAGO GUNMEN

CHICAGO, June 17.—Chicago's gang war was renewed today with the shooting of "Paddy the Bear" Ryan by five gunmen, who fled in an automobile. Hospital physicians said Ryan would die.

"Paddy the Bear" owned a saloon in which a policeman was recently killed by a gunman, and was also one of those held in connection with the recent murder of Edward Coleman, labor leader.

PROPOSITION TO HAVERHILL STRIKERS

HAVERHILL, June 17.—The board of directors of the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers association submitted a proposition today to the general officers and union leaders of the Shoe Workers' Protective union, enumerating shop conditions, price lists and methods under which they are prepared to do business. Statistics of conditions and prices in other shoe cities have been compiled by the local shoe men, who declare that the dead-end in labor costs has been reached here. A uniform expiration of price lists, grading of the shoe factories into their respective grades, is embraced in the proposition now before the local union. No reduction of wages is proposed by the shoe men, but they ask protection against future increases to enable safe competition with other centers. Herbert H. Hicks, president of the Manufacturers' association, presided; George H. Carter of the Gale Shoe Co., was spokesman. Joseph C. Goyette received the proposition from the manufacturers and will report action of the union before June 25.

WRECK VICTIM ON DANGEROUS LIST

WORCESTER, June 17.—Joseph Lyons of Allston, who was fireman on the Boston & Albany local train which ran into the rear of the express Tuesday night near Lake park, in which nearly 50 men and women were injured, has been placed on the dangerous list in City hospital, but all the other victims are reported to be improving in condition.

In searching for the cause of the wreck today, the railroad police directed their attention to a "hobo" camp that was discovered in the bushes a short distance from the scene of the accident. This place showed signs of recent occupancy, but it was deserted today.

YACHT RACE CALLED OFF
NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—The ninth race in the series between the Resolute and Vantilo to determine which shall defend the America's cup off Sandy Hook next month was again postponed today because of weather conditions, leaving the Resolute with five victories to her credit and the Vantilo with three.

Decalmed yesterday, the racing craft today rode at their anchorages drenched by a heavy rain coming out of the northeast. No attempt was made to take them outside.

Expectations are that, because of the double postponement, races will be held every day next week.

PITCH TOURNAMENT

At a recent meeting of Wamesit lodge No. 25, K. of P., it was voted to hold a pitch tournament tomorrow evening, and suitable prizes are to be awarded the winners. Wamesit lodge memorial day will be held Sunday, June 20, at which time the graves of all departed members will be decorated. Members wishing to assist the memorial day committee are requested to be present at the K. P. hall Sunday, at 10 a. m.

FRUIT DEALERS WARNED
A number of local retail fruit dealers were called before the health board at its meeting earlier this week and warned against displaying cherries and other fruits for sale without proper protection. The law stipulates the use of glass and prosecutions will follow unless strict compliance is noted. Agent O'Hare said today that flies carry fever germs and people who eat fruit not properly protected are in danger of contracting contagious diseases. He asks the co-operation of the general public in this matter and will welcome any information regarding any violator of the law.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
(By Theatres' Own Press Agent)
MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
It's bad enough to be sick when you are sick. But to have to pretend to be sick when you feel like moving a house—well, that's a real job for a husky athlete. But he had to do it to move the stubborn heart of the woman he loved. Did she succumb? Well, you know a woman is easily moved to pity by the sight of suffering and pity is akin to love. If you want to laugh, see Wanda Hawley, one of the most popular stars of the screen, in "Miss Hobbs," at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow or Saturday. The other big feature for these three days is Elaine Hammerstein in "Whispers," a stirring story of the present day. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

THE STRAND
"Burning Daylight," an adaptation of Jack London's famous story of the same name, with Mitchell Lewis and an all-star cast engaged, is the stellar attraction at The Strand today and for the remainder of the week. The central figure is a minor known to his associates as "Burning Daylight." He is the only living thing in the Alaskan mining town of Garaguk, according to the girls in the dance hall. He makes his appearance at one of the saloons and displays rare packings of gold which discloses the fact that he has "struck it rich." This fact becomes known to an agent of a big mining syndicate of New York and he later sells his claim for a sizable amount. He then visits New York and falls victim of the schemers who bought out his Alaskan property, and loses all he has made. Determined not to be beaten, he breaks into a conference which is being held by the syndicate and gets his money at the point of a gun. He then takes his sweetheart, her father and crippled brother back to Alaska where a bright and happy future faces the quartet. The story is a vigorous, enjoyable picture, and Lewis and his associates handle it most commendably. Screen in "The Dead Line" is the other special feature that should appeal to all lovers of superior grade offerings of the screen. The story, as a brisk start and is carried along at a rapid pace by the star and his associates. It's a real Walsh production and has action and romance as well as some good humor that combines in making it enjoyable.

OWL THEATRE
Splendid audiences are still flocking to the Owl theatre to see that great Vitaphone special production, "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," from the story by James Oliver Curwood. David Smith directed it and First National snatched it up. It will finish the week at the popular Owl theatre prices. The remainder of the bill will change today, however. Chief among the additions are Larry Semon, that funny "feller," in his latest comedy, "The Head Waiter." There will also be an episode of "The Lost City," a Judge Brown story, a comedy feature and a news reel. This big bill will be played continuously from 1 o'clock every day for the remainder of the week. Remember, it is always cool at the Owl.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is authorized to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

It is a strange anomaly that the first woman to defend a case in the federal district court in Boston should have appeared in behalf of a client charged with violating the liquor law.

The Middlebury, Vt. youth who broke into a clothing store twice to prove that the local police were "no good," was probably satisfied that his opinion was not correct when the judge said "two and one-half years in state prison."

The poll of the Literary Digest shed no light on the probabilities. If it was intended to help any republican candidate, it failed signally. Neither has it helped the Digest very much although there are today perhaps a few more thousand people who know there is such a publication.

The Boston newspaper that has been trying to prove that the naming of Daniel J. Gallagher for the office of United States district attorney is part of a bargain to deliver the Massachusetts delegation to the democratic national convention to Palmer, probably does not realize what a difficult task it would be to fasten a collar around the necks of some of the delegates and deliver them to anybody.

THE VOLSTEAD ACT

It would be well if the citizens of this country in general, made up their minds once for all, that the Volstead act is law, and that it is going to be enforced. That act forbids the sale of any beverage containing more than half of one per cent alcohol, and any violation of its provisions is punishable by heavy fine or imprisonment.

The prohibition amendment is here to stay; but the Volstead act is subject to amendment by congress. Those who think its provisions are too extreme, can agitate for its amendment so as to provide a more liberal standard of what is intoxicating; but while the law is in force, it should be enforced and obeyed.

This law also forbids the manufacture, even by home made means, of any intoxicating beverage, and the police and enforcement officials are daily finding violations of this provision. The parties who resort to this method of producing illicit beverages, are in risky business. The penalties for such offences are severe.

In the long run, the people who set out to produce moonshine whiskey, will have cause to regret their action. Already several Lowell parties have been found in this business and will have to meet the penalties of the law. It appears that the sale of Jamaica ginger except for beverage purposes is permissible; but there are more cases of drunkenness from "Jakey" than any other form of intoxicant.

The load of "Jakey" recently seized here by the police unmistakably indicates that there is a big sale for it in this city and it is used almost entirely as a substitute for liquor in producing a state of intoxication. Both "Jakey" and "Moonshine" will have to be equally taboed in order to stop their use in the production.

BUNKER HILL DAY

This is Bunker Hill day, a day that marks the anniversary of an event of outstanding importance in the history of the upward march of liberty and democracy not only in this country but throughout the world. In a way the happening that it commemorates, may be compared to a smaller scale with the fall of the Bastille, the anniversary of which will be celebrated in France on July 14.

Both of these events served notice on autocratic rulers that the time had come when the common people would stand together and fight for the cause of justice and right against the organized forces arrayed against them.

The American army that charged against the British red coats at Bunker Hill was an army in name only. It was made up of farmers who, dropping their plow handles, took their old fashioned flintlocks in hand, and struggled into the hands of the British. The patriot leaders tried to fight for the cause of the oppressed, but they were not yet ready to experience in the ways of warfare, against the trained troops of England, is a matter of history.

17th of June, 1775, the American soldiers were in retreat because their supply of ammunition had been exhausted; but before they retired they had inflicted severe losses upon the enemy which was greatly superior in numbers. They had lost their brave General Warren with about 450 men in killed, wounded and captured; but the British losses were fully twice as great. In one sense, the battle of Bunker Hill was a military defeat for the Americans; but in reality, considering the circumstances under which it was fought, it was a great moral victory which inspired the colonists with renewed courage.

From that hour the fight went bravely on against tremendous odds, overcoming obstacles that seemed almost insurmountable until the final victory was won, the victory that has given America the priceless heritage of liberty which is the birthright of every citizen of this republic.

LABOR'S ENSLAVEMENT

There are evidences that the radical wing of the American Federation of Labor was in control at the Montreal convention when it was voted to insert a plank in the platform adopted, condemning attempts to enact laws that would forbid strikes of government and public service employees.

The ground on which this condemnation rests is a fear that such laws would result in the virtual enslavement of laboring men. Conservative labor leaders are not likely to subscribe to this view.

There can of course be no such thing as slavery where the right of free contract exists. No person is to be compelled to enter the employ of the government or public service corporations under any of the laws that have been proposed or considered. A man is still to have the right to work where he pleases. Nor is it proposed to take away the right of any man to leave any position in which he is employed, if he is dissatisfied with the pay or treatment accorded him.

What is sought to be accomplished by the proposed laws is to forbid men to combine or conspire together to bring about the realization of their ends, at the expense of loss and suffering to the rest of the population.

There is nothing novel about this proposal. Civilized society is founded on the principle that the individual is subordinate to the whole, and that individuals must give up what may be called "natural rights" to promote the general good. Whatever promotes the general good, in the long run, is most beneficial to the individual.

Intelligent labor leaders realize that the desire of the workers on the railroads of the country for more pay or shorter hours of labor, is not sufficient cause for permitting them to take the whole country by the throat and by stopping travel and transportation, subject the rest of the people to irreparable loss and possible famine.

Labor has had the sympathy of the public in its long fight for improved conditions. It will continue to have it if its course is dictated by sanity and justice, but not if it sets out to enforce conditions that must prove detrimental to the public at large.

RAILROAD PROBLEMS

Lowell is caught in the swirl of the railroad congestion and industries may have to shut down as a result of the inability of the railroads to handle their business. Had the traffic bureau of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce been in operation, it might have been able to belong to him, and that he and the present state of freight rates is affecting Lowell.

At present the railroads throughout the country are calling for aid from the government in the use of increased freight rates and other financial assistance to enable them to increase their equipment, especially in overcoming the shortage of cars. It is difficult to understand what an extent the country is offering to the railroads through the appropriation of $125,000,000 for the purchase of new rolling stock.

This money will be advanced by the government out of the $300,000,000 fund provided in the transportation act and used mainly for the purchase of freight cars and locomotives with preference given to freight and switching locomotives.

The railroads have submitted statistics showing that an increase in rates of 30.43 per cent in eastern territory, 30.95 in the south, 24.1 in the west and 32.82 in the southwest will be necessary to provide a return of 6 per cent upon the aggregate value of their property, in addition to reasonable expenditures for maintenance of way structures and equipment.

The justice of these demands is very generally conceded by chambers of commerce and other bodies of business men. Not until the railroads are in much better condition than at present, however, will they be able to handle the transportation problems now so complicated and so demoralized throughout the country. Much of the short-haul business is taken up by motor truck lines, but nevertheless, the railroads are still overwhelmed with freight congestion so that they can hardly hope to get out of their difficulties without liberal government assistance.

CHANNING COX

In pursuance of the republican method of gubernatorial succession, Lt. Governor Channing Cox, promptly picks himself out as the candidate for governor next fall. Thus, the office is clinched so to speak by a political custom that enables small men to secure election who could never hope to win in any other way. This is a matter that concerns all citizens of the commonwealth, whether democratic or republican. There should be no such bar raised against the free choice of a candidate for governor in any party. The fact that a weak man serves one, two or even three terms as lieutenant governor should not give him a claim upon the higher office to the exclusion of other worthy, competent and popular aspirants.

In recent years the governorship in this state has been pre-empted by the lieutenant governor to such an extent that it would be considered a breach of an established and time honored custom for anybody else to run for the office. That custom should be smashed because it is wrong and injurious to the state owing to the fact that it enables inferior men to secure election to this high office. If this rule is observed in Massachusetts, why not in other states and why not in the case of vice president of the United States?

The reason is, that it has no legal standing anywhere, and yet it is observed almost religiously by republicans of this state. It may be said that it is not a matter that concerns democrats; but it certainly concerns citizens of all classes, if by any political scheme or unauthorized custom, good men are barred from seeking election as governor except they follow the custom of the fraternities and pass through the chairs leading to the highest office.

Channing Cox will be the republican candidate for governor next fall by right of "political succession," a practice that should be abolished for the public good. It should have no recognition anywhere and no aspirant for the office of governor should be deterred from seeking election just because a little clique of individuals has conspired to keep the office to themselves. It is worthy of note in this connection that already two candidates have announced their intention to run for the office of lieutenant governor but the parties have not yet decided upon a candidate.

Channing Cox in virtue of this office in the contest against the democratic candidate. It is to be hoped that some good republican will come forward and put an end to the vicious custom under which the nomination for governor is to be handed over to the lieutenant governor, provided only that he be a republican. In other respects he may be immeasurably inferior to other men who would be candidates, but for this proposition.

BRITISH-AMERICAN SOCIAL CLUB. Regular services were transacted at the regular meeting of the British-American social club, which was held at 7:30 p. m. and was attended by a large number of members. The program consisted of a reading of the minutes, a report on the work of the club, and a presentation of a paper on the subject of "The Social Club in the Future." The paper was read by Mr. J. H. Harrington, proprietor of the Lowell Sun, and was well received by the audience.

Next Saturday members who wish to participate are requested to be at the club at 7:30 p. m. in the hall of the Lowell Sun. The club is open to all who are interested in social and literary pursuits.

SEEN AND HEARD

In a political fight the balance of power is a bank balance.

Overalls would have become fashionable if the hint had come from Paris.

Oddly enough, the supreme court didn't exempt justices from the provisions of the dry law.

There is a suspicion that delegates are at times more interested in high bidders than in high principles.

And so Wilhelm designs his own clothes. For that matter, he designed the close of the Hohenzollern regime.

If a Mexican president dies before the revolutionists get him, you can say that he came to an untimely end.

Spiritual Spanking

"Willie," exclaimed the young widow to her recalcitrant offspring, "if you don't behave yourself and come in the house right away I'll get out the outboard and have your poor, dear papa give you a good scolding."

Lost Treasure

Out in the wilds of No Man's Land the lieutenant on patrol encountered a dusky private, anxiously searching the ground on hands and knees.

"Here, you," he demanded gruffly, "what the devil are you doing out here?"

"Suh," replied the dandy with tears in his eyes, "Ah's lookin' fo' mah buddy's hand what got shot off heah."

"Oh, I'm sorry," exclaimed the officer, touched at such a friendship. "But that's no use, you know. His hand will never do him any good now."

"No, sah, 'tain't dat, but when it got shot off it done had mah best pair ob dice in it."—The American Legion Weekly.

Insult to Royalty

The ideas of the world change; what is unwelcome today, becomes welcome tomorrow. There is an interesting bit of evidence of that in an amusing incident, long forgotten and now brought to light. When postage stamps first came into use in England, some persons declared that the effigy of majesty was too sacred to serve as a label for letters.

"Have you seen the stamps yet?" wrote one ardent loyalist in 1840. "This is the greatest insult the present ministry could have offered the queen."

King Ferdinand of Sicily took the matter so seriously that he had a special postmark made in the shape of a frame, so that the officials could cancel the stamps without striking his portrait.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Ownership Decides

The suburban night was being made hideous by the howling of a dog whose soul was lonely, and the strolling police officer paused to speak to the citizen who, standing at his gate, was evidently listening to the canine wails.

"Awful racket!" the officer observed.

"Fierce!" the citizen agreed.

"Want to make a complaint?" the officer suggested zealously.

"Why—er—not until I am sure," the citizen responded.

"Sure, of what?"

"Why, whether that is my dog or Brown's. If it is my dog—oh well, we have to put up with a few little annoyances in this life, you know; but if it is Brown's, why, by George I don't propose to have my life made miserable by a nuisance like that!"—New York Evening Post.

By O. B. Joynt

The Society for the Prevention of Capital Punishment is working up a campaign to halt the execution of a Canadian woman, sentenced to die for a very heinous murder. In one of its anti-hanging arguments the society makes mention of one Richard Brandon, and expresses the hope that there'll be no Richard Brandon for this Canadian murders.

Richard Brandon died 271 years ago, but his memory is stirred up every time the hangman of today is called into action. Brandon was the executioner of the city of London, and his magnanimous was the decapitating of Charles I. He never lived this down, although it was merely a matter of routine with him, and was hated by the people until his death. In fact, an angry mob followed his coffin to the cemetery.

Brandon was a great stickler for the proper order, giving precedence to the higher ranks whenever a bunch of nobility was sent to him for translation to the hereafter.

Optimism

We have our troubles, all of us. The cost of living's high.

And few of us can save a cent. No matter how we try.

We must economize some more. Although we don't know how.

But one of us will mind a bit. A hundred years from now!

The landlord may increase the rent. The butcher charges for a steak. Much more than we can pay. The milkman makes us pay for milk. Enough to buy a cow.

But one of us will not trouble us. A hundred years from now!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Our former townsman, Rev. Park A. Bradford, who was an ardent free silver advocate in 1896, is now writing for provincial papers in New York state. In an article in the Salamancha inquirer, he advocates the nationalization of about everything that is of public utility. Mr. Bradford was always inclined to the plausible theories of socialism, though strongly opposed to the inevitable results of their application.

There has certainly been a great transformation at the municipal swimming pool off the Pawtucket boulevard since last summer and I venture to say that more than one visitor this summer will blink his eyes as he looks about him at the strictly modern bath house, the sandy bathing beach and numerous life guards ready at any time to assist bathers. Last summer there was no "beach"—simply "a shaded grove," but during the fall months the park department removed all the trees in front of the bath house, carried many loads of sand to the spot and today the area is just as "beachy" as any of the Massachusetts coast water-fronts. Inside, the bath house resembles very closely those at Beverly and Shawmut with its rows of lockers, shower bath and other accommodations. In the evening the interior is electrically lighted while outside the beach is illuminated by large arc lights. Lowell people should find great enjoyment at the pool during the next few months.

No less than four bridal couples left the Lowell railroad station last night on express trains north or south bound shortly after 9 o'clock. The scene was one well worth witnessing. Gathered in the vicinity of the station was a great crowd of happy, shouting, laughing young people. Many of them had noise-making implements of one sort or another. Some jangled cowbells, others blew horns and yet others drummed upon tin pie plates. It was not until a big limousine drew up in front of the station with a bridal party therein that the noise festival really broke loose. Then the tumult and the shouting began in earnest. The poor little bride peered anxiously out of the side of the limousine at the crowd in front of her. Then she sank timidly back into her seat and held a brief consultation with her husband. She evidently wanted him to lead the way out of the auto. Did he? No; he wasn't playing that particular part in the performance. So the young woman bravely stepped forth into the tumult, followed by her courageous consort.

She was in an instant caught up into what was a combination of snowstorm. Fourth of July celebration and football scrimmage. A torrent of confetti was poured over Mrs. Newlywed. If she tried to keep it out of her face by bending her head, it was poured down the back of her neck. If she threw her head back she was blinded. All the time there was the blare of horns, ringing of bells and thumping on the tin pie plates. Sticks of red fire were lighted. Then another auto drove up and the same performance was gone through with by another party of young people. Then another and another bridal couple appeared and were given the same kind of greeting. After it was all over and the four happy couples had started rolling on their journeys, the platform of the station had the appearance of having been buried under a fall of snow.

COAL SITUATION

The present coal situation, which is threatening to interfere seriously with transportation and industrial activities, can be relieved by the president under the Lever act and the transportation act of 1920, in the opinion of Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city.

In a telegram forwarded today to John B. Curtin, secretary of the local street railway home rule committee, in response to the committee's letter appraising him of the serious situation confronting the street railway company, the congressman states that he has urged the president, the attorney-general, the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission to take steps to relieve the emergency. The telegram in full is as follows:

Mr. John B. Curtin, 36 Central street, Lowell, Mass.
Your letter of the 10th received. I fully appreciate the importance and seriousness of the present situation. I believe that under the Lever act of 1917 and under section 402 of the transportation act of 1920 the executive has ample power to deal with this crisis by means of an embargo on exportations or otherwise. I have urged the president of the United States, the attorney-general, the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission to take prompt steps to relieve the emergency. Will keep you advised of developments.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

NEW ENGLAND FOOD COUNCIL ORGANIZED

BOSTON, June 17.—Persons interested in food production and distribution in the six New England states organized here yesterday the New England Dairy and Food Council. The council, according to its charter, will seek to "encourage and promote a sound dairy industry" and to "secure an adequate and satisfactory supply of milk and dairy products and of other food products for New England." The movement, its organizers said, will be supported by agricultural colleges, farm bureaus, granges and food producers.

Glen C. Seavey of Springfield, editor of the New England Homestead, was elected president; Frank S. Adams of Portland, Me., vice president; Frederick L. Snyder of Boston, treasurer; Prof. W. P. B. Lockwood of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, secretary.

RULING ON PENSIONS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Federal employees who have reached the age of retirement, 70 years, although they have not given the minimum of 15 years' service required under the retirement law, must be dropped from the rolls and cannot draw retirement pensions. Attorney General Palmer ruled today in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Payne.

70,000 French Troops in Orient

PARIS, June 17.—Reduction of military service to less than two years is impossible at present, said M. Lefevre, minister of war, while explaining the main points of the projected reorganization of the army to the military committee of the chamber of deputies yesterday. Use of French troops in the Orient was discussed by the minister who declared that forces now in the Near East numbered 70,000 men, most of the organizations there being colonial regiments.

Drop Charges Against Union Officials

CHICAGO, June 17.—The cases against Samuel Levin, general manager of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and six other officers of the union, charged with conspiracy to incite riots, have been dropped. The prosecuting attorney told the court that a majority of the local clothing manufacturers wished the cases dropped as they had reached an understanding with the union.

6000 Vehicles for National Guard

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Orders were issued today by the war department setting aside more than 6000 motor vehicles for the national guard. Distribution of the equipment will be supervised by the Motor Transport Corps on approval of the militia bureau. It includes 324 automobiles, 3652 trucks of various sizes, 48 "tank" trucks, 1952 motorcycles, 1250 bicycles and 1660 trailers.

Wager Thousands of Dollars on Race

ITHACA, N. Y., June 17.—Wages estimated to total several thousand dollars are reported to have been placed by followers of the Cornell and Syracuse crews entered in the 'varsity race' to be held on Cayuga lake Saturday. Because the Cornell 'heavy' varsity crew is an untried combination, a sort of "dark horse" Syracuse backers are asking even money in bets on the Orange chances of victory.

New York Needs 160,000 Apartments

NEW YORK, June 17.—At least 160,000 additional apartments, involving an investment of $560,000,000, must be erected here to overcome the present housing shortage, according to a report made public today by Edward P. Doyle, secretary of Mayor Hylan's housing conference committee. Banks, insurance companies and other financial houses will be urged to loan money to the limit for building projects designed to bring housing relief.

Sharp Criticism of League Decision

LONDON, June 17.—Sharp criticism of the decision reached by the council of the League of Nations to postpone action of the plea of Persia for defense against the Bolsheviks is expressed in some quarters here, and one section of the press openly attacks the council for its action.

Renewal of Spanish Loan to France

PARIS, June 17.—Renewal of the Spanish loan to France of 35,000,000 pesetas has been arranged by a Spanish bankers' consortium, according to Madrid despatches quoting gossip in financial circles there. It is said this step was taken with the authorization of the Spanish government.

1,362,872 French Soldiers Were Killed

PARIS, June 17.—Final official statistics of the ministry of war fixes the total number of French soldiers killed during the great war at 1,362,872. Of this number the details of the fate of 361,851 are unknown, according to the Matin.

Prices Continue to Drop in Paris

PARIS, June 17.—Prices of various commodities in every day use continue to decline in this city and newspapers state that coffee costs less in Paris than in Brazil. Cotton, which for several days was firm, has again undergone an important decline in Havre.

FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

Approval by A. F. of L.—

Profiteering Scored—Non-

Partisan Program Wins

MONTREAL, June 17.—Organized labor in the convention of the American Federation of Labor here yesterday called upon congress to curb profiteering, endorsed President Samuel Gompers' nonpartisan political program, approved the Irish republic and requested withdrawal of armed forces from Ireland.

The Federation declared war on the Kansas court of industrial relations and anti-strike legislation now before the legislatures in Colorado and Nebraska.

The recent railroad strike was condemned by the federation as a "sectionalist movement" to discredit the recognized organization in the railway service. Any union giving moral or financial aid to such walkouts was threatened with revocation of charter.

Congress also was urged by a vote of the convention to enact legislation for the absolute exclusion of Japanese and other Asiatic emigrants and "picture brides."

A declaration was adopted to the effect that the federation "had never countenanced discrimination because of race, creed or color."

The federation instructed the executive council to call a conference of all the "interested international unions" and immediately start a new organizing campaign in the steel industry. The work of the National Steel Workers' organizing committee in organizing 500,000 steel workers was approved.

The question whether the American Federation of Labor should endorse "government ownership" or "government control" of the railroads, provided spirited debate at the close of the day's session. Final action will be taken today.

The administrative forces of the federation, backing the resolutions committee for the approval of "government control" opposed the railroad employees' organizations and their supporters in urging endorsement of "government ownership with democratic operation of the railroads."

John Frey, chairman of the resolutions committee, led the opposition to government ownership.

Frey said there is "growing in this country the idea, advocated by those who claim to be our friends—by near statesmen, publicists and others—that the welfare of the state is superior to the rights of individuals." "They believe that in Germany," he added.

S. E. Hebberting of the Switchmen's union, pleaded for government ownership and democratic control and operation. He declared Mr. Frey had tried to create prejudice against "their ideas had come from Germany."

When the hour for adjournment arrived the indications were that the railroad employees' unions would have the support of the United Mine Workers and the metal trades organizations.

This would enable them to override the committee's report and place the federation on record as favoring government ownership with democratic operation of the railroads.

President Gompers, it was understood last night would take the floor, if necessary, to support the committee's recommendation.

Today's Session

MONTREAL, June 17.—Railway workers' organizations reopened their fight in the American Federation of Labor convention here today for the endorsement of "government ownership with democratic administration" of American railroads.

They were bitterly opposed by the administration forces of the federation, who condemn government ownership and have recommended "government control" of the roads.

293 DEGREES AWARDED AT BROWN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 17.—A total of 293 degrees, the greatest in its history, was awarded at the 152nd annual commencement at Brown university yesterday. First degrees were given to 210 students of whom 193 were men and 17 women. Of the senior class more than 60 were formerly members of previous classes who had returned from war service to complete their academic work. The 88 advanced degrees granted included 39 masters of art, 11 masters of science and three doctors of philosophy. In addition 16 honorary degrees were bestowed by President W. H. P. Fawcett. It was announced that more than $2,500,000 of the university's endowment and development fund had been obtained and in addition to this increase in unrestricted funds $250,000 has been donated for a new chemical laboratory.

The honorary degrees conferred were as follows:

Doctor of Laws: Prof. Harold D. Hazleton, Brown '04, Cambridge, England; Prof. Vernon L. Kellogg, Stanford university, Palo Alto, Cal.; Judge William G. Van Horn, Brown '17, of Cairo, Egypt, and Frank A. Vanderlip, of New York.

Doctor of Science: Alexia Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, New York.

Doctor of Divinity: Rev. Charles N. Arbakie, minister Baptist church, Newton Centre, Mass.; Rev. Frank W. Crowder, rector, St. James Episcopal church, New York city; Rev. Harry E. Postick, professor in Union Theological seminary, New York.

FAMOUS PERFORMER WANTS NO SALARY

"Toque," equine extraordinary French poodle by grace of ancestry and circus performer by profession, has earned more money in his day than 75 per cent. of mankind. Yet, as is the fashion with dogs, Toque would rather have a well-cooked bit of meat than all the money in America. So his master, Alf Loyal, supplies him with plenty to eat, a stateroom in which to sleep, handsome collars and—takes the money. Toque and his master, together with the finest trained equines that have ever toured, are to be seen here with the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows Friday, June 25.

Toque has a reputation that extends all over Europe and he has made a fortune for his owner. Toque is a wonderful somersault on a horse's back, stands on his head in the saddle, and while sitting upright on the horse's back catches on his nose rings and clown caps tossed to him by Loyal. While the trainer stands in the saddle he perches himself, head down, on the man's head.

"Toque" is also a wonderful acrobat. He runs down an incline to a springboard and leaps lengthwise over the heads of a row of ten men, turning two somersaults on the way.

In special entertainment for the children this season's circus is remarkably strong. A troupe of baby elephant performers appeals particularly to the young folks. They are the best kind of fun-makers and quite as clever as the three herds of full-grown elephants which perform in one big number. One of these youngsters walks on a rolling ball, guiding it all around the ring. Another sits in the seat of a wagon and drives like a man, a companion in full harness playing the part of horse. They play on Swiss bells, they play at "Drop the Handkerchief" just like a party of children, they skip the rope, stand on their heads, play leap frog, tennis and baseball.

In addition to these dumb actors there are whole troupes and groups of funny old bears, seals and sealions, fox terriers, collie dogs, geese, pigs and Shetland ponies.

The mammoth main-tent program opens with a brilliant and stupendous introductory pageant. The animal acts, antics of scores of clowns and fully a thousand aerial novelties and sensations follow. They constitute the pick and cream of the two famous American circuses supplemented by many new importations.

Don't Treat Kidneys Rough, Warns Dr. Carey, Specialist

Constant Flushing May Injure the Delicate Organism and Seldom Removes the Poisonous Deposits

Now that Dr. Carey, kidney and bladder specialist, has retired from active practice, he generously warns people that even the smallest symptoms of kidney trouble should have serious attention.

Backache, for instance, puffiness under the eyes, or specks floating before the eyes, heavy feet and dry skin, are also danger signals.

"Thousands die yearly because they neglect their kidneys," says Dr. Carey, "and I feel upon retiring that I should tell all who even suspect kidney or bladder trouble about my prescription, Marshroot, which, during my active practice, has cured thousands of all kinds of kidney ailments."

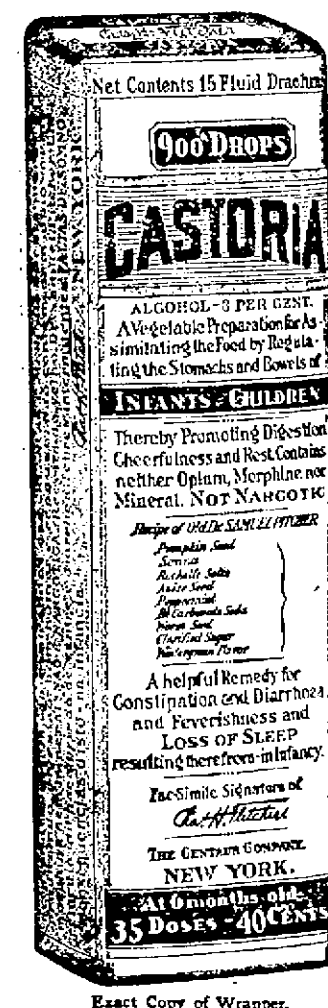

This prescription has been given to pharmacists generally throughout America and is dispensed by them under the name Dr. Carey's Marshroot, a name that every sufferer from kidney trouble should remember.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will score to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good."

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

AMHERST COLLEGE

COMMENCEMENT

AMHERST, June 17.—Amherst college, at its commencement day exercises yesterday, conferred honorary degrees on Sir Louis H. Davies, K.C.M.G., chief justice of the supreme court of Canada, on six of her former graduates who have gained distinction since they left college, and on State Senator George D. Chamberlain, an authority on education and a leader in the boys' club movement.

Sir Louis headed the list of four who received the honorary degree of doctor of laws, the others being Herbert L. Bridgman, editor of the Brooklyn Standard Union, a graduate in the class of 1898, Alexander D. Noyes, financial editor of the New York Evening Post, a graduate in the class of 1881, and Frank E. Spaulding, head of the new school of education at Yale university, a graduate in the class of 1892.

The degree of LL.D. was conferred upon James H. Lowe, Amherst '80, president of the department of political science of the Brooklyn Institute, the degree of LL.D. was given to Ernest H. Wilkins, Amherst '00, head of the department of Italian, University of Chicago, and the degree of A. CALL ISSUED TO

CLAIM BAGGAGE

Through the local army recruiting station a call is issued to army and ex-service men to claim their baggage before the government salvages the many pieces now held at Governors Island. A similar warning has been sent out by the Knights of Columbus which has already located 75,000 pieces and shipped them to men who had given them up for lost. At Governors Island at the present time there are 148,000 barracks bags, 6000 trunks and boxes and thousands of miscellaneous pieces unclaimed. The K. of C. has taken an inventory and is ready to ship baggage to claimants who apply to headquarters 195 West 10th street, New York city. Relatives of deceased men may claim their effects. Baggage may include war souvenirs, clothing or anything belonging to the men which may be identified.

408 DEGREES AWARDED AT BOSTON UNIVERSITY

BOSTON, June 17.—President Lemuel H. Murlin conferred 408 degrees in the various departments of Boston university at commencement yesterday. In line with the university's policy of half a century, no honorary degrees were awarded.

In an oration on "Liberty and Law" Justice Wendell Phillips Stafford of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, considered the danger to a democracy of control by a minority better organized than the majority. The public at present, he said, is very much like the clumsy thousand-headed but while the union or trust is very much like the agile flea. One is organized, the other is not. He urged that the situation demands strong, fearless and clear-headed men who will be called when the crisis becomes acute enough.

CONDITIONS AT AVLONA

No New Attacks by Insurgent Albanians—Snipers Active—Italians Re-enforced

ROME, June 15.—Conditions at Avlona, Albania, are fairly satisfactory according to reports from Brindisi. Insurgent Albanians who have received severe punishment in recent skirmishes have not launched any more attacks against Italian forces at Avlona, but their snipers have been firing continuously on Italian scout patrols. The activities of these Albanians, however, have been virtually stopped by newly arrived airplanes while Italian reinforcements have made reconnaissances outside the city possible.

New insurgent detachments continue to arrive from the interior to join the Albanians around Avlona, and two Italian carabinieri who ventured beyond the lines were stabbed to death. An Italian airplane has flown over the Albanian lines dropping newspapers carrying articles denying insurgent reports that Italy was responsible for the assassination of Essad Pasha in Paris on Sunday.

BIG BONFIRE USHERS IN BUNKER HILL DAY

BOSTON, June 17.—The celebration in commemoration of the 145th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill opened last evening with five bonfires by some of the most prominent organizations of the Bunker Hill district. At each eloquent addresses were delivered.

One of the noteworthy features of the night before Bunker Hill day was a bonfire constructed hastily to replace the large pile of railroad ties, cut-soaked woods and tar barrels which was burned early yesterday morning in a mysterious manner.

More than 20,000 people gathered at the Sullivan square playground before 10 p. m. to see the big bonfire. Mayor Andrew J. Peters applied the torch to the pile. He was accompanied by Director of the Celebration Daniel J. McDonald, the mayor's secretary, Edward J. Park, and Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy. The illumination was visible for miles.

The annual custom of placing flowers at the base of the small monument within the base of the Bunker Hill monument, which is a replica of the original monument built by the King Solomon lodge of Masons, was carried out this afternoon. Worshipful Master Arthur W. Vaughan of the lodge carried the wreath to the monument and placed it at its base at 3.30 p. m.

Child Almost Dead Grandmother Saves Life

Roxbury, Mass. A grandmother in Roxbury writes: "I put great faith in your medicine, and one of my children was dying. The doctor said he could not live until morning, and I ran out to the drug store, got a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir, was so excited I gave her the half of the bottle at once, and at night I gave her the other half. I thought it's either kill or cure for the doctor says she is dying anyway, but she did not die. She went to sleep the first sleep for a week, and the next morning she passed two worms, red in color, six inches long. The doctor came to see if she was dead, but he ran out pretty quick, as she was sitting in her chair eating a bowl of oatmeal and milk. That was twenty-four years ago, and now she has a very good liver, seven months old, who is also using Dr. True's Elixir." (Name on request.)

Constipation, headaches, tired feeling, weakness, spots before the eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness, and many other signs of sickness, can be relieved, if you take the prescription known as Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It has done much for sick people, men, women and children, ever since 1831—over 50 years reputation.

HALTS WEDDING AND ORDERS BRIDE TO PUT ON MORE CLOTHES

NEW ORLEANS, June 17.—A wedding ceremony in St. Louis cathedral was postponed several hours yesterday because the officiating priest, Fr. Antoine, of the Order of Oblate Fathers of Mary Immaculate, declared the bride was immodestly attired and violated a recent order of Archbishop Shaw of the diocese of New Orleans relative to wearing apparel.

The priest declared the bride appeared to him "so shocking that he had the sexton put out the lights so that she might retire and properly clothe herself."

Although he declined to reveal the name of the bride, he declared she "wanted to fly in society style at her wedding, much to her disgrace."

Everything had been prepared for the wedding and the bridegroom was in the edifice. The altar was ablaze with candles and the electric lights in every part of the ancient cathedral were lighted.

The bride started up the main aisle, but had not gone far before the priest viewed the gown, ordered the lights out and sent her home to assume other garments. The marriage ceremony then was performed.

BUDAPEST, June 15.—Minister of Justice Ferdinandy introduced a bill in the national assembly today providing punishment of up to 25 strokes on the soles of the feet of male profiteers.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS by Olive Roberts Barton.

SO UP THE FAIRY LANDLORD WENT, ALONE.

Nancy and Nick started to follow Tinkling upstairs, when he went to look for Chirk Chipmunk, to see what on earth he meant by slamming so many bureau drawers. But the Little Green Shoes stopped them right at the bottom and wouldn't take another step.

So up the fairy landlord went alone. He was worried, because it was rent day, you know, and he was afraid Chirk couldn't find enough money to pay him.

Every step he took, the stairs creaked and groaned miserably, but Tinkling pretended not to notice this, any more than he had the sagging doors and the bad wall-paper.

Up he went, up and up and up in the direction of the drawer-slammings, but every new step tilted him so, that finally he had to grab the banister to keep himself from falling.

He was almost to the top, about next to the last step, I think, when there was a crash, and a smash and a loud rushing around, and not knowing what to do. "Won't somebody help?"

"Wait a minute," advised the Magical Mushroom, and sure enough, the slamming above stopped and Chirk stuck his head over the rail. "What's wrong?" he asked. "Did something drop?"

"Yes, yes," cried Nick. "Mr. Tinkling has fallen through the stairs. Do help us to get him."

"All right," answered Chirk cheerfully sliding down the banisters. "He's probably in the cellar. I haven't been able to use these stairs for a year come Christmas."

So lighting a lantern the chipmunk and the children went down cellar to find poor Tinkling.

GOV. COOLIDGE SPEAKS AT HOLY CROSS

WORCESTER, June 17.—Gov. Coolidge, addressing the graduation class of Holy Cross college yesterday, asserted that there was no class distinction in America.

"Our constitution forbids nobility," he continued, "because that great document recognizes the truer and finer and higher nobility of American citizenship."

The vice presidential nominee, attired in academic cap and gown, presented diplomas to the graduating class of the men, the largest in the history of the college. This has been the annual custom of the governor of the state.

The governor's remarks were made at the end of orations delivered by class speakers, who chose Bolshevism as their theme. He urged the graduates to continue their education, saying:

"Education tends to bring the reason and experience of the past into a solution of the problems of the future. Avoid class distinction and look to service and unselfishness, for service is the foundation of progress."

"In the study of economics we must consider our relationship, one with another. The greatest lesson we have to learn is to seek over the public welfare. We cannot divide America with different classes. Selfish interest leads into class distinction and should never be permitted."

"This nation was founded as the result of a revolution, but those who fought claimed always that this was not an attempt to tear down but to build up, not an attempt to destroy but to maintain their American heritage."

He warned those who might be thinking of another revolution to consider well whether they were planning to tear down or build up.

"Unless property owners had proper safeguards of constituted authority," Gov. Coolidge continued, "transportation would cease, industry would shrivel up, all property be destroyed and all incentive to effort perish. All our freedom comes from the support of the constituted authority."

"There is coming a time, not far distant, when it will be as much a disgrace for those who are affluent to remain in idleness as it is today for those men who go about the streets in our cities and towns in idleness and begging."

"Freedom and liberty come not from an anarchy, but from observance of ways that are right and true and just. We must learn the value of loyalty to one's self and the support of the constitutional authority."

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Gov. Coolidge and P. O'Brien of the class of 1901, corporation counsel of New York city.

After the exercises the governor and Mrs. Coolidge lunched with the faculty and then left for Boston.

A total of 7594 strikes in this country have been recorded, in the last five years.

Lift Off Corns!

Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness.

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no bump!

Tiny bottles of "Freezone" cost but a few cents at drug stores

Only for ladies who end corns

Dainty shoes are only for those who end corns.

The way is simple, quick and easy, and is sure. Millions of people employ it.

Apply Blue-jay, the liquid or the plaster. That touch will stop the pain.

Then wait a little and the corn will loosen and come out.

Then why does anybody suffer corns? Just because they don't know. They pare corns and keep them. Or they pad them. Or they use a treatment harsh and ineffective.

Blue-jay is scientific. This world-famed laboratory created it.

Year after year, it is keeping millions entirely free from corns.

Perhaps half the corns that start are now ended by it.

Ask your druggist for Blue-jay. Learn tonight how much it means to you.

DECLARES BIG PACKERS ARE "PERSECUTED"

CHICAGO, June 17.—Thomas E. Wilson, president of Wilson & Co., packers, and head of the Institute of American Meat Packers, in an address today before the National Livestock Exchange asked all branches of the livestock industry to co-operate in "stamping out radical and un-American elements who have seized upon the proposed meat packing industry legislation and are using it as a means to inaugurate the nationalization of all industry."

Mr. Wilson said that the fight being centered on the "big five" packers was as much an attack upon the producers, commission men and the 400 smaller packing concerns of the country.

"It was largely through the efforts of the American Cattle Associations that these investigations were first begun," Mr. Wilson said, "and were primarily for the purpose of finding a remedy for some wrongs which it was feared, existed."

"However, what was started has resulted in the 'persecution' of the packers instead of an impartial investigation of the industry. This movement, begun with a view to improving the economic positions of the feeders and breeders of livestock, has been largely obscured by radical forces who are keeping alive this fight for other purposes."

ILLINOIS PRIMARY LAW INVALID

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—The state supreme court yesterday held the Illinois primary law unconstitutional. The validity of the primary election law, which was passed by the state legislature in 1919, was attacked by attorneys for William Fox, convicted in Chicago of fraudulent voting in the primary election held April 13, 1920. The case was brought to the supreme court on a writ of error.

The decision throws state central committees of the political parties and all county central committees out, and reinstates old committees elected under the old primary law, now revived. It dislodges the Mayor Thompson faction in Chicago and returns to power the Dineen-Brundage forces. Elsewhere it upsets plans for special elections.

SALEM MERCHANT COMMITS SUICIDE

SALEM, June 17.—William C. Clapp, a harness and leather dealer, was found dead today at the Wreckers' clubroom, where he had committed suicide by opening gas jets. He was 35 years of age. Clapp had been in ill health and despondent recently.

Sir Robert Kindersley, governor of the Hudson Bay company, started as a clerk at $2.50 a week.

Graduation at Notre Dame

His disciples once that he wanted them to continue in the good work they had done, that he wanted them to show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end. In all your studies here at this school you found certain laws governing these studies. And there are laws governing human nature as well, but there is one fundamental law underlying it all and that is showing forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good work unto the end. In other words, perseverance.

"If you would preserve those virtues and lessons inculcated while you were here in school, you must practice them each day. Show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end. Perhaps, through good fortune, you will continue your education in a higher institution of learning; if so, I would commend to you the first Catholic women's college established in New England, Emmanuel college in Boston. Here you may be sure of the same training you received at Notre Dame.

"Others of you will find your places in the business world or in the Normal school. Here, too, there is need for carefulness in the accomplishment of good. You will be called upon to meet people whose ideals and philosophy differ from yours. It is here that you must exercise that quality of carefulness mentioned by St. Paul.

"You can be sure of this: That the standards of womanly conduct set for you in this school are the truest standards possible. No man made them; they have come from heaven. Your parents and teachers should ever be your models for they, in their devotion to you and your welfare, have shown their greatness.

"Learn a lesson from them. Appreciate your parents and school. The more you appreciate them, the deeper with their lessons sink into your hearts and minds and the greater will their influence be. And, finally, show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end."

The solemn high mass was followed by an exhibition of the work of the pupils during the school year that has just come to a close. The exhibition was held in the hall of the academy and was excellent in every detail and an accurate reflection of the excellent and varied training received by the students during the year.

The musical program carried out during the progress of the mass was as follows:

Processional, Orchestra
Introit—"Salva Sancta Parens"
Schola and Choir, Gregorian
"Kyrie"—Kyrie Eleison, Gregorian
"Gloria"—Gloria Deus Potens, Gregorian
Graduale—"Benedicta et Veritas"

POLICE HAVE NO CLUE TO ROBBERS

As far as could be learned at headquarters no clue to the robber or robbers who stole a large amount of money from the office of Alexander Cruikshank, the ice cream manufacturer, in Arch street, yesterday, has been hit upon by the police inspectors. The prevailing opinion in police circles is, however, that the theft was committed by someone well acquainted in the neighborhood, who knew the custom of Mr. Cruikshank in sending the money to the bank and where he left it in his office, so that he could get away with it as soon as the owner left the premises for a short time.

NO MORE SATURDAY EVENING DANCES

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Girls' Community club, it was decided to discontinue the Saturday evening dances, beginning June 19, throughout the summer.

Club girls who plan to spend week-ends at the camp in Billerica are urged to register as far in advance as possible as the number, which can be accommodated over night is limited to 17. This coming week-end is almost filled and the holidays over the Fourth are also fully registered for, although there is still opportunity for a few more day-time visitors on that day.

VACATIONS FOR LETTER CARRIERS

Assistant Superintendent of Mails Edward Welch has nearly completed the list of carriers with their allotted vacation periods which are to begin July 1, the beginning of the postoffice fiscal year.

The carriers who will be relieved from their duties on the first of July for a period including the 15th of the month, are: George L. Howard, J. J. Coughlin, J. B. A. Lebrun, W. H. Whitston, D. P. Martin, James H. Kennedy, C. F. Tunulty, F. J. Maguire, D. M. Gillis.

The local postoffice clerks have not made arrangements for the vacation list as yet.

CHILEAN STEAMER REACHES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Chilean steamship Pizarro, formerly the Japanese steamship Nippon Maru, arrived here today from Valparaiso, Chile, with passengers and cargo, inaugurating the passenger and freight service of the South American Steamship Co. between New York and South American west coast ports.

Among the passengers was D. P. Moorey, United States minister to Paraguay.

Nearly 5,000 applicants in New York are waiting for telephones to be installed in their offices and homes.

HENRY ROUSSELL, DISCHARGED

Henry Russell, the man arrested with Eudouville Barrett Tuesday night by federal prohibition officers for alleged violations of the national prohibition law by being implicated in the maintaining of a large six gallon per hour "moonshine" still in Braintree, was discharged by United States Commissioner Hayes in the federal court in Boston yesterday. Barrett, said to be the owner of the large still, was held for trial later under bonds of $1000.

Spice of Life in Variety of Summer Hats—Turned Up, Straight or Drooping, All Sizes and Materials

New York's Fashion Authority
NEW YORK, June 17.—If variety is really the spice of life as we are told it is, then the hats of 1920 are calculated to contribute to it a good bit of high seasoning, especially the hats designed for summer.

To begin with, there are large ones, small ones and medium. The pot shape or mound shaped crowns, and with very stiff or very floppy brims. The new large hats which Paris has suddenly ordered into fashion again are wonderful creations, made not only of straw but also of various fabrics and strange combinations such as lace or chiffon and duvetyne, horsehair and ribbon, velvet and tulle.

Personality

The small hats are very small, but oftentimes with unproportionately high crowns, and the medium ones are distinctly medium, but with much more personality to them than medium hats usually possess, as witness the one Martha Pierre wears in the Zeigfeld Polities of 1920.

In tinsel "Irene" at the Vanderbilt theatre among many smart hats is the one illustrated of white tulle and lace. The hat itself turns up abruptly, diagonally across the face with a straggling cluster of forget-me-nots drooping from the point thus made at the right side.

The crown of it is of soft white lace draped a bit and wound with flowers.

and the brim is first faced with several layers of the tulle then its wired edge softened by the fringe of plaited tulle.

Then there is Cleo Mayfield's smart Phinps hat of soufflé hemp that she wears in "Look Who's Here," and there is Regina Wallace's wobbly-brimmed, uncurled ostrich-trimmed straw to be seen in "The Oniia Board"—each a "personality" hat, and the personality is not alone in the respective wearers, either; it's in the hat, too.

Just incidentally, hats, especially the large ones, are worn jammed down on the head though usually quite straight instead of at the coquettish angle of other seasons.

FEWER HOME GARDENS

Not Much Interest in Gardening Here—School Garden Outlook

Watch the prices of farm and garden products soar. That, in the opinion of people familiar with agricultural conditions in this section, Lowell people are likely to have a chance to do during the summer and coming fall.

In the city there has been a considerable decrease in the acreage given up to home gardens as compared with the last two or three years. This has been in some measure due, it is claimed, to the high price of seed and fertilizer, and to the feeling of some people that while they were willing to delve and plant so long as the gardens were of the "war" or "victory" variety, now that the war appeal is getting into the background they are willing to let George do it, insofar as laboring along agricultural lines is concerned.

It is also said to be a fact that a number of owners of large tracts of land that in previous years had thrown their acres open to the public for planting have shown no disposition to follow the same course this year. Other owners, it is claimed, have demanded fees or a share in the products raised on their land by others and this has added to the unplanted area.

Another factor in the prospect of smaller crops is said to be that the city government has ceased to provide a supervisor to assist and direct the work and the park commission has also stopped its gardening activities.

There is one encouraging feature of the situation, however, and that is found in the school-garden outlook.

Under the supervision of Alice T. Lee and Charles W. Dennett, the work of planting the children's gardens has been given a good start. The statistics have not been fully compiled yet, but it is stated that the gardens will probably be fully as numerous as last year when about 5000 were planted. No estimate has been made of the probable value of the products that will be raised by the children. Last year in one school district over $1000 worth of vegetables were produced. From the gardens of many individual children more than 200 worth of vegetables were harvested, and one boy alone raised over $20 worth of beans.

Every young school gardener is a member of the United States school garden army that is organized on a semi-military basis with divisions of the workers into companies each with their regular officers. In this city Miss Lee has organized the companies into regiments with a colonel and lieutenant colonel at the head. Each member of the school army has been furnished with a package of seeds containing five different varieties through the instrumentality of Congressman John Jacob Rogers.

As an incentive to the school gardeners to do their best the state department of agriculture this year is offering as an inducement a free trip to the Amherst Agricultural college to any boy or girl who maintains a garden containing at least 500 square feet. It is understood that the chamber of commerce is also ready to supply a sum of money to be used in awarding prizes to the children who produce the best gardens.

The conditions on the farms and market gardens around Lowell are said to be no more promising than in the city itself. Much plowing that should have been done last fall was neglected and there has been no opportunity to catch up with the work. The season at the beginning was backward with much damp and cold weather that prevented work on the ground that remained damp and cold.

The greatest handicap of the local agriculturists, however, has been the shortage of labor. Some farm laborers, it is said, are demanding as much as $5 for a day's work and insisting on an eight-hour day. Men hired by the month demand from $50 to $60 with board. Even at these prices, the farmers claim, it is almost impossible

Bright eyes

Dull eyes and that disagreeable, listless feeling are usually the first signs of a bilious condition. A tablespoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine should be taken promptly to stimulate the action of the liver, bowels and other digestive organs. This household remedy never fails to bring quick relief and may ward off a serious attack of indigestion.

Sufferers from biliousness should have a bottle always on hand, and take small doses regularly as a precaution. This will tone the stomach and keep the entire system healthy and normal.

Don't experiment with unknown widely advertised pills and tablets that may contain acetanilid or other coal-tar derivatives. The true "L. to obtain a sufficient number of laborers. Some people who are more or less familiar with the situation claim that the number of acres planted in the territory from which Lowell draws its garden supplies is at least 25 and may be 50 per cent less than it was last year.

One encouraging feature of the situation is said to be the quality of the weather that has been supplied the farmers since the middle of May. There has seldom been a season, it is claimed, more favorable for the production of bumper crops. There has been just rain enough to keep the earth sufficiently moist without flooding it, and the days of warmth and sunshine have been sufficiently numerous to give vegetation a good start. The weather, it is said, has been of a quality especially favorable to the hay crop. This may be reflected in the price of milk later.

The state department of agriculture has thus far shown comparatively little interest in the local gardening situation, it is said. It has, however, taken a leading part in trying to bring about the establishment of wholesale and retail markets at which the farmers can dispose of their products.

Surprised That Piles Entirely Disappeared

Suffered for Over 20 Years From Blind, Bleeding and Protruding Piles—Spent Hundreds of Dollars—Piles Got Worse, Micro (Internal Treatment) Completely Cures Long Standing

"For over 20 years," writes W. A. Wilmer of Erie, Pa., "I suffered and spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and patent medicines with no relief. A little over a year ago I read a notice in the paper about the wonderful Micro Internal Treatment and thought it was another grand fake, but finally concluded I might as well try it. Used it as directed and after taking only one bottle was astounded to find that the piles had entirely disappeared."

"I have been entirely free from piles for over one year now and don't know whether they will come back or not but I'll be mighty quick to buy more should they reappear."

The Micro Internal Treatment is only sold on a basis of complete satisfaction or money back. Ask Fred Howard to show you the original package. He sells lots of it.—ADV.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW BATH HOUSE

All that is needed to give Lowell's municipal swimming pool in the Merrimack river, off the Pawtucket boulevard a rating in the same class with Revere or Nantasket beach is a bit of salt in the water for yesterday marked the opening of the brand-new bath house at the pool with everything in tip-top shape for a most successful season.

The bath house began business shortly before noon with its regular corps of attendants and guards on hand to look after the wants of bathers, whether they be men or women, expert swimmers or toddling youngsters. The bath house is in charge of Daniel P. Brennan, head life guard, and a veteran lieutenant of the world war. Assisting him are James P. Liston and Louis J. Turner, guards; Michael Rynne, policeman, and Mrs. Rose Cox and Mrs. Ellen McDevoy in charge of the women's section of the building.

The new bath house will be open every day including Sundays from now until the fall months. Although today was not exactly the kind of a day to attract large numbers of bathers, there was a good-sized crowd on hand during the afternoon hours. The first lady bather to call for a suit, towel and locker was Mrs. E. M. Brown.

There is a plentiful supply of towels and bathing suits on hand for ladies and boys but the men's suits have not yet arrived. Supt. John W. Kernan, of the park department, expects them within a day or two.

Boys under 14 years of age will be allowed the privileges of the bath house free of charge except on Saturday afternoons, Sundays and holidays. The building has a capacity of 122 lockers and is divided into sections, one for men and one for women. Shower baths and other conveniences are provided.

The rules governing the use of the building and swimming pool are posted conspicuously in all parts of the bath-house and in detail are as follows:

1. The bath house will be open to the public between the hours of 11 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m., each day.

2. Bathing suits and towels may be obtained from the attendant in charge. The following prices will prevail:

Towel and Locker Accommodations 10c
Shower 10c
Suit, Towel and Dressing Room 20c

Extra Towels, each 5c

3. Bathers will be required to wear proper bathing suits.

4. Suits, towels and keys must be returned to office.

5. The city of Lowell will assume no responsibility for the loss of articles left in the lockers or bath house.

6. No disorderly person will be allowed on the beach or in the park and prompt arrests will be made for any willful disobedience of park rules.

7. All persons are cautioned to observe the instructions and warnings of the life guards and other attendants.

8. No free bathing for boys under 14 years after 4 p. m. Saturdays afternoons, Sundays or holidays.

9. Paper money issued to the amount of $10.00 or less in 1919 was worthless by 1921.

SALE OF PERCY PARKER PROPERTY
DUMMER STREET, LOWELL

THE WELL LOCATED INVESTMENT PROPERTY OF PERCY AND ANNIE G. PARKER, CONSISTING OF EIGHT BUILDINGS AND ABOUT 2250 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, SITUATED AND DESCRIBED AS FOLLOWS: A ONE AND A HALF STORY DWELLING AND STORE AT NO. 70 DUMMER STREET, A FOUR-TENEMENT BLOCK AT NO. 80 DUMMER STREET, A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AT NOS. 9-11 IN THE REAR OF NO. 80 DUMMER STREET, A COTTAGE HOUSE AT NO. 86 DUMMER STREET, A COTTAGE HOUSE, NO. 13 IN THE REAR OF NO. 86 DUMMER STREET, A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND STORE AT NOS. 90-92 DUMMER STREET, A FOUR-TENEMENT BLOCK, AT NOS. 6-5 IN THE REAR OF NOS. 90-92 DUMMER STREET, AND A TWELVE-TENEMENT BLOCK AT NOS. 102 AND 110 DUMMER STREET, PLEDGED IN ONE LOT, TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDER, AT UNRESTRICTED AND ABSOLUTE PUBLIC SALE, ON THE PREMISES, REGARDLESS OF ANY CONDITION OF THE WEATHER, ON FRIDAY, THE 18TH DAY OF JUNE, 1920, AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

No. 70 Dummer street, is a one and one-half story structure consisting of a store and a four-room tenement in very good order, and rented to the one tenant who pays $13 per month or $136 per year; the building has gas, city water, etc.

At No. 80 Dummer street is a block of four tenements, five rooms to each, and toilet, city water, etc. In the rear of No. 80, at Nos. 9-11 is a two-tenement house of four rooms each, toilet, city water, etc., rented at $5 per month or $120 per year.

At No. 86 Dummer street is a cottage property containing 10 rooms, five rooms on each floor and toilet, city water, etc., occupied by the one tenant who pays $15 per month, or $180 per year; in the rear of the above at No. 13, is a dwelling of the cottage type, containing six rooms and two attics, with toilet and city water.

At Nos. 90-92 Dummer street is a two-tenement house and store property; the store with two rooms and toilet, gas and city water, on first floor; six rooms on second floor, and three attics on the floor above, rented to the one tenant who pays $20 per month or $240 per year. At No. 4 in the rear is the other tenement of five rooms, toilet, city water, etc., rented at $5 per month or $72 per year, making a total rent for the building of $26 a month or $312 per year.

At Nos. 6-5 in the rear of No. 92 Dummer street is a block of four tenements, two tenements of three rooms and two tenements of four rooms, toilet, city water, etc. One tenement rented at $5 per month, or $72 per year; the other tenements with a little outlay could be made to rent for an equal amount which would show an income for this building of $24 per month or $288 per year.

At Nos. 102 and 110 Dummer street is a three-story structure, containing 12 tenements, six tenements of five rooms, and six tenements of four rooms, toilet, city water, etc. Tenements are rented, eight tenements at $2.25 per week each, and four tenements at $2 per week each, making a total income for the building of $26 per week or $1132 per year.

The lot has sewer, gas and water connections, and is of good dimensions; has a splendid area of about 22549 square feet, with a magnificent frontage on Dummer street of about 284 feet, and an average depth of approximately 55 feet, thereby enabling the erection, if one so desired, of a modern mercantile building, and with its location in the very center of industry, within 250 feet of City Hall, it can richly be termed a downtown business location. With the completion of the Cardinal O'Donnell Parkway, it gives to this property an unobstructed view of, and entrance from Merrimack street.

The premises, at present, have an actual income of $2102 per year, and with the expenditure of a reasonable amount on the unoccupied portions, can be made to return a much greater revenue.

This sale is of unusual importance, being a downtown property with many advantages for future development, owing to its character and lot lines, and should especially attract real estate investors, and operators, as the opportunity is seldom, if ever, offered to purchase at open competition a property of this magnitude, and especially in this particular era.

TERMS—Cash must be paid to the auctioneer, just as each of the property is struck off, unless terms made known at sale.

By order of PERCY PARKER.

THEY WERE PARTICULARLY CLEAR AND MUCH APPRECIATED.

Commissioner John F. Salmon of the Water department has appointed John T. McCabe, a veteran of the world war, as an inspector and meter reader in that department. Mr. McCabe's name headed the list of eligibles sent Mr. Salmon by the civil service commission. His home is at 42 Seventh street. The position pays $32.50 per week.

Miss Gladys Storm, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Storm of 10 Hackett street, was the only Lowell girl to graduate from the Mary Hemenway department of household arts, state Normal school, Framingham, yesterday. The young woman completed a three-year course with honors.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Nelson DePoecker and Miss Alice Catherine Conway were married last evening at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John Doherty, O.M.I. The best man was Mr. John Conway, a brother of the bride, while the bridesmaid was Miss Beth Conway, a sister of the bride. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 4 Miller street and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Canada by automobile. Upon their return they will make their home at 8 Billerica street.

The marriage of Mr. Ralph M. Cram and Miss Mary E. Axon took place last evening at the home of the bride, 40 Seventh avenue, the officiating clergyman being Rev. A. G. Lyon, of the Pawtucket Congregational church. Miss Lavina Axon acted as maid of honor, while the best man was Mr. Forrest M. Calhoun. After July 1 the couple will be at home to their friends at 11 Lamb street.

Mr. Adhemard G. Jean, formerly of this city and now of Salem, and Miss Blanche Burrill of this city were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Aurelien Merle, O.M.I. The bridesmaid was a sister of the bride, Miss Alice Burrill, while the best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Albert E. Jean of Manchester, N. H. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride at the corner of Eighteenth and Beacon streets and later the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Hamilton, Ont. Upon their return they will make their home in Salem.

Yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride, 134 Howard street, Mr. George M. Ashley, Jr., of Pittsfield, N. H., and Miss Alice Mae Humphreys of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Samuel A. Jackson of the Westminster Presbyterian church. The witnesses were Mr. Henry L. Ashley and Mrs. W. H. Brown. The couple will make their home in Pittsfield.

Mr. Adam Silk and Miss Mary E. Cogger were married yesterday at St. Columba's church by the pastor, Rev. Patrick J. Hally. Miss Catherine F. Cogger, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. James Silk, a brother of the groom. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 631 Moody street and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip. After July 1 they will make their home at 26 Second avenue.

The marriage of Mr. Charles H. Thompson of Boston and Miss Elizabeth Nelson of this city took place yesterday at the home of the bride, 403 Beacon street. The couple were attended by Mrs. J. A. Glyne of Chicago and Mr. Robert R. Livingston of this city.

One of the prettiest of June weddings occurred yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the rectory of the Immaculate Conception church when Miss Margaret E. Foley, a highly esteemed young lady of this city, and Mr. James J. Donnelly, a popular young man and prominent in union labor circles, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. The bride was attired in a gown of crepe de chine, wore a picture hat and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Nora V. Garvey, who wore a gown of pink organdy and carried pink roses. Joseph J. Donnelly, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a beautiful amethyst ring, while the groom's favor to his attendant was a solid gold signet ring.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Scullion, of 538 Rogers street, where a palatable supper was served. The interior of the home was artistically decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The evening was spent with vocal and instrumental music and was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly were showered with congratulations and good wishes from a host of guests, among whom were friends from Boston, New

AT 14 ROCKDALE AVE., OFF FLETCHER STREET

THE OWNERS OF THIS TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY SLATED ROOF DWELLING HAVE DECIDED TO MAKE IMMEDIATE SALE, AND HAVE THEREFORE INSTRUCTED THE AUCTIONEER TO SELL AT ABSOLUTE PUBLIC SALE.

On Saturday, the 19th Day of June, 1920, at 3.30 P. M.

The premises are of the full cottage type of seven rooms and bath room. On the first floor are kitchen, dining room, parlor and front hall. There are four good chambers and bathroom on the second floor. The house is supplied with gas, city water and sewer connections and is in very good order. The roof is of first quality slate.

The lot is of good area and is situated on a corner, with correspondingly good frontage; and, it being a corner location, you are assured plenty of light and air. With a small outlay one can very easily, owing to the present plan of the building, convert it into two apartments, and its location, within walking distance of the centre of Lowell and also of the many mills and factories assure the owner of a steady and continuous occupancy.

With the great demand for homes of this character, and also with the great scarcity of such, such a sale is especially inviting and attractive to the many, many home-seekers, and more particularly to the party of small means, as the property can be bought with a small amount of money.

Terms—$250 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off, other terms made known at sale.

W. E. GUYETTE in charge.

Jersey, Brookline, Concord, New York and Ayer. The happy couple were the recipients of a wealth of beautiful gifts, including silverware, linens, bric-a-brac, household essentials, etc.

After a honeymoon in the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly will reside in this city.

Entwistle—Latham

Mr. Frederick L. Entwistle of this city and Miss Mary Latham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Latham of Merrimack terrace, Dracut, were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Daniel Hatfield, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of this city. The wedding party entered the parlor, where the ceremony was performed to strains of the Lohengrin wedding march. The best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Harold Entwistle, while the bridesmaid was Miss Ethel Latham, a sister of the bride. The bride wore white Georgette crepe trimmed with white beads and also wore a veil caught up with white sweet peas and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and bridal roses.

Jordan—Brennan

Mr. John Joseph Jordan and Miss Mabel A. Brennan were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the rectory of St. Peter's church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Heffernan. The bride was very becomingly attired in white duchess satin with georgette crepe overdress and trimmed with pearls, and veil caught up with pearls. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Lillian A. Conniff, sister of the bride, who was charmingly gowned in white georgette crepe and white leghorn hat and carried a bouquet of Jack roses. The best man was Mr. Frank Finnerty. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pink sapphire ring and the bridegroom's favor to the best man was a K. of C. charm. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 42 North street, at which were present guests from Boston, Providence, R. I., New York and Detroit. The ushers at the reception were Messrs. Eben and Harry Brennan, George Riddle and John McBride. A wedding dinner was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Jordan who received many useful and beautiful gifts, left on an extended honeymoon trip to Hartford, Conn., New York and Washington.

Becht—Jordan

The marriage of Mr. William Becht and Miss Christine Jordan took place last evening at 7 o'clock at St. Michael's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. James Lynch. Miss Anna Becht of Lawrence acted as bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Oscar Becht, a brother of the groom. The bride wore white embroidered satin and georgette crepe and veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore white georgette crepe with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bar pin, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Emond in Hampshire street and later in the evening the happy couple, who received numerous gifts, left on a wedding trip to Maine. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Brooks—Brandin

St. Anne's chapel was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday noon when Miss Edna Eleanor Brandin became the bride of John William Hayes Brooks, the double ring ceremony being performed by Rev. Appleton Grannis. Both young people are well known members of St. Anne's parish, the groom having sung

Donnelly—Foley

Lost Arm and Foot When Train Bore Down on Him—Posses Hunt Robbers

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., June 17.—George Underwood of Carrollton, Mo., today was in a hospital minus his left hand and foot, and posesses sought two men, who, Underwood said, robbed him and bound him to a railroad track. Underwood was tied with wire but managed to free his right arm and leg just before a train bore down upon him.

FEW APPLICANTS FOR CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Dampness of the weather is thought to have been the cause of the appearance of but few applicants for citizenship papers today at the naturalization court that is being conducted at the Middlesex county court house by Superior Court Clerk C. W. Dillingham. This was a very different condition of affairs from what has existed on the other days this week, when the court house corridors have been filled with persons anxious to renounce their allegiance to some foreign prince, potentate, state or power.

Yesterday was a busy day for Clerk Dillingham. When the records for the day were completed it was found that 67 first and three second citizenship papers had been granted. This makes a total for the present session of the court of 65 first and 117 second papers.

The largest number of applications have been filed by subjects of Great Britain as is usually the case. A few Turks have taken their initial steps toward citizenship, but there has been less than the usual number of Greeks among the applicants.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 17.—Salaries for the teaching corps at Brown University, fixed today at the annual meeting of the corporation, show these increases: Professors $4500 to $6000; associate professors, $3500 to $4000; assistant professors, $2500 to $3500; instructors, $1200 to $2000.

George Fremont Bean of Boston and Frank W. Mattoon of this city, chosen yesterday by the alumni to vacancies on the board of trustees, were added to the membership of the corporation.

HELEN TAFT TO WED JULY 15

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 17.—The marriage of Miss Helen Taft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Taft, to Frederick J. Manning, will take place at Murray Bay, Canada, on July 15. It was announced at the Taft home today.

STRIKE AT NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, June 17.—The threatened strike of coal teamsters and trimmers went into effect here today. Union officials claim 160 workers answered the call, dealers reporting that there was little difference noted in the situation from any other day. Trimmers ask half holiday on Saturday or 25 per cent. increase. Trimmers seek an advance of 20 cents an hour.

Avoid Danger

Police records show that during the vacation season Liberty Bonds, valuable papers, jewels and heirlooms of priceless value are in greater danger from the professional burglar than at any other time.

GRADUATION AT NOTRE DAME

Class of 25 Presented Diplomas—Rev. Augustine F. Hickey Delivers Address

Always an anticipated feature of the local commencement season because of the excellent program of exercises it invariably produces, graduation day at Notre Dame academy this year lived up to the lofty standard of its predecessors when a class of 25 young women were presented their diplomas at a solemn high mass in the academy chapel in Adams street this forenoon before a gathering of friends, relatives and other invited guests that taxed the capacities of existent accommodations.

Despite the discouraging weather, every available pew within the chapel was taken, extra seats were placed in the side and center aisles and even the long corridor in the rear was lined with visitors.

The speaker of the morning was Rev. Augustine F. Hickey, diocesan supervisor of schools, who, drawing liberally from his years of experience in the field of education with his fertile opportunities for observation and impressions, delivered an inspiring and illuminating address on "Perseverance."

Promptly at 10 o'clock the solemn and impressive procession of altar boys, officiating clergymen and graduates, the latter attractively gowned in white, their youthful faces partially concealed 'mid the folds of white veils, made its way into the chapel.

The graduates occupied reserved pews near the altar. The notes of an orchestral procession accompanied the young women as they walked down the aisle.

Rev. Joseph Curran was the celebrant of the mass. He was assisted by Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., as deacon and Rev. Francis L. Keenan as sub-deacon. Rev. Michael C. Gilbride was master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary was Rt. Rev. Wm. O'Brien, I.P.M., pastor of St. Patrick's church, and other clergymen.

Diplomas were presented the graduates by Monsignor O'Brien, each young woman stepping to the altar as her name was called by Rev. Fr. Gilbride. There were 15 graduates in the classical course and nine in the commercial course. They were the following young women:

Classical Course: Misses Grace Loyola Barrett, Catherine Agnes Burns, Helen Marjorie Cameron, Estelle Marie Coffey, Margaret Teresa Donohoe, Mary Agnes Dowd, Kathleen Doris Dulligan, Claire Rhondine Lamoureux, Margaret Angelina Leary, Catherine Marie O'Connor, Marie Louise O'Donnell, Lucia Marie Reault, Cecile Alvina Rochelle, Katherine Elizabeth Thomas, Helen Gladys Walker and Mary Welhelmina Young.

Commercial Course: Misses Agnes Rita Burt, Marcella Sears Courtoise, Margaret Mary Coyle, Mary Margaret Flannery, Kathleen Mary Furey, Laura Mary Giguere, Loretta Catherine McNabb, Catherine Gertrude Scanlon and Mary Agnes White.

In his address on "Perseverance," Rev. Fr. Hickey took his text from the exhortation of St. Paul to his disciples, "to show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end."

In opening, Rev. Fr. Hickey emphasized the great blessing the graduates had received in having parents who guided them in their first acts of faith and later, when it came time to share the responsibility of their training with others, entrusted them to the care

MARONEY'S BODY SENT TO HOME

Meads, Accused of Murder, in Jail to Await Action by Grand Jury

Dartmouth Hailmates of Meads Say He Shot Freely When in Mood

HANOVER, N. H., June 17.—Robert T. Meads, of La Grange, Ill., the Dartmouth college student, whose liquor smuggling traffic is alleged to have led to his killing Henry E. Maroney of West Medford, Mass., a fellow student, early yesterday, was a prisoner at the county jail at Woodsville, today, awaiting action by the grand jury on a charge of murder. His companion in flight from the college, Crile N. Wise, of Akron, Ohio, who returned to Hanover when Meads boarded the train for Boston on which he was captured, was held in the local jail as a material witness.

The college authorities had supplied bonds of $1000 each for three other students held as witnesses, Howard W. Whitaker of Somerville, Mass., Maroney's roommate, and companion in the escape which cost him his life; and Richard H. Hart of Chicago, and James C. Chicoit of Bangor, Me., who were with Maroney prior to the shooting. No offer of bonds for Wise was made. College authorities today said that connection of the name of Erwin T. Weis of Hull, Ala., with the case, was due to a confusion of names, and that Weis had no part in the events coupled with Maroney's death or Meads' escape.

Body Sent to Medford
The body of Maroney was sent to his home today, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Maroney, who came here from their home at West Medford yesterday, and by his brother, Walter Maroney, a freshman at the college.

The county officials, under direction of Solicitor J. H. Noonan and with the assistance of Dr. H. S. Kingsford, professor of pathology in the Dartmouth medical school, had performed an autopsy on the body and obtained evidence from all persons known to have any knowledge of the shooting or of incidents connected with it. The county solicitor said his information was virtually complete.

Walls Peppered by Shots

Meads' defense, it is expected, will be prepared under the direction of his father, Albert Meads of Chicago, a lawyer, who was expected to reach here tonight or tomorrow morning.

Hailmates of Meads today discussed peculiarities of the man, including a habit of shooting freely when in a mood, and the county authorities found the walls of his room peppered by shots. Instructors said he had been acting in an odd manner at classes, and from the college officers it was learned that his habits were the subject of investigation several times during the term, especially in connection with troubles due to drinking. But in each instance, Meads was able to clear himself. In his freshman year, when a roommate, Norman P. Arnold, was killed by Meads through the discharge of a rifle, Meads was exonerated by an ante-mortem statement by Arnold, but suffered a partial collapse which necessitated a long rest from studies.

GRADUATION AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

The graduation exercises at the Lowell Normal School will be held in the assembly hall Friday, June 18, at 2 p. m. The program will include singing by the school chorus and the Glee club, an address by Mr. Frank W. Wright of the state department of education and the awarding of diplomas by John J. Mahoney, principal.

These exercises are open to the public and the faculty and students will be glad to welcome as many of their friends as possible.

Of the sisters of Notre Dame that they might receive training under the highest auspices. Throughout their careers, he said, they had been guided by the Catholic church, the inspiration of their parents and the source of devotion and enthusiasm manifested by the sisters of Notre Dame in their work of education and training. The graduates might well be satisfied with the training they had received, he added.

"Now commencement day is at hand and there is a great path opening before you," he continued. "What is to be your guiding rule of life as you enter upon this path? St. Paul told

CAR SHORTAGE SHOWS RELIEF

Railroad and Interstate Commerce Officials Plan Local Investigation

Modification of Drastic Order Already on the Way, it is Said

Further Concessions Hoped for Soon by Chamber of Commerce President

As the result of energetic work yesterday among transportation men and railroad officials in Boston by W. N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, Lowell's critical condition in regard to an absolute shortage of empty freight cars, bids fair to become somewhat adjusted within a day or two.

Today it seems impossible to obtain first hand information as to just what the Boston & Maine road and the Interstate Commerce Commission have in mind relative to the local situation, although it is stated on good authority that an order is on the way whereby practically every empty car in the city is being sent elsewhere, to read 75 per cent. of the cars received, thus allowing Lowell 25 per cent. of the total available.

It was learned this forenoon that R. & M. officials, including Vice-President Pollard, Maintenance of Cars Director Coleman and S. E. Miller, superintendent of transportation, plan a trip to Lowell either by special train or automobile for the purpose of investigating the local situation at close range.

Furthermore, local shippers are hopeful that even greater concessions will be made once the Lowell situation is fully realized by the interstate commerce commission men and that within a comparatively short time there will at least be a fair number of cars available for shipping needs.

While in Boston yesterday, President Goodell went into conference with traffic managers of the associated industries and the Massachusetts chamber of commerce with Harry A. Davis, traffic director of the Boston Wool association and a member of the interstate commission, and S. E. Miller, Boston & Maine superintendent of transportation.

PLAN ADDITION TO THE OLD MANN SCHOOL

In an effort to bring at least temporary relief to the congested conditions prevalent at the Vocational school situated in the old Mann school building, plans are under way for the erection of a 25 by 20-foot addition to the structure which will allow for expansion of some of the rooms now being used as well as several new ones on both floors.

The addition will be built on the Dummer street side of the building, facing Broadway and work will be started as soon as an estimate of cost is prepared in the office of the commissioner of public property and the money voted by the municipal council.

It will be recalled that a great deal of agitation of this matter has occurred during the past few weeks, culminating in the recommendation of the school committee to purchase one of the mills of the Bigelow-Hartford plant for vocational school needs. This proposition was frowned on by the council from the standpoint of excessive cost of purchase and repair and the new addition is the compromise step agreed upon.

SEN. MOSES CALLS ON SEN. HARDING

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Among those calling on Senator Harding at his office today were Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Brandegee of Connecticut, Moses of New Hampshire and Francis of Maryland.

"We unanimously adopted a resolution that Ohio and New Hampshire would go republican this time," said Senator Moses after his visit.

Senator General Nelson A. Miles, retired, was another visitor. He called to congratulate Senator Harding.

HARDING TO SEE ALL LEADERS

Campaign Not to be a "One Man Affair"—Seeks Aid of all Leaders

Policy Announced Today—Hopes to Soon See Sen. Johnson

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Senator Harding formally announced today that his campaign as the republican presidential candidate, would not be a one-man affair; that the aid and advice of every republican leader would be sought. He declared that this would be his policy not only during the campaign, but later, should he be elected president.

"I will see every republican; all republicans look alike to me," said he. Besides his own announcement on the subject, the senator authorized Robert Armstrong, his publicity representative, to say that the "policy of the senator will be to receive and invite the opinion and advice of every republican regardless of what part of the party he belongs to."

"The senator desires not to be a one-man candidate any more than he desires to be a one-man president if elected," said Mr. Armstrong. "Throughout the pre-election campaign, that policy will prevail without change."

Asked if he had seen Senator Johnson of California, Senator Harding said:

"I hope to see all of my colleagues."

"TARRED AND LEAVED" DURING INITIATION

WEST ORANGE, N. J., June 17.—Warrants charging assault and battery were issued today for nine members of the Beta Sigma fraternity of the West Orange high school, as a result of allegations of Dr. Howard Applegate, a dentist of this city, that he was "tarred and leaved" in the woods near here Tuesday night during his "initiation."

Dr. Applegate declared he was blindfolded, stripped, his body greased, tarred and covered with leaves; that he was beaten in the face, that molasses was poured into his shoes, and he was threatened with stoning if he moved. He said he remained in the woods for three hours and then made his way to a pharmacy here.

William Kilch of West Orange, one of the defendants, denied that Dr. Applegate was "tarred and leaved."

"The whole thing seems like more or less of a joke," he added. Dr. Applegate was not dealt with any more severely than any of the other members who previously were initiated.

PROFESSIONAL BURGLAR

Man Found Rifling Cash

Register Caught After Bitter Struggle

SPRINGFIELD, June 17.—George W. Fettes, who the police say is a professional burglar, has served sentences in the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory and Auburn (N. Y.) state prison, was captured in a store here early today by James Moriarty, a clerk, who said he surprised Fettes rifling the cash register. Both men were injured when in the ensuing struggle, they fell through a plate glass window. Moriarty held his man until the police arrived. Fettes confessed, the police say, to making four other store breaks here last night, none of which netted him a large sum.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Report of Financial Condition Shows Department Well Within Appropriation

A report of the financial condition of the city fire department as of the date of June 1, given out today by Commissioner John F. Salmon, shows the department to be operating well within its appropriation and with no evident need of a supplementary budget.

The balance on hand on June 1, was $195,664.01, the difference between an appropriation of $330,000 plus transfers amounting to $237.50 for an asset total of $333,337.50, and expenditures amounting to $137,573.49 during the months of January, February, March, April and May.

The total payroll for these five months totalled $120,772.52, with monthly expenditures by months as follows:

January, $22,277.56; February, $25,862.24; March, $40,559.94; April, $33,555.63; May, $14,445.54.

The expenditures for March were augmented by large purchases of coal, hay and grain.

In discussing the report today, Commissioner Salmon expressed the belief that the department would continue to operate well within its appropriation throughout the year, under careful management. He anticipates an even greater reduction of expenses when new motor apparatus automatically removes 11 more horses from the department and does not believe that any expenditures for motor repair will anywhere near equal or approximate the amount of money it costs to keep horses, which, he says, continue an enormous expense even when standing idle.

GREAT FLOUR MILLS ON THE MARNE IN FLAMES

MEUX, France, June 17.—The great flour mills on the Marne just outside Meux, took fire early today and all hope of saving them was abandoned, the firemen confining their efforts to an attempt to save adjacent buildings. The celebrated water mills which were built at least a century ago, survived the battle of the Marne. They were constructed on pile work in the center of the river. The mills were filled with wheat and flour valued at several million francs, which will be a total loss.

PLATFORM OF THE COMMITTEE OF 48

DETROIT, June 17.—The Michigan branch of the committee of 48, in its state convention here June 15 took no action on a resolution proposing recognition of the present Russian government, as was erroneously reported immediately after the convention, according to the state executive committee. It was explained that the misunderstanding apparently grew out of the debate on a resolution declaring against interference in the domestic affairs of foreign nations.

"The committee of 48 platform is a domestic platform, on American economic affairs, and has not yet concerned itself with international affairs in any way," the executive committee statement said.

The committee certified 42 delegates to the national convention.

AMERICAN BEATS BRITISH VETERAN

LONDON, June 17.—William M. Johnston of San Francisco, United States singles champion, defeated M. J. G. Ritchie, the veteran English internationalist, in the fifth round of the London lawn tennis championship tournament here today. Johnston won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

William T. Hilden of Philadelphia, the only other American remaining in the tournament, also was victorious in the fifth round. He beat B. L. C. Norton, 6-2, 7-5.

A. F. of L. Endorses Government Ownership With Democratic Operation

Charge of "Steam Roller" Hurlled at Chair—Vote 29,059 to 8349

MONTREAL, June 17.—Government ownership with democratic operation of American railroads was endorsed today by the American Federation of Labor convention here after one of the bitterest fights on record.

When Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation took the floor and announced that he would support government ownership of the railroads, there was a demonstration by the rail workers and their supporters.

Secretary Morrison declared that he was only supporting the federation's reconstruction program and the executive council's report to the last convention.

"We hear a lot of self-determination," he added. "This thought is being sunk into the heads of men, women and children of all countries. We have here a proposition from all rail workers asking assistance in securing government ownership of railroads because they believe their trials and tribulations under government ownership will be far less than they have been in the past or will be in the future under private ownership."

Roll call showed that government ownership was endorsed by a vote of 29,059 to 8349.

Changes of "Steamroller"

Disorder interrupted the roll call several times when delegations of the various crafts divided on their votes. Charges of "steamroller" were hurled at the chair by James Duncan of Seattle and other delegates when it denied the right of roll call to delegations that split on the question.

Applause and "boos" and hisses alternately greeted delegation votes.

The building trade delegations presented almost a solid front against government ownership, supporting Gompers and administration forces.

The railroad workers were supported.

GRAMMAR LEAGUE

Baseball Teams to Have Banquet Tomorrow Night

All members of the baseball teams of the Lowell Grammar league of the city will attend a banquet tomorrow night at the Community club when the baseball season for the schools will be officially closed. Major Walter Jeyes and Miss Nellie Horner, who have directed the physical training in the schools will be in direct charge of the affair. The members of the school baseball committee, Leo King of the Edson school, Thomas Ginty of the Butler, Murray Cummings of the Lincoln and W. W. Dennett of the Morrey, will be present in company with Supt. Molloy of the school department and Messrs. Delaney, Markham, Rooney, Keyes and Pearson of the school board.

Major Jeyes promises a very interesting and lively meeting, with some rapid-fire addresses for some of the men present. He will act as toastmaster. It is possible that the cup for the champion Edson team will be presented at the banquet.

GRADUATION EXERCISES
Westford Academy Graduates
One of the Largest Classes
in its History

One of the largest classes in its history was graduated from Westford academy Tuesday afternoon. It contained 14 members. The graduation exercises were held in the town hall, the diplomas being presented by Principal Rostenbush, who delivered an interesting address. Prizes were presented by Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher. The teachers at the school during the year have been, in addition to the principal, Mrs. L. Crane, Mary J. O'Connor and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth.

Prizes given by the trustees of the academy to be awarded to the students attaining the highest rank in scholarship during their second, third and fourth years at the school were presented to the following named: First prize, $10, to Henry Daniel Harrington; second prize, $5, to Raymond Agnew Wall; third prize, $3, to Conrad E. Cote; honorable mention, Annie P. Precious. Prizes were also awarded to first year students as follows: Highest rank, $5, Alice V. Swenson; honorable mention, Raymond Shen.

The exhortatory was delivered by Julia Donnelly, who in greeting the audience, said "there is really no sweeter word in the English language than 'welcome' and we want you to believe that we are saying it from our hearts."

Miss Annie P. Precious read the class will which contained many humorous allusions and was couched in legal phraseology.

The valedictory was delivered by Miss Mildred Precious at the close of an essay on "The Character of the Pilgrims."

Honorable mention was made of an essay on the Pilgrims by Miss Yvonne M. Ansell.

Morton Rice Seaver, Yvonne Marion Ansell, Conrad Edmund Joseph Cote, Julia Welsh Donnelly, Webster Elbert Flagg, Frederick Collins Griffin, John Albert Martin, Mildred Veronica Precious, Annie Pamela Precious, Edna May Sargent, Dorothy Gertrude Shugrue, Raymond Agnew Hall, Forrest Sherman White, Marian Martha Woodbury.

Previous to the graduation exercises a meeting of the board of trustees of the academy was held at which the report of the treasurer was presented, showing a deficit for the year of $155.70. It was voted to appropriate $50 for an alumni reunion in 1921, and $25 for scholarship prizes.

The following officers were elected: President, Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher; vice president, Judge Frederic A. Fisher; secretary, Captain Sherman H. Fletcher; treasurer, Abiel J. Abbot; auditor, Charles O. Prescott; standing committee, Captain Sherman H. Fletcher, John C. Abbot and Henry V. Hildreth; committee on loans and finances, Abiel J. Abbot, J. Adams Bartlett and Julian A. Cameron.

BIG CHECK FOR POLISH REPUBLIC

The New England efforts to secure subscriptions for the $50,000,000 Liberty loan drive of the republic of Poland are meeting with good response. One of the first big subscriptions was taken by the Hanover Trust company of Boston through its vice president and treasurer, Mr. Henry H. Chmielewski, a native of Poland. The amount of the check was $50,000. Mr. Chmielewski, in commenting on the drive, said: "I sincerely hope that every person of Polish extraction in New England buys a bond of the new Polish republic. We should be very proud of the wonderful fight that Poland is making for orderly government. Aside from the patriotic reason, I look upon the Polish bonds as a good investment. Poland as a nation will meet her obligations. Her indebtedness is less than that of any nation in Europe. As an investment the Polish bonds appeal to me as being safe and sound."

SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTINGS
The Sunday school class of St. John's church will go to Willow Dale on Saturday, provided the weather is good, for their annual outing. The journey to the grounds will be made in the morning and the return early in the evening. Those who will be in charge are: Herbert L. Bishop, Supt. of the Sunday school; Carl E. Burrows, Wallace Logan, Miss Mabel Wilson, Miss Edna Parr, Miss Gladys Parson and Miss E. Shepard.

On Saturday also the Sunday school class of St. Anne's church will travel to Lakeview for their outing where they will spend the greater part of the day enjoying sports and taking in the amusements of the park. The pupils will be under the direction of the rector, Rev. Appleton Grannis.

Federal Electric

ANOTHER CARLOAD

ANOTHER CARLOAD

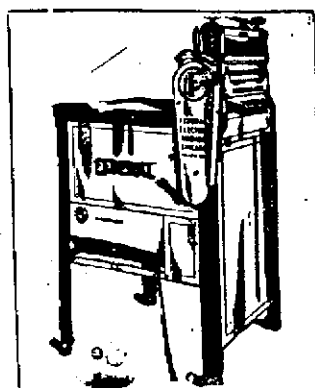

A MESSAGE TO THE WISE HOUSEKEEPER

There was a parade in Lowell yesterday, not of a circus, but of a carload of FEDERAL ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINES, which came directly from the factory to Lowell, these household necessities being consigned to FAVREAU BROS., Inc. These machines were placed on trucks and taken to the storehouse of the firm in Lakeview avenue, via the principal streets of the city. The parade was for the purpose of letting you wise housekeepers know that the famous Federal is now available after a long delay in the shipping due to freight congestions.

The Federal Electric Washing Machine, which is a product of this country, is known the world over as one of the best—if not the best—of its kind on the market and hundreds of housekeepers in this city are now enjoying its benefits. The Federal brings happiness in a home, comfort to the wife and helps reduce expenses, for it is a time and money saver. Many who have a Federal at home say this machine is a blessing upon the housekeeper, while others go so far as to say that a home is not a home without a Federal.

Demonstrations are being given daily at the store, but if you prefer, send your name and address and the qualities of the Federal will be shown you right in your own home.

P. S.—If you are thinking of buying an electric washing machine, you will make no mistake in selecting the Federal—and give your order now while the machine is available, for it is not known when the next shipment will arrive in Lowell.

WAR RECORD SAVES HIM FROM LONG JAIL TERM

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—An excellent record made by Anthony Telenky while serving overseas during the war saved him yesterday from a long prison term for raising $10 notes to $50. The prisoner was wounded 11 times and imposing sentence Judge Thompson deducted a year for each wound. He was given one year in the federal prison at Atlanta. The judge told the defendant his offense called for the maximum sentence of 15 years, but that he could not overlook his fine war record.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN ELWELL MURDER CASE

NEW YORK, June 17.—Important developments were expected today in the investigation into the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, sportsman and whist expert, Deputy District Attorney John E. Joyce declared following an all-night conference with detectives.

Mr. Joyce would not disclose the basis for his prediction other than "detectives have been sent to places out of town besides Kentucky." Efforts were being made today, the police declared, to communicate with William H. Pendleton, said to be Mr. Elwell's closest friend, who lives in a suburb. It was learned during the investigation last night that a telephone connection had been made between Mr. Elwell's home and that of his friend early on the morning of the murder.

WRINKLES THAT FORM AROUND EYES AND MOUTH

This Good Looking Young Woman Advises—Old Time Recipe of Butter-milk Cream in New Way, a Gentle Massage with Flaxseed Before Retiring All That is Necessary.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary Butter-milk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. To prove this to your complete satisfaction, obtain a small quantity of Howard's Butter-milk Cream at Carter & Sherburne Co., Fred Howard, 157 Central St., or at any good drug or toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. Manufactured by Howard Bros., Chemical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

VITALITAS GIVES "PEP"

"Pep" is a slang word but it is very expressive and it tells in three letters the results people throughout America are getting from the use of Natural Vitalitas, the greatest medicine of them all. Vitalitas has no dope or harmful drugs added to it, but is rich in free iron and other minerals in solution compounded by nature which are so necessary for a healthy, vigorous body. For cleansing the system of poisons and stimulating nerve and vital forces Vitalitas is without an equal. Diseased conditions are eliminated and health and strength result. For indigestion, Rheumatism, Biliousness, Kidney, Liver and Stomach ills it has been found effective where all other remedies fail. It will do you more good than any tonic you have ever taken. RED CROSS OUT TO SAVE BABIES

The local chapter of the Red Cross is but following the line of work suggested by the national organization in making it possible for extra baby nurses to be established in Lowell and the co-operation between the Lowell Guild and the Red Cross and board of health is very close in this particular.

The Red Cross nurses are devoting all their attention to the district bounded by Dutton street, Moody street and the Merrimack river, and are slowly gaining the confidence of the mothers who are beginning to realize that these quiet, competent young women can help them solve many problems about their children, always advising that the children be taken to a doctor for consultation for any serious trouble.

It is sometimes in simple ways that the nurse can be of the greatest help by advising the mother how to coax the child to eat the proper food as is plainly and interestingly set forth in the following incident related by one of the nurses:

"Oh, Nurse, Mary will not eat any green vegetables as the doctor at the clinic, said that she must. She pushes her plate away every time I give her any." Thus spoke the mother of Mary, a charming child, two years old. Mary's little legs were not straight. The doctor at the Red Cross clinic had told Mary's mother that she needed to eat green vegetables.

"What have you given Mary?" asked the nurse. "I gave her a little asparagus." "Nothing else?" "Oh, no, she wouldn't eat that." "Didn't you try giving her green beans from the garden, spinach or peas, or beet greens or carrots?"

"Why, no, Nurse, I thought if she wouldn't eat the asparagus, she wouldn't eat any of the others." "Well," said the nurse, "you know what is best for your baby and you must try to persuade her to eat the food which she needs to make her grow strong and straight. Did you ever try having a party on her own little dishes and giving her the things she does like?" "No." "Then the next time you wish her to eat asparagus, give it to her as a party." "Many a mother," continued the nurse, "having children from 2 to 5 years old, has found when she went to the Red Cross clinic held on Monday at 4 p. m. for children living in the district surrounded by Dutton street to Moody street and Moody street to the Merrimack river on the west and north, that one or more of her children had bow-legs or diseased tonsils or some other defective condition of which she was unaware.

These clinics are held for the purpose of weighing, measuring and examining the children. Why does the Red Cross do this? Because sixty babies under a year of age died in the tiny section bounded by Cabot and Moody streets and the Merrimack river last year.

Mothers and fathers, friends and neighbors, what are you going to do to prevent such a terrible loss of babies this year? You must do your part toward keeping them well. It might be your baby next. You say, you don't know what to feed your baby. Then go to the Red Cross clinic at 4 p. m. and find out. There, the nurse who has already visited you in your home will weigh your baby to see whether it is gaining or losing weight and the doctor will tell you what the baby may eat to keep well.

If your baby is sick, telephone 2124 and ask the Red Cross nurse to come and tell you whether your baby is sick enough to call the doctor. Very often, a mother thinks an illness too slight to make a call from the doctor necessary, when her child is really seriously ill. Don't take a chance! Your darling baby is too precious! Help the Red Cross to help you and your baby and your older children!

JOHNSON SILENT ON REQUEST TO RUN

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Senator Johnson of California, who is here, seeking to recover the effects of being run over by the Old Guard steam roller at Chicago, continues impervious to all "smoking-out" processes. He refuses to indicate one way or the other whether he would look at a third-party nomination for the presidency or to reveal his intentions regarding the supporting of Harding.

Nothing is being said by Johnson concerning the petition circulated out in Oregon and signed by some 5000 people, urging him to run as an independent candidate. Neither does Johnson say anything regarding the swallowing of Harding by Lenroot and Kenyon.

Senator Thomas of Colorado, a denigrator, declared yesterday that all political signs point to a "convention of revolt" after the big democratic blow-out at San Francisco is over. Thomas sees La Follette looming up as the probable leader.

"The parties," said Senator Thomas "have hardly a real issue between them except their own mutual hostility. In such a situation the time is ripe for the birth of a new party."

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who is packing his bag for San Francisco, declares the republican national ticket "is just what was to be expected."

"The republicans in nominating Harding and Coolidge have taken the line of least resistance," said Senator Walsh. They did the same thing when they framed their platform.

"Whether the democrats can defeat the republican national ticket in November will depend upon the candidates nominated by the democrats in San Francisco and upon the platform they write."

WOULD END FREIGHT JAM

Union Officer Asks Restoration of New York Marine and R. R. Strikers

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Restoration of striking marine and railroad workers to their old jobs was recommended to the interstate commerce commission yesterday as a means of relieving freight congestion.

The recommendation was made by James Reilly of the International Coastwise Longshoremen's association, T. B. Healy of the Marine Workers' union of New York, and Frank Boland of Jersey City, who spoke for striking railroad employees of New York and other cities.

While the commission was hearing the representatives of the strikers and grappling with freight congestion and coal shortage problems generally, J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal association, issued a statement protesting against any embargo on coal exports.

Mr. Morrow placed the responsibility for the existing coal shortage, said to be especially acute in New England, on the commission. An embargo on exports, which government officials have been discussing, he asserted, was "wrong in principle and would not cure the present difficulty." The only remedy, he added, is furnishing of more cars to the mines.

Mr. Boland told the commission that if striking railroad men were restored to their places, which he said now were filled with inexperienced workers, and the seniority rights of the strikers preserved, the freight jam should be relieved immediately.

He charged that the railroads were paying strike-breakers $25 and $30 a day in comparison with the regular rate of $5.90, and that the government eventually would have to foot the bill.

The United States now has 19 national parks.

MINERS ARE STARVING

Average But One Day's Work a Week Because of Car Shortage

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 17.—Though miners are receiving the highest wages ever paid them and the demand for coal is far in excess of the supply, many Ohio miners are actually suffering from hunger, according to George W. Savage, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio United Mine Workers.

Mr. Savage has received an appeal for aid from miners at Evesville, Guernsey county. The miners say they have been averaging only one day's work a week for some time owing to the car shortage.

According to Mr. Savage, mines furnishing railroad fuel are able to operate on full time and he severely criticizes the interstate commerce commission for alleged discrimination. "We have been trying for years to get an equitable distribution of cars," Mr. Savage said. "The interstate commerce commission has talked but never acted."

ONE KILLED AND HEAVY DAMAGE BY STORM

NEW YORK, June 17.—One man was killed during a storm of tornado-like intensity that swept over Tottenville, Staten Island, late yesterday, uprooting trees, blowing down telegraph and telephone poles, electric wires, fences, and demolishing a small unoccupied hotel. The roofs of the Hotel Brunswick and Tottenville hotel were ripped off and a dozen frame buildings were also wrecked. As a result of damage to electric light poles the town was in darkness last night. The station platform of the Staten Island railroad was lifted into a field 1000 feet away. Motor boats, coal barges and other craft were torn from their moorings and blown to sea. Streets and cellars were flooded and residents imprisoned by wreckage until released by police, firemen and volunteers.

Electrical storms in the central states caused a tie-up of the wires of the Western Union Telegraph Co. for several hours, the company reported.

The worst damage was caused around Harrisburg. Blowouts in fuse boxes also occurred in Philadelphia and in sections of Ohio. Service to all cities in the east was badly delayed.

WATER POWER BILL

Pres. Wilson's Action on
Announced Today

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Wilson's action on the water power bill and 10 other measures passed at the close of the last session of congress and when Attorney General Palmer ruled, "could be signed within 10 days" was expected to be announced today. Included among the measures are resolutions repealing war time laws and authorizing the president to appoint a commission to confer with Canadian authorities regarding restrictive orders against the export of pulp wood which must be approved before midnight.

The time limit on the waterpower bill expired last Friday midnight but inquiries at the White House, state department and the Capitol have failed to disclose the action taken by the president. It was learned at the state department that the bill still was at the White House.

BABY SWINDLED

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 17.—The police again today took up the search for 13 months old Blakeley Coughlin, stolen from his crib on June 2. At the same time they were looking for a person known only as "the crank," who swindled George H. Coughlin, the baby's father, out of $12,000, which was demanded for the return of the little fellow.

After receiving several letters and telephone calls from "the crank" Coughlin became convinced he was the abductor and asked the police to withdraw from the case so he personally could negotiate with the writer. "The crank" at first demanded only $5000 ransom but later doubled it. On Monday he called Mr. Coughlin on the telephone and gave him instructions where to leave the money. The child would be returned in a taxicab, "the crank" said within 24 hours.

Mr. Coughlin said he had complied with every demand of the "kidnapper" and felt confident the baby would be returned Tuesday night. Both he and Mrs. Coughlin remained up all night. At 3 o'clock the next afternoon he drove to the spot where he left the money and found it gone. He then gave up hope, he said, and realized that he had been defrauded.

With the latest developments in the case, both the police and the Coughlins have abandoned the theory that the baby was kidnapped for ransom. They are inclined to believe that revenge was the motive. Charles Eller, chief of the Norristown police, said he had a definite clue and expected results within a day or two.

PLEADS GUILTY OF

PLYMOUTH, June 17.—Samuel B. Rippey, East Bridgewater, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder Lillian Hatchfield in Whitman last spring when she told him she had decided she did not care for him. Judge Thayer made a long investigation as to the antecedents of the young man and the causes leading up to the attempt on the life of the girl.

George Hatchfield, father of the girl, quoted Rippey as saying at the instant before shooting, "If I can't have you, no one else shall. I'll fix you," and then came the shots as he fired one bullet into her body, and turning the revolver against himself, made two failures at suicide.

No disposition was made. Judge Thayer saying, "I am going to take this case under consideration. I may be able to render a decision tomorrow night."

QUERY MOB LEADERS

Arrests Expected as Result of Lynching of Three Negroes at Duluth

DULUTH, Minn., June 17.—The first arrests for complicity in the lynching of three negroes who were taken from the authorities Tuesday night after the police station had been stormed by a mob of nearly 10,000 persons, were expected today. Several persons believed to have been leaders of the mob will be examined, according to Warren Greene, county attorney. Arrests will be made on charges of "inciting riot," he said.

A special grand jury will convene

"I Never Travel Without It"

"In the fall of 1919, I was traveling in the West and was very uncomfortable for some time. I was suffering from indigestion and was unable to eat. I was told to try Bell's Hot Water and I did so. I found it to be a most effective remedy and I have since used it whenever I have been troubled with indigestion. I can now eat and sleep as well as ever."

today in an attempt to place responsibility for the lynching. It also will be asked to return indictments against several of 14 negroes, who are held at the county jail under double guard, charged with having criminally assaulted an 18-year-old white girl Monday night.

IN CHELMSFORD CENTRE

Commencement Exercises for Class of 1920 Held in the Town Hall

Commencement exercises for the class of 1920, Chelmsford Centre grade school, were held last evening in the town hall, which was filled to overflowing with parents and friends of the 31 graduates. The hall was artistically decorated for the occasion with the class colors of blue and buff, while the class motto, "We Build the Ladder by Which We Climb," was set above the stage in old English letters of blue. The class gift to the school was a handsome picture of Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, the presentation being made by Miss Elizabeth Parker, while the acceptance was by the principal, Miss Susan P. McFarlin. The evening's program was as follows:

Invocation, Rev. L. L. Greene
Essay, Ships Famous in Song and Story, Horace Ralph Gaudette
Recitation, Popples, Hanson
Recitation, Beatrice Peterson
Song, Native Land, Jordan
Essay, Life of Theodore Roosevelt, Andrew Donald Trilles
Recitation, King Robert of Sicily, Loucifellow

Essay, The Story of a River, Corlune Gertrude House
Blanche Katherine Richardson
Presentation of Class Gift, Elizabeth Maria Parker
Presentation of Diplomas, Mr. Herbert Waterhouse
Song, America, Class and Audience
Benediction, Rev. John G. Lovell
Class honors in scholarship were won by seven of the young people, the first being Miss Esther Mary Thayer; second, Miss Beatrice Ingeborg Peterson; third, Andrew Donald Trilles. The rank of the four other winning honors was practically the same and they were Horace Ralph Gaudette, Grace Eva Paignton, Corlune Gertrude House and Elizabeth Maria Parker. Five of the class had a record of perfect attendance: Harold Stanley Dawson, Raymond Arthur Reid, Hazel Gertrude Shinkwin, Esther Mary Thayer and Elizabeth Maria Parker. Miss Esther Reid acted as accompanist for the chorus numbers, which were led by the supervisor of music, Miss M. Marion Adams.

Members of the class, which is the second to have exercises of graduation, were:

SEVEN BARKS

Nearly half a century is a long time to faithfully serve the public, but that is what SEVEN BARKS, one of nature's greatest remedies to mankind, has been doing.

SEVEN BARKS has not been extensively advertised, but has enjoyed a wonderful and steady sale for many, many years, and purely upon its merits.

To those who may not be acquainted with the value of SEVEN BARKS we would say that it is absolutely a harmless and remarkable remedy, made from the extracts of different kinds of roots and herbs, every one of which has great medicinal value, scientifically blended, and for many, many years has been a reliable remedy for indigestion, constipation, liver, kidney and stomach disorders.

SEVEN BARKS has saved thousands of families large doctor's bills, as well as untold suffering. It is inexpensive—only 60 cents per bottle—which will last a long time, as the dose is from 15 to 20 drops in a little water after meals.

There is hardly a family but what some member is more or less frequently troubled with biliousness, indigestion, liver or kidney disorder. If you have never tried SEVEN BARKS, do not fail to do so, and watch the rapid and wonderful results.

Don't put off asking your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. If he does not happen to have it on hand, he will get it for you.—Adv.

MAKING CHILDREN EAT

Nothing is ever gained by forcing a child to eat when it refuses food. Make sure that nothing is being eaten between meals to destroy the natural appetite and if your growing child does not have a healthful craving for good, honest food at meal-times, there is something the matter. Threats of punishment if the child does not eat will not correct the difficulty.

A ruf appetite in a growing child, especially if the patient is pale, languid, nervous, irritable, and without ambition, usually means that the blood is thin. A non-alcoholic tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is demanded.

During her teens a girl lays the foundation for her future health. Lack of blood at this time may rob her of robust, healthy womanhood. It is of the greatest importance to administer to girls who grow pale and weak a safe tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills meet every requirement of the most careful mother. They make the blood rich and red and it carries renewed health and strength to every part of the body.

Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

erson, Raymond Arthur Reid, Blanche Katherine Richardson, Hazel Gertrude Shinkwin, Ruth Olive Staveley, Alva Winona Taylor, Esther Mary Thayer, Andrew Donald Trilles, Alice Belle Wilson, Arnold William Worden.

At the close of the exercises those present were given a good opportunity to inspect some of the work performed by the pupils of the school during the year. An exhibition of the work was held in the lower hall under the direction of Miss Lydia Desormaux, supervisor of drawing.

CHEER WILSON

Bonar Law Says President Qualified to Act

LONDON, June 17.—Whether President Wilson is qualified to delimit the Armenian boundaries in his private capacity evoked a declaration from Mr. Bonar Law in the house of commons yesterday that in the opinion of the British government Mr. Wilson is qualified. The statement drew cheers from the house.

The subject was raised by Horatio Bottomley, who asked if there was any precedent for the head of a foreign state being invited in a personal capacity to interfere in international complications. He asked what were Pres. Wilson's qualifications in his personal capacity and also "Have we not had enough of such in his personal capacity?"

FRUIT CANNERS TO GET SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 17.—Distribution of sugar to preserve manufacturers and canning concerns, pro rata according to refinery capacity, was determined upon at a conference here yesterday between A. W. Riley, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer, Marcus Blakemore of Louisville, Ky., president of the National Preservers and Fruit Products association, and representatives of two large sugar refineries.

Mr. Blakemore wired the 67 members of his association, which is said to represent 90 per cent. of the jam and jelly output in America, that "the sugar crisis is ended, as refineries have agreed promptly to supply sugar where needs are urgent."

He pointed out at the conference that sugar represents 60 per cent. of finished jam and jelly products. He predicted that as a result of the refineries' agreement there would be an increase of 40 per cent. in the output of those products next winter.

HELD SPECIAL ELECTION
William Kelley and Jeremiah K. Chandler were the choice of the citizens of Tewksbury at the special election held in the town hall, Centre village, yesterday, to fill the vacancies on the board of selectmen created by the resignation of John T. Gale and the removal to Chelmsford of Harry L. Shedd. There were 214 votes cast and the result of the election was as follows: William Kelley, 144; Jeremiah K. Chandler, 117. The other two candidates, Edward H. King and W. K. Meachin received 50 and 43 votes, respectively.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F.R.C.S., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles."

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless color to fade off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has mercurized wax; one ounce usually is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning with soap.

Refuses Offer of German Chancellorship Tendered by Karl Trimborn

PARIS, June 17.—Dr. Mayer von Kaufbeuren, German charge d'affaires here has refused the offer of the German chancellorship, tendered him by Karl Trimborn, leader of the German Centre party, who is trying to form the new German ministry to be organized as a result of the recent election.

Dr. Mayer explained his refusal today by declaring he considered the mission he has to fulfil in Paris as too important for him to give up at this juncture.

Berlin despatches on Wednesday indicated that the success of Herr Trimborn in his efforts to form a government was thought to hinge largely upon the acceptance by Dr. Mayer of the chancellorship. The Post had previously been refused by Konstantin Kehrenbach, president of the reich-

SAYS BUSINESS MEN FAIL TO CO-OPERATE PROPERLY WITH FARMER

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—American business men were charged with failure to co-operate properly with the farmer, in an address by Henry Gessenbeler, Jr., of this city, president of the organization, at the first annual convention of the United States junior chamber of commerce here today. Lack of interest in encouraging development of inland waterways also was charged against the business men by speakers who suggested that congress appropriate $500,000,000 for the development of these natural carriers.

Sixty-six New York firms and more from other cities, it is reported, have asked the Russian Soviet government to resume trade relations with them.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Fullen, Carpenter, 135F Marcellus Avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation. —Adv.

DOWN TOWN POSTOFFICE

Government Has Not Yet
Acquired Site for Financial
Postoffice

"I am confident that Lowell will yet have its financial postoffice in the center of the business district," Postmaster John J. Meehan announced to a Sun reporter today. "The matter is still under consideration by the post-office department and a final decision may be reached at any time. No authoritative information can be given out as it is the policy of the government to avoid publicity in such matters while they are in a state of uncertainty."

When Postmaster Meehan recently advertised for bids from property owners for furnishing a site for the new postal station in the business section, in or near Merrimack square, no offers were received. This, however, it is known, did not end the matter, and it is understood that since several available sites have been placed at the government's disposal.

The new station, if it is established, will be officially known as a "financial" station and will be one of a very few of its class in the cities of New England outside of Boston. It will differ from the "contract" stations that are maintained in stores in that it will be a complete postoffice in all of its departments with the exception that there will be no carrier service, although, according to Postmaster Meehan, this may later be added.

An official, to be designated by the postmaster, will be in charge of the station and there will be a complete staff of clerks and assistants under his direction. Stamps and stamped paper of all kinds will be on sale; letters will be registered, money orders issued and parcel post packages accepted. The hours that the prospective office may be kept open have not yet been considered.

Postmaster Meehan is confident that such an office as proposed would receive an extensive patronage and believes that the amount of business transacted there might in time exceed that handled at the central office.

If the postoffice department decides to establish the new station it will probably require from a month to six weeks, and possibly longer, to get the

Acids in Stomach
Cause IndigestionCreate Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food acids, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and many do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drug store a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Liggett's Riker-Jaynes' Drug Stores.

NEW ITALIAN CABINET
NOW IN OFFICE

ROME, June 16.—Premier Giolitti's administration which took office today is based on the old party of the Left, with its sub-divisions, the Liberal Democrats and the radicals. To the former belong the premier, Francesco Tedesco, minister of finance; Signor Peano, minister of public works; Signor Raineri, minister of liberated provinces; and Luigi Rossi, minister of colonies, while Signor Alessio, minister of industry; Signor Pera, minister of justice; and Pasquillo Vassallo, minister of posts, are members of the latter wing of the party.

WANT BIRD TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

BOSTON, June 17.—A definite proposal to Charles Sumner Bird that he become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor against Lieutenant-Governor Cox was made yesterday by Robert M. Washburn, Joseph Walker and Grafton D. Cushing. In a letter to Mr. Bird these three republicans, all of whom are directors of the Roosevelt club of Massachusetts, urged the Walpole manufacturer to be a candidate because he is a business man and because, they say, he is the leader of the followers of Roosevelt in Massachusetts.

Mr. Bird, who had not received the letter last night, declined to make any comment on the situation.

Don't Spoil Your Hair
By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

Caused by gas, tend to make one nervous, depressed and irritable. If conditions such as described affect you, do not hesitate but go at once to the nearest drug store and procure Sister Mary's Compound. Sister Mary's Compound is a laxative, containing ingredients which, for medicinal value, were used and prescribed by physicians for hundreds of years. Leading chemists have pronounced it a most valuable household remedy, and one of the most effective preparations procurable for stomach and lung troubles. Contains no alcohol or narcotics. Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. BON MARCHE OUTING

Preparations are now being made at the Bon Marche for the annual outing and picnic to Nantasket beach to be held this year on July 15. At a recent meeting of the clerks the following committee on arrangements was appointed: Morton Walker, Frank Sullivan, Joseph Yarrar and John Foley. The members of the outing committee will go by train to Boston, then to Rowe's wharf and from there to Nantasket by boat. Arrangements for the dinner have not yet been made. Sports and games will be staged at the beach.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK

B. & A. EXPRESS

BOSTON, June 17.—In the opinion of the Boston & Albany railroad, a deliberate attempt was made Tuesday night to wreck the southwestern express from Albany to Boston near the Sunderland bridge in Worcester.

Investigation has shown that not only was the pitch bar, which caused the derailment of the baggage car and stopping of the express, hurled from the bridge as the locomotive of an earlier train was passing beneath, but the tie plates which had been distributed along the roadbed in anticipation of repairs were placed on the track ahead of the train.

The stopping of the express, in consequence of the derailment of the baggage car, resulted in the train being run by a Worcester-Boston local which was following behind and injuries to more than a score of passengers.

Investigation into the accident is being made by the officials of the company jointly with the interstate commerce inspector and the public service commission inspector to definitely place the responsibility.

Statement by the Railroad

"The Boston & Albany officials this afternoon became convinced that the derailment of the baggage car on train No. 18 on Tuesday evening was the result of an attempt to wreck the train," said a statement issued last evening by the company. They base this conclusion upon the discovery of several tie plates which had been placed on the rails ahead of the train. "The claw-bar, which was the immediate cause of the derailment, has been identified as a part of the regular track equipment of that section of the Boston & Albany railroad, but how it got to this point cannot be stated, because no men had been working in this immediate vicinity for several days. The track was patrolled by the regular track walker on Tuesday. He states that he saw no bar, but the tie plates had been distributed along the road for installation.

"Engineer Marshall Newton of train No. 35, which passed the Hamilton street bridge on Tuesday at 7.30 p. m., heard something strike on top of the cab of his engine while passing under the bridge. He called the attention of his fireman to it, who replied that he thought it was a stone, as he had seen persons on the bridge. The marks on the cab show that the object that hit the cab was a claw-bar, which was later involved in the derailment of the baggage car on train No. 18, which occurred at 8.22 o'clock the same evening. Train No. 15 was the first train that passed through this section after train No. 35.

"Further investigation confirms the report made by the Boston & Albany railroad that the two automatic block signals involved in the accident were, and are now, functioning properly. The rails which had been placed on the relay boxes of these two automatic signals at 3 a. m. on Wednesday were released by the interstate commerce commission inspector on Wednesday forenoon.

This Leaves the Skin Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talks)

A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and after about 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delatone.—Adv.

VIOLATIONS OF THE AUTO LIGHT LAW

Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department wishes to serve his last warning upon those delinquents in the auto light law and states that violators of that ordinance will be liable to the full penalty of the law in the future. Efforts are being made to relieve traffic congestion and danger in the business streets, but one of the gravest dangers from motor vehicles is the lack of front or tail signal lights. Autos parked on any street without lights at night time are considered obstructions by the superintendent and will be so treated. All obstructions in the street are required, by law, to have warning lights. The superintendent states that in spite of repeated warnings and other vehicles are parked on public streets night after night without lights, when they should at least have a small tail light. He says also that he realizes the great strain put upon a battery to furnish lights when a machine is stationary, but that all that is necessary is an oil lamp.

The law in this respect is in part as follows: "Every vehicle whether stationary or in motion on any public highway or bridge shall have attached to it a light or lights so displayed as to be visible from the front and rear. They must be lighted during the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise. This law does not apply to such vehicles as are propelled by hand or to those which are loaded with hay or straw."

"PADDY THE BEAR" SHOT BY CHICAGO GUNMEN

CHICAGO, June 17.—Chicago's gang war was renewed today with the shooting of "Paddy the Bear" Ryan by five gunmen, who fled in an automobile. Hospital physicians said Ryan would die.

"Paddy the Bear" owned a saloon in which a policeman was recently killed by a gunman, and was also one of those held in connection with the recent murder of Edward Coleman, labor leader.

PROPOSITION TO HAVERHILL STRIKERS

HAVERHILL, June 17.—The board of directors of the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers Association submitted a proposition today to the General Officers and Union leaders of the Shoe Workers' Protective Union, enumerating shop conditions, price lists and methods under which they are prepared to do business. Statistics of conditions and prices in other shoe cities have been compiled by the local shoe men, who declare that the deadline in labor costs has been reached here. A uniform expiration of price lists, grading of the shoe factories into their respective grades, is embraced in the proposition now before the local union. No reduction of wages is proposed by the shoe men, but they ask protection against future increases to enable safe competition with other centres. Herbert H. Hicks, president of the Manufacturers' association, presided; George H. Carter of the Gale Shoe Co. was spokesman. Joseph C. Goyette received the proposition from the manufacturers and will report action of the union before June 25.

WRECK VICTIM ON DANGEROUS LIST

WORCESTER, June 17.—Joseph Lyons of Allston, who was fireman on the Boston & Albany local train which ran into the rear of the express Tuesday night near Lake park, in which nearly 50 men and women were injured, has been placed on the dangerous list in City hospital, but all the other victims are reported to be improving in condition.

In searching for the cause of the wreck today, the railroad police directed their attention to a "hobo" camp that was discovered in the bushes a short distance from the scene of the accident. This place showed signs of recent occupancy, but it was deserted today.

YACHT RACE CALLED OFF
NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—The ninth race in the series between the Resolute and Vanitie to determine which shall defend the America's cup off Sandy Hook next month was again postponed today because of weather conditions, leaving the Resolute with five victories to her credit and the Vanitie with three.

Deceased yesterday, the racing craft today rode at their anchorages drenched by a heavy rain coming out of the northeast. No attempt was made to take them outside.

Expectations are that, because of the double postponement, races will be held every day next week.

FRUIT DEALERS WARNED

A number of local retail fruit dealers were called before the health board at its meeting earlier this week and warned against displaying cherries and other fruits for sale without proper protection. The law stipulates the use of glass and prosecutions will follow unless strict compliance is noted. Agent O'Hare said today that flies carry fever germs and people who eat fruit not properly protected are in danger of contracting contagious diseases. He asks the co-operation of the general public in this matter and will welcome any information regarding any violator of the law.

of Jack London's famous story of the same name, with Mitchell Lewis and an all-star cast engaged, is the stellar attraction at The Strand today and for the remainder of the week. The central figure is a miner known to his associates as "Burning Daylight." He is the only living thing in the Alaskan mining town of Garaguk, according to the girls in the dance hall. He makes his appearance at one of the saloons and displays rare pickings of gold which discloses the fact that he has "struck it rich." This fact becomes known to an agent of a big mining syndicate of New York and he later sells his claim for a sizable amount. He then visits New York and falls victim of the schemers who bought out his Alaskan property and loses all he has made. Determined not to be beaten, he breaks into a conference which is being held by the swindlers and gets his money at the point of a gun. He then takes his sweetheart, her father and crippled brother back to Alaska where a bright and happy future faces the quartet. The story is a vigorous, enjoyable picture, and Lewis and his associates handle it most commendably. George Walsh, the "live wire" of the screen in "The Dead Line" is the star special feature that should appeal to all lovers of superior grade offerings of the screen. The story gets a brisk start and is carried along at a rapid pace by the star and his associates. It's a real Walsh production and has action and romance as well as some good humor that combines in making it enjoyable. Larry Semon, in "The Headwaiter," is the third special in this big triple bill. You can't afford to miss seeing them all.

OWL THEATRE

Splendid audiences are still flocking to the Owl theatre to see that great Vitaphone special production, "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," from the story by James Oliver Curwood. David Smith directed it and First National gobbled it up. It will finish the week at the popular Owl theatre prices. The remainder of the bill will change today, however. Chief among the additions are Larry Semon, that funny "feller," in his latest comedy, "The Headwaiter." There will also be an episode of "The Lost City," a Judge Brown story, a Comedy feature and a news reel. JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

It is a strange anomaly that the first woman to defend a case in the federal district court in Boston should have appeared in behalf of a client charged with violating the liquor law.

The Middlebury, Vt., youth who broke into a clothing store twice to prove that the local police were "no good," was probably satisfied that his opinion was not correct when the judge said "two and one-half years in state prison."

The poll of the Literary Digest shed no light on the probabilities. If it was intended to help any republican candidate, it failed signally. Neither has it helped the Digest very much although there are today perhaps a few more thousand people who know there is such a publication.

The Boston newspaper that has been trying to prove that the naming of Daniel J. Gallagher for the office of United States district attorney is part of a bargain to deliver the Massachusetts delegation to the democratic national convention to Palmer, probably does not realize what a difficult task it would be to fasten a collar around the necks of some of the delegates and deliver them to anybody.

THE VOLSTEAD ACT

It would be well if the citizens of this country in general, made up their minds once for all, that the Volstead act is law, and that it is going to be enforced. That act forbids the sale of any beverage containing more than half of one per cent alcohol, and any violation of its provisions is punishable by heavy fine or imprisonment.

The prohibition amendment is here to stay; but the Volstead act is subject to amendment by congress. Those who think its provisions are too extreme, can agitate for its amendment so as to provide a more liberal standard of what is intoxicating; but while the law is in force, it should be enforced and obeyed.

This law also forbids the manufacture, even by home made means, of any intoxicating beverage, and the police and enforcement officials are daily finding violations of this provision. The parties who resort to this method of producing illicit beverages, are in risky business. The penalties for such offences are severe.

In the long run, the people who bet out to produce moonshine whiskey, will have cause to regret their action. Already several Lowell parties have been found in this business and will have to meet the penalties of the law. It appears that the sale of Jamaica ginger except for beverage purposes is permissible; but there are more cases of drunkenness from "Jakey" than any other form of intoxicant.

The load of "Jakey" recently seized here by the police unmistakably indicates that there is a big sale for it in this city and it is used almost entirely as a substitute for liquor in producing a state of intoxication. Both "Jakey" and "Moonshine" will have to be equally tabooed in order to stop their use in the production of jags.

BUNKER HILL DAY

This is Bunker Hill day, a day that marks the anniversary of an event of outstanding importance in the history of the upward march of liberty and democracy not only in this country but throughout the world. In a way the happening that it commemorates, may be compared on a smaller scale with the fall of the Bastille, the anniversary of which will be celebrated in France on July 14.

Both of these events served notice on autocratic rulers that at last the time had come when the common people would stand together and fight for the cause of justice and right against the organized forces arrayed against them.

The American army that charged against the British red coats at Bunker Hill was an army in name. It was made up of farmers, who, dropping their plow handles, took their old fashioned flintlocks in hand, and straggled into the patriot headquarters to fight for liberty and justice. How bravely they fought, almost without organization, with scant ammunition, with no experience in the ways of warfare, against the trained troops of England, is a matter of history.

When the sun went down on the 17th of June, 1775, the American soldiers were in retreat because their supply of ammunition had been exhausted; but before they retired they had inflicted severe losses upon the enemy which was greatly superior in numbers. They had lost their brave General Warren with about 450 men in killed, wounded and captured; but the British losses were fully twice as great. In one sense, the battle of Bunker Hill was a military defeat for the Americans; but in reality, considering the circumstances under which it was fought, it was a great moral victory which inspired the colonists with renewed courage.

From that hour the fight went bravely on against tremendous odds, overcoming obstacles that seemed almost insurmountable until the final victory was won, the victory that has given America the priceless heritage of liberty which is the birth-right of every citizen of this republic.

LABOR'S ENSLAVEMENT

There are evidences that the radical wing of the American Federation of Labor was in control at the Montreal convention when it was voted to insert a plank in the platform adopted, condemning attempts to enact laws that would forbid strikes of government and public service employees.

The ground on which this condemnation rests is a fear that such laws would result in the virtual enslavement of laboring men. Conservative labor leaders are not likely to subscribe to this view.

There can of course be no such thing as slavery where the right of free contract exists. No person is to be compelled to enter the employ of the government or public service corporations under any of the laws that have been proposed or considered. A man is still to have the right to work where he pleases. Nor is it proposed to take away the right of any man to leave any position in which he is employed, if he is dissatisfied with the pay or treatment accorded him.

What is sought to be accomplished by the proposed laws is to forbid men to combine or conspire together to bring about the realization of their ends, at the expense of loss and suffering to the rest of the population.

There is nothing novel about this proposal. Civilized society is founded on the principle that the individual is subordinate to the whole, and that individuals must give up what may be called "natural rights" to promote the general good. Whatever promotes the general good, in the long run, is most beneficial to the individual.

Intelligent labor leaders realize that the desire of the workers on the railroads of the country for more pay or shorter hours of labor, is not sufficient cause for permitting them to take the whole country by the throat and, by stopping travel and transportation, subject the rest of the people to irreparable loss and possible famine.

Labor has had the sympathy of the public in its long fight for improved conditions. It will continue to have it if it is not dictated by sanity and justice, but not if it sets out to enforce conditions that must prove detrimental to the public at large.

RAILROAD PROBLEMS

Lowell is caught in the twirl of the railroad congestion and industries may have to shut down as a result of the inability of the railroads to handle their business. Had the traffic bureau of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce been in operation, it might have been able to avert the present state of thought paralysis affecting Lowell.

At present the railroads throughout the country are calling for aid from the government in the line of increased freight rates and other financial assistance to enable them to increase their equipment, especially against the British red coats at Bunker Hill was an army in name. It was made up of farmers, who, dropping their plow handles, took their old fashioned flintlocks in hand, and straggled into the patriot headquarters to fight for liberty and justice. How bravely they fought, almost without organization, with scant ammunition, with no experience in the ways of warfare, against the trained troops of England, is a matter of history.

When the sun went down on the

the use of the railroads in purchasing new rolling stock. This money will be advanced by the government out of the $300,000,000 fund provided in the transportation act and used mainly for the purchase of freight cars and locomotives with preference given to freight and switching locomotives.

The railroads have submitted statistics showing that an increase in rates of 30.43 per cent in eastern territory, 30.95 in the south, 24.1 in the west and 32.82 in the south-west will be necessary to provide a return of 6 per cent upon the aggregate value of their property, in addition to reasonable expenditures for maintenance, of way structures and equipment.

The justice of these demands is very generally conceded by chambers of commerce and other bodies of business men. Not until the railroads are in much better condition than at present, however, will they be able to handle the transportation problems now so complicated and so demoralized throughout the country. Much of the short-haul business is taken up by motor truck lines, but nevertheless, the railroads are still overwhelmed with freight congestion so that they can hardly hope to get out of their difficulties without liberal government assistance.

CHANNING COX

In pursuance of the republican method of gubernatorial succession, Lt. Governor Channing Cox, promptly picks himself out as the candidate for governor next fall. Thus, the office is cinched so to speak by a political custom that enables small men to secure election who could never hope to win in any other way. This is a matter that concerns all citizens of the commonwealth, whether democratic or republican. There should be no such bar raised against the free choice of a candidate for governor in any party. The fact that a weak man serves one, two or even three terms as lieutenant governor should not give him a claim upon the higher office to the exclusion of other worthy, competent and popular aspirants.

In recent years the governorship in this state has been pre-empted by the lieutenant governor to such an extent that it would be considered a breach of an established and time honored custom for anybody else to run for the office.

That custom should be smashed because it is wrong and injurious to the state owing to the fact that it enables inferior men to secure election to this high office. If this rule is observed in Massachusetts, why not in other states and why not in the case of vice president of the United States?

The reason is, that it has no legal standing anywhere, and yet it is observed almost religiously by republicans of this state. It may be said that it is not a matter that concerns democrats; but it certainly concerns citizens of all classes, if by any political scheme or unauthorized custom, good men are barred from seeking election as governor except they follow the custom of the fraternities and pass through the chairs leading to the highest office.

Channing Cox will be the republican candidate for governor next fall by right of "political succession," a practice that should be abolished for the public good. It should have no recognition anywhere and no aspirant for the office of governor should be deterred from seeking election just because a little coterie of individuals has conspired to keep the office to themselves. It is worthy of note in this connection that already two candidates have announced their intention to run for the office of lieutenant governor but the political custom referred to prevents capable men from seeking the highest office.

Channing Cox in virtue of this custom claims that the nomination belongs to him, and that he and he alone has a right to stand for the office in the contest against the democratic candidate. It is to be hoped that some good republican will come forward and put an end to the vicious custom under which the nomination for governor is to be handed over to the lieutenant governor, provided only that he be a republican. In other respects he may be immeasurably inferior to other men who would be candidates but for this prescription.

BRITISH-AMERICAN SOCIAL CLUB
Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the British-American Social club, which was held last evening and it was announced that everything is in readiness for the annual outing, which will be held next Saturday. Members who wish to participate are requested to be at the Free Church in Middlesex street at 12:30 and 6:30.

SEEN AND HEARD

In a political fight the balance of power is a bank balance.

Overallis would have become fashionable if the hint had come from Paris.

Oddly enough, the supreme court didn't exempt justices from the provisions of the dry law.

There is a suspicion that delegates are at times more interested in high bladders than in high principles.

And so Wilhelm designs his own clothes. For that matter, he designed the close of the Hohenzollern regime.

If a Mexican president dies before the revolutionists get him, you can say that he came to an untimely end.

Spiritual Spanking

"Willie" exclaimed the young widow to her recalcitrant offspring, "If you don't behave yourself and come in the house right away I'll get out the ouija board and have your poor, dear papa give you a good scolding."

Lost Treasure

Out in the wilds of No Man's Land the lieutenant on patrol encountered a dusky private, anxiously searching the ground on hands and knees.

"Here, you," he demanded gruffly, "What the devil are you doing out here?"

"Suh," replied the darky with tears in his eyes, "Ah's lookin' for mah buddy's hand what got shot off heah."

"Oh, I'm sorry," exclaimed the officer, touched at such a friendship. "But that's no use, you know. His hand will never do him any good now."

"No, suh, 'tain't dat, but when it got shot off it done had mah bes' pair ob dice in it."—The American Legion Weekly.

Insult to Royalty

The ideas of the world change; what is unwelcome today, becomes welcome tomorrow. There is an interesting bit of evidence of that in an amusing incident, long forgotten and now brought to light. When postage stamps first came into use in England, some persons declared that the effigy of majesty was too sacred to serve as a label for letters.

"Have you seen this stamps yet?" wrote one ardent loyalist in 1840. "This is the greatest insult the present ministry could have offered the queen."

King Ferdinand of Sicily took the matter so seriously that he had a special postmark made in the shape of a frame, so that the officials could cancel the stamps without striking his portrait.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Ownership Decides

The suburban night was being made hideous by the howling of a dog whose soul was lonely, and the strolling police officer paused to speak to the citizen who, standing at his gate, was evidently listening to the canine wails.

"Awful racket!" the officer observed.

"Please," the citizen agreed.

"Want to make a complaint?" the officer suggested zealously.

"Why—er—not until I am sure," the citizen responded.

"Sure, of what?"

"Why, whether that is my dog or Brown's. If it is my dog—oh well, we have to put up with a few little annoyances in this life, you know; but if it is Brown's, why, by George I don't propose to have my life made miserable by a nuisance like that!"—New York Evening Post.

By O. B. Joyful

The Society for the Prevention of Capital Punishment is working up a campaign to halt the execution of a Canadian woman, sentenced to die for a very frightful murder. In one of its anti-hanging arguments the society makes mention of one Richard Brandon and expresses the hope that there'll be no Richard Brandon for this Canadian murderers.

Richard Brandon died 271 years ago, but his memory is stirred up every time the hangman of today is called into action. Brandon was the executioner of the city of London, and his magnus opus was the decapitating of Charles I. He never lived this down, although it was merely a matter of routine with him, and was hated by the people until his death. In fact, an angry mob followed his coffin to the cemetery. Brandon was a great stickler for the proper order, giving precedence to the higher ranks whenever a bunch of nobility was sent to him for translation to the hereafter.

Optimism

We have our troubles all of us—The cost of living's high, And few of us can save a cent. No matter how we try, We must economize some more. Although we don't know how—But some of us will mind a bit. A hundred years from now!

The landlord may increase the rent, It troubles us today; The butcher charges for a steak Much more than we can pay. The milkman makes us pay for milk Enough to buy a cow or two. But all that will not trouble us. A hundred years from now!

Our troubles are fleeting fast; Our day of peace will come. With freedom from the ills that now We find so troublesome. So come to terms and peace and smooth The wrinkles from your brow. Our troubles will be at an end. A hundred years from now!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Our former townsmen, Rev. Park A. Bradford, who was an ardent free silver advocate in 1896, is now writing for provincial papers in New York state. In an article in the Salamanca Inquirer, he advocates the nationalization of about everything that is of public utility. Mr. Bradford was always inclined to the plausible theories of socialism, though strongly opposed to the inevitable results of their application.

There has certainly been a great transformation at the municipal swimming pool off the Pawtucket boulevard since last summer and I venture to say that more than one visitor this summer will blink his eyes as he looks about him at the strictly modern bath house, the sandy bathing beach and numerous life guards ready at any time to assist bathers. Last summer there was no "beach"—simply a shaded grove, but during the fall months the park department removed all the trees in front of the bath house, carted many loads of sand to the spot and today the area is just as "beachy" as any of the Massachusetts coast waterfronts. Inside, the bath house resembles very closely those at Revere and Nahant with its rows of lockers, shower bath and other accommodations. In the evening the interior is electrically lighted while outside the beach is illuminated by large arc lights. Lowell people should find great enjoyment at the pool during the next few months.

No less than four bridal couples left the Lowell railroad station last night on express trains north or south bound shortly after 9 o'clock. The scene was one well worth witnessing. Gathered in the vicinity of the station was a great crowd of happy, shouting, laughing young people. Many of them had noise-making implements of one sort or another. Some jangled cowbells, others blew horns and yet others drummed upon tin plate plates. It was not until a big limousine drew up in front of the station with a bridal party therein that the noise festival really broke loose. Then the tumult and the shouting began in earnest. The poor little bride peered anxiously out of the side of the limousine at the crowd in front of her. Then she sank timidly back into her seat and held a brief consultation with her husband. She evidently wanted him to lead the way out of the auto. Did he? No; he wasn't playing that particular part in the performance. So the young woman bravely stepped forth into the tumult, followed by her courageous consort. She was in an instant caught up into what was a combination of snowstorm. Fourth of July celebration and football scrimmage. A torrent of confetti was poured over Mrs. Newlywed. If she tried to keep it out of her face by bending her head, it was poured down the back of her neck. If she threw her head back she was blinded. All the time there was the blare of horns, ringing of bells and thumping on the tin plate plates. Sticks of red fire were lighted. Then another auto drove up and the same performance was gone through with by another party of young people. Then another and another bridal couple appeared and were given the same kind of greeting. After it was all over and the four happy couples had started rolling on their journey, the platform of the station had the appearance of having been buried under a fall of snow.

Can Be Relieved By President, Says Rogers

The present coal situation, which is threatening to interfere seriously with transportation and industrial activities, can be relieved by the president under the Lever act and the transportation act of 1920, in the opinion of Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city.

In a telegram forwarded today to John B. Curtin, secretary of the local street railway home rule committee, in response to the committee's letter apprising him of the serious situation confronting the street railway company, the congressman states that he has urged the president, the attorney-general, the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission to take steps to relieve the emergency. The telegram in full is as follows:

Mr. John B. Curtin, 36 Central street, Lowell, Mass.
Your letter of the 10th received. I fully appreciate the importance and seriousness of the present situation. I believe that under the Lever act of 1917 and under section 102 of the transportation act of 1920 the executive has ample power to deal with the crisis by increasing the number of exportations or otherwise. I have urged the president of the United States, the attorney-general, the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission to take prompt steps to relieve the emergency. Will keep you advised of developments.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

NEW ENGLAND FOOD COUNCIL ORGANIZED

BOSTON, June 17.—Persons interested in food production and distribution in the six New England states organized here yesterday the New England Dairy and Food council. The council, according to its charter, will seek to "encourage and promote a sound dairy industry" and to "secure an adequate and satisfactory supply of milk and dairy products and of other food products for New England."

The movement, its organizers said, will be supported by agricultural colleges, farm bureaus, granges and food producers.

Clara C. Stacey of Springfield, editor of the New England Homestead, was elected president; Frank S. Adams of Broomfield, Me., vice president; Frederick L. Snyder of Boston, treasurer; Prof. W. F. B. Lockwood of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, secretary.

RULING ON PENSIONS
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Federal employees who have reached the age of retirement, 70 years—although they have not given the minimum of 15 years' service required under the retirement law, must be dropped from the rolls and cannot draw retirement pensions, Attorney General Palmer ruled today in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Payne.

70,000 French Troops in Orient

PARIS, June 17.—Reduction of military service to less than two years is impossible at present, said M. Lefevre, minister of war, while explaining the main points of the projected reorganization of the army to the military committee of the chamber of deputies yesterday. Use of French troops in the Orient was discussed by the minister who declared that forces now in the Near East numbered 70,000 men, most of the organizations there being colonial regiments.

Drop Charges Against Union Officials

CHICAGO, June 17.—The cases against Samuel Levin, general manager of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and six other officers of the union, charged with conspiracy to incite riots, have been dropped. The prosecuting attorney told the court that a majority of the local clothing manufacturers wished the cases dropped as they had reached an understanding with the union.

6000 Vehicles for National Guard

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Orders were issued today by the war department setting aside more than 6000 motor vehicles for the national guard. Distribution of the equipment will be supervised by the Motor Transport Corps on approval of the militia bureau. It includes 324 automobiles, 3652 trucks of various sizes, 48 "tank" trucks, 1952 motorcycles, 1280 bicycles and 1060 trailers.

Wager Thousands of Dollars on Race

ITHACA, N. Y., June 17.—Wages estimated to total several thousand dollars are reported to have been placed by followers of the Cornell and Syracuse crews entered in the "varsity" race to be held on Cayuga lake Saturday. Because the Cornell "heavy" varsity crew is an untied combination, a sort of "dark horse" Syracuse backers are asking even money in bets on the Orange chances of victory.

New York Needs 160,000 Apartments

NEW YORK, June 17.—At least 160,000 additional apartments, involving an investment of $560,000,000, must be erected here to overcome the present housing shortage, according to a report made public today by Edward P. Doyle, secretary of Mayor Hylan's housing conference committee. Banks, insurance companies and other financial houses will be urged to loan money to the limit for building projects designed to bring housing relief.

Sharp Criticism of League Decision

LONDON, June 17.—Sharp criticism of the decision reached by the council of the League of Nations to postpone action of the plea of Persia for defense against the Bolsheviks is expressed in some quarters here, and one section of the press openly attacks the council for its action.

Renewal of Spanish Loan to France

PARIS, June 17.—Renewal of the Spanish loan to France of 35,000,000 pesetas has been arranged by a Spanish bankers' consortium, according to Madrid despatches quoting gossip in financial circles there. It is said this step was taken with the authorization of the Spanish government.

1,362,872 French Soldiers Were Killed

PARIS, June 17.—Final official statistics of the ministry of war fixes the total number of French soldiers killed during the great war at 1,362,872. Of this number the details of the fate of 361,854 are unknown, according to the Matin.

Prices Continue to Drop in Paris

PARIS, June 17.—Prices of various commodities in every day use continue to decline in this city and newspapers state that coffee costs less in Paris than in Brazil. Cotton, which for several days was firm, has again undergone an important decline in Havre.

FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

Approval by A. F. of L.—Profiteering Scored—Non-Partisan Program Wins

MONTREAL, June 17.—Organized labor in the convention of the American Federation of Labor here yesterday called upon congress to curb profiteering, endorsed President Samuel Gompers' nonpartisan political program, approved the Irish republic and requested withdrawal of armed forces from Ireland.

The Federation declared war on the Kansas court of industrial relations and anti-strike legislation now before the legislatures in Colorado and Nebraska.

The recent railroad strike was condemned by the federation as a "secessionist movement" to discredit the recognized organization in the railway service. Any union giving moral or financial aid to such walkouts was threatened with revocation of charter. Congress also was urged by a vote of the convention to enact legislation for the absolute exclusion of Japanese and other Asiatic emigrants and "picture brides."

A declaration was adopted to the effect that the federation "had never countenanced discrimination because of race, creed or color."

The federation instructed the executive council to call a conference of all the "interested international unions" and immediately start a new organizing campaign in the steel industry. The work of the National Steel Workers' organizing committee in organizing 500,000 steel workers was approved.

The question whether the American Federation of Labor should endorse "government ownership" or "government control" of the railroads, provided spirited debate at the close of the day's session. Final action will be taken today.

The administrative forces of the federation, backing the resolutions committee for the approval of "government control" opposed the railroad employees' organizations and their supporters in urging endorsement of "government ownership with democratic operation of the railroads."

John Frey, chairman of the resolutions committee, led the opposition to government ownership.

Frey said there is "growing in this country the idea, advocated by those who claim to be our friends—by near statesmen, publicists and others—that the welfare of the state is superior to the rights of individuals." They believed that in Germany," he added.

S. E. Hebbaring of the Switchmen's union, pleaded for government ownership and democratic control and operation. He declared Mr. Frey had tried to create prejudice against 2,000,000 railroad men by saying that "their ideas had come from Germany."

When the hour for adjournment arrived the indications were that the

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 17.—A total of 293 degrees, the greatest in its history, was awarded at the 132nd annual commencement at Brown university yesterday. First degrees were given to 210 students of whom 193 were men and 17 women. Of the senior class more than 60 were formerly members of previous classes who had returned from war service to complete their academic work. The 53 advanced degrees granted included 39 masters of art, 11 masters of science and three doctors of philosophy. In addition 10 honorary degrees were bestowed by President W. H. P. Fausch. It was announced that more than $2,500,000 of the university's endowment and development fund had been obtained and in addition to this increase in unrestricted funds $250,000 has been donated for a new chemical laboratory. The honorary degrees conferred were as follows:

Doctor of Laws: Prof. Harold D. Hazen, Brown '94, Cambridge, England; Prof. Vernon L. Kellogg, Stanford university, Palo Alto, Cal.; Judge William G. Van Horn, Brown '71, of Cairo, Egypt, and Frank A. Vanderlip, of New York.
Doctor of Science: Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, New York.
Doctor of Divinity: Rev. Charles N. Arbutnot, minister Baptist church, Newton Centre, Mass.; Rev. Frank W. Crowder, rector, St. James Episcopal church, New York city; Rev. Harry E. Fosdick, professor in Union Theological seminary, New York.

FAMOUS PERFORMER WANTS NO SALARY

"Toque" equine extraordinary French poodle by grace of ancestry and circus performer by profession, has earned more money in his day than 75 per cent. of mankind. Yet, as is the fashion with dogs, Toque would rather have a well-cooked bit of meat than all the money in America. So his master, Alf Loyal, supplies him with plenty to eat, a stateroom in which to sleep, handsome collars and takes the money. Toque and his master, together with the finest trained equines that have ever toured, are to be seen here with the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows Friday, June 25.

Toque has a reputation that extends all over Europe and he has made a fortune for his owner. Toque is a wonderful equestrian. He turns single and double somersaults on a horse's back, stands on his head in the saddle, and while sitting upright on the horse's back catches on his nose rings and clown caps tossed to him by Loyal. While the trainer stands in the saddle he perches himself, head down, on the man's head.

"Toque" is also a wonderful acrobat. He runs down an incline to a springboard and leaps lengthwise over the heads of a row of ten men, turning two somersaults on the way.

In special entertainment for the children this season's circus is remarkably strong. A troupe of baby elephant performers appeals particularly to the young folks. They are the best kind of fun-makers and quite as clever as the three herds of full-grown elephants which perform in one big number. One of these youngsters walks on a rolling ball, guiding it all around the ring. Another sits in the seat of a wagon and drives like a man, a companion in full harness playing the part of horse. They play on Swiss bells, they play at "Drop the Handkerchief" just like a party of children, they skip the rope, stand on their heads, play leap frog, tennis and baseball.

In addition to these dumb actors there are whole troupes and groups of funny old bears, seals and scallions, fox terriers, collie dogs, geese, pigs and Shetland ponies.

The mammoth main-tent program opens with a brilliant and stupendous introductory pageant. The animal acts, antics of scores of clowns and fully a thousand acrobatic novelties and sensations follow. They constitute the pick and cream of the two famous American circuses supplemented by many new importations.

Don't Treat Kidneys Rough, Warns Dr. Carey, Specialist

Now that Dr. Carey, kidney and bladder specialist, has retired from active practice, he generously warns people that even the smallest symptoms of kidney trouble should have serious attention. Backache, for instance, puffiness under or specks coating before the eyes, heavy feet and dry skin, are also danger signals.

"Thousands die yearly because they neglect their kidneys," says Dr. Carey. "And I feel upon retiring that I should tell all who even suspect kidney or bladder trouble about my prescription, Marshroot, which, during my active practice, has cured thousands of all kinds of kidney ailments."

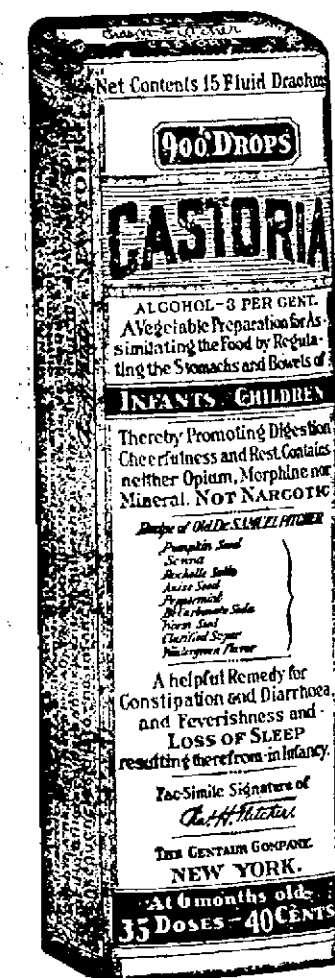

This prescription has been given to pharmacists generally throughout America and is dispensed by them under the name Dr. Carey's Marshroot, a name that every sufferer from kidney trouble should remember.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

AMHERST COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

AMHERST, June 17.—Amherst college, at its commencement day exercises yesterday, conferred honorary degrees on Sir Louis H. Davies, K.C.M.G., chief justice of the supreme court of Canada, on six of her former graduates who have gained distinction since they left college, and on State Senator George D. Chamberlain, an authority on education and a leader in the boys' club movement.

Sir Louis headed the list of four who received the honorary degree of doctor of laws, the others being Herbert L. Brinkman, editor of the Brooklyn Standard Union, a graduate in the class of 1888; Alexander D. Noyes, financial editor of the New York Evening Post, a graduate in the class of 1882; and Frank E. Spaulding, head of the new school of education at Yale university, a graduate in the class of 1882.

The degree of L.H.D. was conferred upon James H. Lowe, Amherst '20, president of the department of political science of the Brooklyn Institute; the degree of Litt.D. was given to Ernest H. Wilkins, Amherst '00, head of the department of Italian, University of Chicago, and the degree of A. M. to Mr. Chamberlain and to Albert Atwood, Amherst '03, a writer, editor and lecturer on financial subjects.

CALL ISSUED TO CLAIM BAGGAGE

Through the local army recruiting station a call is issued to service and ex-service men to claim their baggage before the government salvagers the many pieces now held at Governors Island. A similar warning has been sent out by the Knights of Columbus which has already located 75,000 pieces and shipped them to men who had given them up for lost. At Governors Island at the present time there are 148,000 barracks bags, 6000 trunks and boxes and thousands of miscellaneous pieces unclaimed. The K. of C. has taken an inventory and is ready to ship baggage to claimants who apply to headquarters 105 West 40th street, New York city. Relatives of deceased men may claim their effects. Baggage may include war souvenirs, clothing or anything belonging to the men which may be identified.

408 DEGREES AWARDED AT BOSTON UNIVERSITY

BOSTON, June 17.—President Lomuel H. Martin conferred 408 degrees in the various departments of Boston university at commencement yesterday. In line with the university's policy of half a century, no honorary degrees were awarded.

In an oration on "Liberty and Law" Justice Wendell Phillips Stafford of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, considered the danger to a democracy of control by a minority better organized than the majority. The public at present, he said, is very much like the clumsy thousand-legged bug while the union or trust is very much like the agile flea. One is organized, the other is not. He urged that the situation demands strong, fearless and clear-headed men who will be called when the crisis becomes acute enough.

No New Attacks by Insurgent Albanians—Snipers Active—Italians Re-enforced

ROME, June 15.—Conditions at Avlona, Albania, are fairly satisfactory according to reports from Brindisi. Insurgent Albanians who have received severe punishment in recent skirmishes have not launched any more attacks against Italian forces at Avlona, but their snipers have been firing continuously on Italian scout patrols. The activities of these Albanians, however, have been virtually stopped by newly arrived airplanes while Italian reinforcements have made reconnaissances outside the city possible.

New insurgent detachments continue to arrive from the interior to join the Albanians around Avlona, and two Italian carabinieri who ventured beyond the lines were stabbed to death. An Italian airplane has flown over the Albanian lines dropping newspapers carrying articles denying insurgent reports that Italy was responsible for the assassination of Essad Pasha in Paris on Sunday.

BIG BONFIRE USHERS IN BUNKER HILL DAY

BOSTON, June 17.—The celebration in commemoration of the 145th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill opened last evening with five banquets by some of the most prominent organizations of the Bunker Hill district. At each eloquent addresses were delivered.

One of the noteworthy features of the night before Bunker Hill day was a bonfire constructed hastily to replace the large pile of railroad ties, oil-soaked woods and tar barrels which was burned early yesterday morning in a mysterious manner.

More than 20,000 people gathered at the Sullivan square playground before 10 p. m. to see the big bonfire. Mayor Andrew J. Peters applied the torch to the pile. He was accompanied by Director of the Celebration Daniel J. McDonald, the mayor's secretary, Edward J. Park, and Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy. The illumination was visible for miles.

The annual custom of placing flowers at the base of the small monument within the base of the Bunker Hill monument, which is a replica of the original monument built by the King Solomon lodge of Masons, was carried out this afternoon. Worshipful Master Arthur W. Vaughan of the lodge carried the wreath to the monument and placed it at its base at 3.30 p. m.

Child Almost Dead Grandmother Saves Life

Roxbury, Mass. A grandmother in Roxbury writes: "I put great faith in your medicine, and one of my children was dying. The doctor said she could not live until morning, and I ran out to the drug store, got a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir, was so excited I gave her the half of the bottle at once, and at night she gave her the other half. I thought it's either kill or cure for the doctor says she is dying anyway, but she did not die. She went to sleep, the first sleep for a week, and the next morning she passed two worms, red in color, six inches long. The doctor came to see if she was dead, but he ran out pretty quick, as she was sitting in her chair eating a bowl of oatmeal and milk. That was twenty-four years ago, and now she has a baby girl of her own, seven months old, who is also using Dr. True's Elixir. (Name on request.)

Constipation, headaches, tired feeling, weakness, spots before the eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness, and many other signs of sickness, can be relieved, if you take the prescription known as Dr. True's Elixir. The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It has done much for sick people, men, women and children, ever since 1851—over 65 years' reputation. ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS by Olive Roberts Barton. POOR MR. TINGALING

Nancy and Nick started to follow Tingaling upstairs, when he went to look for Chirk Chipmunk, to see what on earth he meant by slamming so many bureau drawers. But the Little Green Shoes stopped them right at the splintering sound, and Tingaling suddenly disappeared altogether! It was plain what had happened; the step was too old and wobbly to hold him, and had gone clear through to the cellar, taking the fairymen landlord with it. "Oh, oh, oh!" screamed the twins.

SO UP THE FAIRY LANDLORD WENT, ALONE.

bottom and wouldn't take another step. So up the fairy landlord went alone. He was worried, because it was rent day, you know, and he was afraid Chirk couldn't find enough money to pay him.

Every step he took, the stairs creaked and groaned miserably, but Tingaling pretended not to notice this, any more than he had the sagging doors and the bad wall-paper.

Up he went, up and up and up in the direction of the drawer-slammings, but every new step tilted him so, that finally he had to grab the banister to keep himself from falling.

He was almost to the top, about next to the last step, I think, when there was a crash, and a smash and a loud rushing around, and not knowing what to do. "Won't somebody help?"

"Wait a minute," advised the Magical Mushroom, and sure enough, the slamming above stopped and Chirk stuck his head over the rail. "What's wrong?" he asked. "Did something drop?"

"Yes, yes," cried Nick. "Mr. Tingaling has fallen through the stairs. Do help us to get him."

"All right," answered Chirk cheerfully sliding down the banisters. "It's probably in the cellar. I haven't been able to use these stairs for a year come Christmas."

So lighting a lantern the chipmunk and the children went down cellar to find poor Tingaling.

GOV. COOLIDGE SPEAKS AT HOLY CROSS

WORCESTER, June 17.—Gov. Coolidge, addressing the graduation class of Holy Cross college yesterday, asserted that there was no class distinction in America.

"Our constitution forbids nobility," he continued, "because that great document recognizes the truer and finer and higher nobility of American citizenship."

The vice presidential nominee, attired in academic cap and gown, presented diplomas to the graduating class of 120 men, the largest in the history of the college. This has been the annual custom of the governor of the state.

The governor's remarks were made at the end of orations delivered by class speakers, who chose Bolshevism as their theme. He urged the graduates to continue their education, saying:

"Education leads to bring the reason and experience of the past into a solution of the problems of the future. Avoid class distinction and look to service and unselfishness; for service is the foundation of progress."

"In the study of economics we must consider our relationship, one with another. The greatest lesson we have to learn is to seek ever the public welfare. We cannot divide America with different classes. Selfish interest leads into class distinction and should never be permitted."

"This nation was founded as the result of a revolution, but those who fought claimed always that this was not an attempt to tear down but to build up, not an attempt to destroy but to maintain their American heritage."

He warned those who might be thinking of another revolution to consider well whether they were planning to tear down or build up.

"Unless property owners had proper safeguards of constituted authority," Gov. Coolidge continued, "transportation would cease, industry would shrivel up, all property be destroyed and all incentive to effort perish. All our freedom comes from the support of the constituted authority."

"There is coming a time, not far distant, when it will be as much a disgrace for those who are affluent to remain in idleness as it is today for those men who go about the streets in our cities and towns in idleness and begging."

"Freedom and liberty come not from anarchy, but from observance of ways that are right and true and just. We must learn the value of loyalty to one's self and the support of the constitutional authority."

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Gov. Coolidge and P. O'Brien of the class of 1904, corporation counsel of New York city.

HALTS WEDDING AND ORDERS BRIDE TO PUT ON MORE CLOTHES

NEW ORLEANS, June 17.—A wedding ceremony in St. Louis' cathedral was postponed several hours yesterday because the officiating priest, Fr. Antoine, of the Order of Oblate Fathers of Mary Immaculate, declared the bride was immodestly attired and violated a recent order of Archbishop Shaw of the diocese of New Orleans relative to wearing apparel.

The priest declared the bride appeared to him "so shocking that he had the sexton put out the lights so that she might retire and properly clothe herself."

Although he declined to reveal the name of the bride, he declared she "wanted to fly in society style at her wedding, much to her disgrace."

Everything had been prepared for the wedding and the bridegroom was in the edifice. The altars were ablaze with candles and the electric lights in every part of the ancient cathedral were lighted.

The bride started up the main aisle, but had not gone far before the priest viewed the gown, ordered the lights out and sent her home to assume other garments. The marriage ceremony then was performed.

DECLARES BIG PACKERS ARE "PERSECUTED"

CHICAGO, June 17.—Thomas E. Wilson, president of Wilson & Co. packers, and head of the Institute of American Meat Packers, in an address today before the National Livestock Exchange asked all branches of the livestock industry to co-operate in "stamping out radical and un-American elements who have seized upon the proposed meat packing industry legislation and are using it as a means to inaugurate the nationalization of all industry."

Mr. Wilson said that the fight being centered on the "big five" packers was as much an attack upon the producers, commission men and the 400 smaller packing concerns of the country.

"It was largely through the efforts of the American Cattle Association that these investigations were first begun," Mr. Wilson said, "and were primarily for the purpose of finding a remedy for some wrongs which it was feared, existed."

"However, what was started has resulted in the 'persecution' of the packers instead of an impartial investigation of the industry. This movement, begun with a view to improving the economic positions of the feeders and breeders of livestock, has been largely obscured by radical forces who are keeping alive this fight for other purposes."

ILLINOIS PRIMARY LAW INVALID

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—The state supreme court yesterday held the Illinois primary law unconstitutional. The validity of the primary election law, which was passed by the state legislature in 1919, was attacked by attorneys for William Fox, convicted in Chicago of fraudulent voting in the primary election held April 13, 1920. The case was brought to the supreme court on a writ of error.

The decision throws state central committees of the political parties and all county central committees out, and reinstates old committees elected under the old primary law, now revived.

It disqualifies the Mayor Thompson faction in Chicago and returns to power the Dineen-Brundage forces. Elsewhere it upsets plans for special elections.

SALEM MERCHANT COMMITS SUICIDE

SALEM, June 17.—William C. Clapp, a harness and leather dealer, was found dead today at the Wreckers' clubroom, where he had committed suicide by opening gas jets. He was 55 years of age. Clapp had been in ill health and despondent recently.

his disciples once that he wanted them to continue in the good work they had done, that he wanted them to show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end. In all your studies here at this school you found certain laws governing those studies. And there are laws governing human nature as well, but there is one fundamental law underlying it all and that is showing forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good work unto the end. In other words, perseverance.

"If you would preserve those virtues and lessons inculcated while you were here in school, you must practice them each day. Show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end. Perhaps, through good fortune, you will continue your education in a higher institution of learning. If so, I would commend to you the first Catholic women's college established in New England, Emmanuel college in Boston. Here you may be sure of the same training you received at Notre Dame.

"Others of you will find your places in the business world or in the Normal school. Here, too, there is need for carefulness in the accomplishment of good. You will be called upon to meet people whose ideals and philosophy differ from yours. It is here that you must exercise that quality of carefulness mentioned by St. Paul.

"You can be sure of this: That the standards of womanly conduct set for you in this school are the truest standards possible. No man made them; they have come from heaven. Your parents and teachers should ever be your models for they, in their devotion to you and your welfare, have shown their greatness.

"Learn a lesson from them. Appreciate your parents and school. The more you appreciate them, the deeper will their lessons sink into your hearts and minds and the greater will their influence be. And, finally, show forth the same carefulness in the accomplishment of good unto the end."

The solemn high mass was followed by an exhibition of the work of the pupils during the school year that has just come to a close. The exhibition was held in the hall of the academy and was excellent in every detail and an accurate reflection of the excellent and varied training received by the students during the year.

The musical program carried out during the progress of the mass was as follows:

POLICE HAVE NO CLUE TO ROBBERS

As far as could be learned at headquarters no clue to the robber or robbers who stole a large amount of money from the office of Alexander Cruikshank, the ice cream manufacturer, in Arch street, yesterday, has been hit upon by the police inspectors. The prevailing opinion in police circles is, however, that the theft was committed by someone well acquainted in the neighborhood, who knew the custom of Mr. Cruikshank in sending the money to the bank and where he left it in his office, so that he could get away with it as soon as the owner left the premises for a short time.

NO MORE SATURDAY EVENING DANCES

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Girls' Community club, it was decided to discontinue the Saturday evening dances, beginning June 19, throughout the summer.

Club girls who plan to spend week-ends at the camp in Billerica are urged to register as far in advance as possible as the number which can be accommodated over night is limited to 17. This coming week-end is almost filled and the holidays over the Fourth are also fully registered for, although there is still opportunity for a few more day-time visitors on that day.

The local postoffice clerks have not made arrangements for the vacation list as yet.

CHILEAN STEAMER REACHES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Chilean steamship Benavente, formerly the Japanese steamship Nippon Maru, arrived here today from Valparaiso, Chile, with passengers and cargo. It is carrying the passenger and freight service of the South American Steamship Co. between New York and South American west coast ports.

Among the passengers was D. P. Mooney, United States minister to Paraguay.

HENRY ROUSSELL DISCHARGED

Henry Russell, the man arrested with Eudoviste Barrett Tuesday night by federal prohibition officers for alleged violations of the national prohibition law by being implicated in the maintaining of a large six gallon per hour "moonshine" still in Braut, was discharged by United States Commissioner Hayes in the federal court in Boston yesterday. Barrett, said to be the owner of the large still, was held for trial later under bonds of $1000.

WELL CONTESTED GAME

Edson Wins Lowell Grammar League Championship From Butler School

Fighting nly and tuck right down to the dual out with the pendulum of victory swinging first to one and then to the other of the competing sides. The Lowell grammar school team posed out the Butler school for the Lowell Grammar League championship yesterday afternoon. The game was a well-contested battle ever more earnestly waged. Never was the taste of the fruits of victory sweeter, or the defeat more bitter, than when the Lowell team, after a hard-fought battle, emerged victorious. The game was a well-contested battle ever more earnestly waged. Never was the taste of the fruits of victory sweeter, or the defeat more bitter, than when the Lowell team, after a hard-fought battle, emerged victorious.

Standing out above all his fellows was Paul Smith, pitcher for the Edsons. He got away to a bad start when his wildness placed Butler men on the bases in position to score. But he soon calmed down and the game went on. The Lowell team, after a hard-fought battle, emerged victorious. The game was a well-contested battle ever more earnestly waged. NINTH RACE OF CUP YACHTS TODAY

NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—Crews of the Vanitie and Resolute were early to get under way today for the ninth race of the series that will determine which yacht shall represent the United States in the America's Cup contest off Sandy Hook, next month.

Her Commodore George Nichols, skipper of the Vanitie, is training every crew member for the race. He is hoping that on Saturday he may force ahead in case the trials are not called into next week.

Held at Newport today by the first class to interrupt the Newport series, both crews gave their craft inspection, so that nothing should stand in the path of victory when the race committee gave the word to weigh anchor. Both ships were prepared to race over a triangular course.

TREMAINE BEATS PAT MOORE.

HARDING TO CONFER WITH PARTY LEADERS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Senator Harding, the republican candidate for president, soon will inaugurate a series of informal conferences with leaders of the various party groups.

Decision to hold the conferences is understood to have been reached yesterday at a meeting between Senator Harding and Walter P. Brown, former Ohio progressive leader and the nominee's floor manager at the Chicago convention. Invitations to the conferences are expected to go out at once.

Friends of the senator said today he intended to keep in mind the views expressed by party leaders in the conferences when he prepared his speech formally accepting the nomination.

Senator Harding had arranged no important conferences for today but the usual number of callers were expected. Motion picture men, who for the most part, have had to satisfy themselves with chance "shots" at the nominee, had prevailed upon him to set aside a few minutes at his home before going to his office today to allow them to get some "real" pictures.

Senator Harding gave considerable attention yesterday to Ohio political matters, conferring in addition to Mr. Brown, with W. L. Parmenter of Lima, O., former state chairman. The candidate made public a letter to Secretary of State Smith of Ohio, withdrawing his petition for renomination as the republican candidate for senator at the August state primaries.

Gen. Pershing called and remained in conference with Senator Harding about 15 minutes.

"It was merely a social call," said the general as he departed. "The senator is a very good friend of mine."

The deluge of congratulatory telegrams and letters continued today. Among the telegrams received during the day was one from Thomas Taggart, the Indiana democratic leader and candidate for senator.

"I desire to take this opportunity to congratulate you upon your nomination," said Mr. Taggart. "It was certainly a great victory for you. I remember with much pleasure your many kindnesses while in the senate, and I have said repeatedly that if we had to have a republican president, you would be my first choice."

A letter of congratulation from Rear Admiral William S. Sims also was received.

CENSUS RETURNS

Great Progress in Announcing 1920 Statistics

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The 1920 population of 169 of the 229 cities and towns which in 1910 had more than 25,000 people has been announced by the census bureau. Good progress also has been made in the total population of the states.

Of the 60 cities which had more than 100,000 population in 1910, only 12 remain whose 1920 figures have not been announced.

These include Providence and Fall River. Twelve cities, including Springfield, Mass., have advanced into the 100,000 class of those thus far announced.

Of the 55 cities having from 50,000 to 100,000 population in 1910, the 1920 population of all but 12 has been announced. These include New Bedford and Holyoke, Mass.

Twenty-six cities announced have advanced into the 25,000 to 50,000 class, while one, Clinton, N. Y., has shown a decrease and dropped below 25,000.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Establishment of a fund of $100,000 to extend financial aid to western wool growers, awaiting the re-establishment of the wool market was considered at a conference here today of western bankers and sheep ranchers. Chicago bankers were asked to displace the Boston banks in financing the annual wool clip of the country, which plan, if successful, would make Chicago the nation's wool center.

Rosten has been forced to relinquish its hold on this financing because of the present tight money market, speakers said.

APPROVE REDUCED RATES AND REFRIGERATION CHARGES ON FRUITS.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Application of the American Railway Express Co., for permission to file a schedule providing for reduced rates and refrigeration charges on berries, fruits, melons and vegetables in carloads from southwestern points to points in Connecticut, Illinois and Massachusetts was approved today by the interstate commerce commission.
